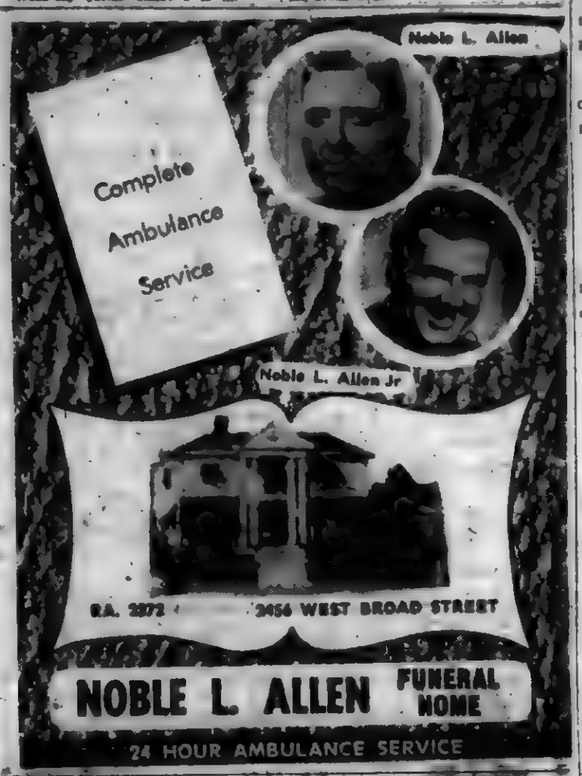
The late Harry S. Holton, 84, of 88 S. Parkview-av, left $16,500 out of his estate of $187,197 in charity grants.



The inventory of his estate was filed Thursday in probate court. Holton's will left $2,000 each to Grant, St. Ann's, Children's, Mt. Carmel and St. Francis Hospitals; Columbus Recreation Department, Broad Street Presbyterian Church and Franklin Township trustees to maintain Heed Park.

In all, Holton left $113,000 of his estate in grants to charity. The remainder of the property went to Mrs. Mary E. Miller, his sister-in-law.

Holton, who died July 13, was a Columbus real estate man and developed the Heed-Holton addition on the Hilltop.

Bible Comment:

Great Proverbs of Old Give Us Guide To the Good Life

GREAT proverbs are the crystallization of experience. Sometimes they are reflections upon life and conduct; terse concentrated bits of wisdom, or philosophy; homely or picturesque expressions of truth, that are as character and the good life as the acorn is to the oak.

Sometimes they are the observations of discerning critics, who have seen the wisdom of the wise, and the folly of the foolish, and have set down human values and the best way of attaining them in rules or guidemarks in the form of popular, memorable maxims.

Sometimes they seem to have been spontaneous thoughts, quickened by some experience or incident, in much the same way as an artist catches and records some passing scene or impression.

A deep philosophy of life is in 4:23 of the Proverbs: "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life." Similar reflection is in the list of things the Lord hates—the six things listed in 6:16-19; and in the well-known 14:34, "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people."

Of the second sort—terse, practical observations—is 16:18, "Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall."

A good example of the spontaneous, but no less deeply wise proverbs is 27:19, "As in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man."

We can imagine the thirsty traveler stooping down to drink in some limpid pool, before mirrors were common, and as he saw each feature given back from the pool having flash into his mind that vivid metaphor to which Sir Francis Bacon devoted an essay of interpretation.

Every people and country have their proverbs, but richest of all are those that come from the ancient Hebrews. No doubt they were compiled from many sources, but it is no coincidence that they came from a race and a time that gave to the world its greatest saints and prophets, and ultimately the Savior of Men, whose parables express and fulfill the wisdom of the Scriptures that He knew so well.

Optimist or realist?

Someone once said that the world has two big kinds of people—the optimists and the realists.

The optimist is the chap who's so busy looking for the end of the rainbow that he splashes in all the puddles along the road. The realist, who avoids the puddles, can't see the rainbow because he's never looking forward more than a few steps at a time.

But we think there's another type of person active today. He's a good person. He's realistic enough to miss the puddles. Yet his vision passes far beyond the rainbow and the bounds of the earth. For he has the vision of immortality.

This man is the church member.

Your neighborhood and community churches are developing this man. They are proving to him that religion offers a practical way of life that can be lived and enjoyed in any lifetime. And they are also presenting the full promise of the Bible that touches life with splendor, meaning and hope.

That is the promise of everlasting life.

Are you trying to become such a man? If so, you'll find that your regular church services offer a guide for purposeful living based on the simple precepts and teachings of an understanding God.

Not only optimist. Not only realist.

Your church will make you both. . .

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.

At The Playgrounds

By Pat Martindale

Another summer is fast fading away and the Hilltop playgrounds are bringing their activities to a close until the summer of 1953. The Hilltop playgrounds have had a very successful season and all have had a bigger registration than any other season. Supervisors of all of the playgrounds wish to thank the many persons who have assisted them this summer and wish to express their gratitude for the cooperation extended.

Glenwood

In glancing over the summer's activities at Glenwood, the Knothole Baseball teams have increased from two to four; the Little League Baseball from one to seven and all other activities have had a similar increase. There has been wonderful participation in both the boys and girls junior Olympics and an even bigger summer is expected next year.

Glenwood is now planning the coming fall program with touchball for boys and soccer for girls as the main items of athletic interest. It is hoped that leagues will be organized for both activities.

The most popular playground activities over the summer were the Thursday night square dances, weekly movies sponsored by the Y, the bicycle races which were won by Billy Quinn and Norman Esterbrook, the city-wide Lantern Parade and last but not least the Glenwood Little League sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. There were six teams conducted by Jack Keaton of the Glenwood staff.

In the Junior Olympics Glenwood won the West and North sectionals and finished in the top ten of the city meet.

Glenwood will be open from 2 p. m. until 10 p. m. beginning Sept. 2 and will be closed all day Monday Sept. 1 for Labor Day.

Highland

This is the last week of playground activity on the Highland School grounds. Highland had a very successful summer with over 200 children registered for the various activities. Highland was represented in every city-wide event this summer and Mrs. Rosa Trigg, Highland supervisor, expresses her thanks to all who assisted with the children for the special events.

Highland children were the "Zooligans" in the city-wide pageant last Thursday night. The four clowns carrying the zoo wagon were Harley Creamer, Jane Scott, Lillian Scott and Judith Creamer. The little clown leading the wagon was Keith Creamer; Doris Creamer was a reindeer; Steve Rutledge was Mickey Mouse; Betty Johnson was a horse; Sharon Fields and Parthenia were elephants; Junior Bennett was a mule; Jo Ana Toones a bear; Jacqueline Toones was a buffalo and Pamelia Statton was a pig.

Inasmuch as Highland Playground is so close to the school building everyone feels very lucky that only one window was broken this year.

Westgate

"A larger registration this summer than ever before at Westgate Park," is the way it was termed by supervisors Mrs. Margaret Edwards and Phil Fulton in summarizing the summer's activities. Special events which attracted large crowds were the talent show, summer dramatic festival, the pageant and weekly movies. There has been a big attendance in the craft classes all summer and much has been accomplished. The baseball league has had five teams and a good showing has been made by the boys.

Mrs. Edwards and Mr. Fulton wish to express their thanks to everyone who helped at the playground this summer and hope that all of this summer's participants and many newcomers will be back next summer for an even bigger and better program.

Westgate playground will remain open in the evenings during the entire month of September. A class in rug weaving will be held for those interested during September. A family picnic is being planned for everyone, the last part of this week to bring to a close the regular summer activities.

Holton

Holton has had an outstanding ball team this summer with the boys winning every game. All special events were participated in with much enthusiasm and there has been a large registration at Holton Park this summer, both in boys and girls activities.

James Storey and Ann Day, supervisors, wish to thank everyone for their cooperation over the summer and are inviting all children to come back to Holton next summer.

Health Commission Urges Parental Attention To Child's Adjustment Before School Opening

The approach of a new school year is a time when parents should look upon their children with a particularly critical eye so that, if adjustments are necessary, they may be made before the child actually begins attending classes, suggests Dr. O. M. Goodloe, city health commisioner.

For the child going to school for the first time, or even rejoining his old school mates, it is a serious problem in readjustment It is important that he be at his best, physically and mentally, because upon that depends his relations with his teachers and with other children, and with the manner and success with which he absorbs and retains what he is taught.

As for dangers from infectious diseases, Dr. Goodloe believes children are safer in school than they are at home.

"Sanitation is at its best in the school house and on the school grounds," he points out. "And children either have been vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diptheria or have received "booster" doses following prior immunization.

"Another thing," he added, "by the very nature of the classroom, requiring the close attention of the teacher to each pupil, recognition of distressing symptoms would be almost immediate. That might not be the case at home, where the child is inclined to be less confined."

Dr. Goodloe also believes children should be observed for other defects, such as maladjustment of the bones or joints, crossed eyes and impairment of the ears and eyes, because many of these can be corrected with minor treatment, possibly before school opens, if they are attended promptly.

"If a child holds a book too close or too far away, it may indicate some eye difficulty," he warns. "If he is inattentive or ignores orders or suggestions, he may not hear properly. If permitted to go unrecognized and uncorrected, that child may lose interest in school and even fail to pass his tests."

Any condition which indicates a child is not physically perfect should be placed in the care of a physician, preferably a pediatrician, he added, and it should be done immediately. The younger the child, the easier his defects are to correct.

Discharges of the ears, eyes or nose, any blemishes of the skin, an unhealthy condition of the hair, lumps below the ears, watery eyes, loss of energy or alertness, paleness and a diminished gleam in the eyes, a tendency to "run-over" shoes, complaints of foot or leg pains, signs of fatigue, loss of appetite, coughing, excessive sneezing, fever or chill all are indications of something wrong.

Children sometimes have allergies, the same as grown ups. They may be allergic to pets, to some material in their clothing or in the upholstering or curtain material at home. It is far better for these to be discovered and eliminated before the child enters school, otherwise his happiness and progress may be hampered.

It is possible that some of these characteristics may not be recognized or deemed significant by the parents. They are around the child almost constantly and may ignore or fail to note what would attract the attention of an outsider almost immediately.

For that reason, when a child starts to school, his teacher may discover symptoms which the family fail to recognize. Also teachers are on the alert for such shortcomings, not only because of their training, but because they know a child coming down with some communicable disease is a far more dangerous hazard to those with whom he associates in the early stage of his illness than he will be a few days later when the dangers of contagion are reduced.

Neglect of a minor ailment is another item against which Dr. Goodloe warns.

"When proper curative steps are not taken immediately, more serious consequences frequently develop," he says. "For instance, a child with adenoids not only will be better and feel better after the correction, but he will have a better expression and his speech will improve. Also, his resistance will be increased so he will be far less apt to contract diseases to which he might be exposed than if the condition were permitted to continue."

Another frequently mistaken idea among paents is the unimportance of "baby teeth." Actually, there is a close link between the health and strength of adult teeth and those which disappear when a child is around six years old. Not only should children's teeth be properly cared for from infancy up, but they should be regularly examined by a competent dentist, Dr. Goodloe believes.

"Many dental defects exist where they cannot be observed or recognized, except by the trained dentist," he says.

There is no excuse for Columbus parents to neglect examination and treatment of their children, Dr. Goodloe points out. Naturally, the services of the family physician are to be preferred because he understands the problems of the family as a whole. But the city maintains eight Well Child Conferences each week and Children's Hospital has one weekly for this specific purpose.

Memorial Fund Established To Curt Roberts

Announcement of the establishment of the Curtis Roberts Memorial Fund was made this week. Numerous friends of Mr. Roberts have made contributions to the fund in the past week, the money being turned over to the Hilltop YMCA building fund. When the Hilltop Y is built in the future some portion of the building will be provided by this fund and a memorial plaque attached thereto, to commemorate the memory of the deceased who was a member of the Hilltop Y Board.

In addition to a contribution made by numerous business men of the community was a fund collected by neighbors near his home.

Anyone desiring to make a contribution to the fund may do so through Clarence Story of Story Dry Cleaners or H. G. Deems at First Federal Savings & Loan Assn. Mrs. Roberts will be advised of all contributions.

Mrs. Roberts this week announced that she will continue to operate her husband's business, Yost Florists at 303 Belvidere-av.

United Appeal Speakers Are Named Here

The Hilltop area is represented on the United Appeals-Red Cross campaign speakers' bureau.

The group is scheduled to meet for training sessions in the Southern Hotel on Sept. 9. Two sessions will be held—one at 3 p. m. and the other at 8 p. m. Prof. W. Hayes Yeager, chairman of the speech department, Ohio State University, will act as leader.

Among those residents who are assisting from the Hilltop area with the United Appeals drive are Nelson L. Newson, 205 S. Highland-av; Mary O'Brien, 289 S. Westgate-av; John O'Meara, 236 Midland-av, and Jerry G. Spears, 2685 W. Broad-st.

In all, some 150 speakers will address approximately 50,000 persons in talks before clubs and civic organizations and employee groups.

It is anticipated that about 600 requests for speakers will be received from groups wishing to hear an explanation of how the United Appeals-Red Cross campaign works.

The drive begins Sept. 30 and extends through Oct. 25. Total goal for all six organizations joined in the fund seeking event is $2,387,520. Community Chest, Red Cross, USO, Cerebral Palsy Association, Heart Association and Cancer Society are joined in the 1953 campaign.

Cooke Opens Campaign Headquarters

Announcement was made this week by Robert Cooke, the Hilltop's candidate for Franklin County Sheriff of the opening of his campaign headquarters at Room 1114, 16 E. Broad-st.

Just returned from a Canadian trip, Cooke says he is in good shape to wage an "all-out campaign for the November election."

He asserts that he is rapidly gaining support from both Democratic and Republican quarters on his promise to give an administration designed to best serve all the people of the county.

"Ballot Battalion" To Be Formed Tonight At West High School

Formation of a "Ballot Battalion" for the purpose of encouraging more people to register and vote in the November election, is set for tonight at 8 o'clock at West High School in Room 101 on the first floor.

Representatives of over 60 local orgamzations and churches have been invited to attend the meeting being called by the public affairs committee of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Upon formation of the group the organization will be known as the Hilltop Ballot Battalion.

McKinley Dumps Are Closed By Court Injunction Orders

Enforcement of an earlier injunction against two private dump operators became a reality last week when they were ordered to comply with terms of the injunction, cease operations and to use the county land-fill disposal site on the Franklin County Home property.

On last Friday the opening of Franklin County's long-planned land-fill refuse program brought about the enforcement order against Edward Henry, 2238 Harper-rd, and August M. Scheiderer, 87 Hoffman-av, operators of the two dumps which have long been a bone of contention and subject of many arguments between the city and county officials.

The court order issued last Thursday instructed the owners to cover all refuse and to eliminate all fires on the properties. The dump operated by Henry was located at 1874 McKinley-av and that by Scheiderer at Fisher-rd and McKinley-av.

When hearings on the injunction suits were heard before Common Pleas Judge Cecil J. Randall, the jurist branded another McKinley-av dump operated by the city of Columbus as the "worst offender of all."

As a result of the charges made by Judge Randall, the county health commissioner, Dr. H. L. Mitchell, has asked Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett to seek an injunction against the city dump.

Concordia To Install New Church Pastor

Concordia Lutheran Church, 45 S. Brinker-av, is making plans for the ordination and installation of its new pastor, the Rev. Hubert Riedel of Milwaukee, Wisc., on Sunday, Sept. 7, at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Riedel's father, Rev. M. Walter Riedel, will perform the rite of ordination and installation. Rev. W. C. Birkner, Director of Missions in the Central District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, will preach the sermon. Rev. E. G. Grugel, who has served as vacanes pastor at Concordia, and Rev. G. F. Stolzenburg, visitor of the Central Ohio Circuit, will serve as liturgists.

A reception will be held in the church basement following the service so that all members of the church and friends may meet Rev. Riedel.

The Riedel family will make their home at 296 Demorest-rd.

Hilltoppers Are Hurt In Crash

In an accident Monday, James E. Shea, 175 S. Eureka-av, was driving a car which collided with a motorcycle driven by Patrolman Stanley J. Dobbs, 28, 202 E. Jenkins-av Bot. Dobbs and Miss Gladys Stuber, 22, 12 W. Third-av, a passenger in the Shea car, suffered abrasions of the arms, chest and legs and were treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Catherine Rader, 27, 1960 W. Broad-st, was also injured in holiday traffic.

Ralph J. Bartlett Is To Be Kiwanis Speaker Thursday

Ralph J. Bartlett, prosecuting attorney for Franklin County, is slated as the principal speaker of the day at the Thursday noon-day luncheon meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, according to announcement made this week by Harold Cunningham, chairman of the day.

Bartlett, for the past 16 years the county prosecutor, has chosen as the subject of his address, "Some of My Most Interesting Cases as Prosecutor."

Capt. Ernie L. Maxwell of the Ohio Penitentiary guards was originally slated to be the speaker but will be unable to appear before local Kiwanians at this time, according to Cunningham.

First Steel Erected At New Westinghouse Plant

First rivet in the steel section above is driven by a riveting team of C. L. Van Derau, general works manager of Westinghouse Electric Division and E. L. Smith, works manager of the Columbus plant at ceremonies held Tuesday afternoon.

The first steel column of the 20 million dollar Westinghouse Electric Corporation plant was raised here Tuesday afternoon to mark the beginning of the second phase in the construction of this new plant on W. Broad-st.

With C. L. VanDerau, general works manager of the Westinghouse Electric Division, and E. L. Smith, works manager of the Columbus plant, working as a riveting team, the first rivet in the steel structure was driven home.

Immediately after that moment, steel erection crews set about to organize their work for the next day when full crews working with four cranes will begin a race against time and and weather to meet a completion deadline extended by more than three months by the recent steel strike.

The "cornerstone" ceremony for the new building was attended by employes of the new plant as well as John H. Ashbaugh, vice president of the Westinghouse Electric Appliance Division.

"The steel column you see here this afternoon is not just part of a new building but is symbolic of the strength and vision of American industry, particularly the appliance business," Mr. Ashbaugh said.

"While assemblies for jet engines is the immediate purpose of this plant, it will someday be a major factor in the production of appliances, bringing a new, major and permanent business to the Hilltop.

"It will in a large measure be representative of that day in the future when America will beat its armaments into ploughshares to change our mass production from destruction to implements for constructive living."

The executive pointed out that while the personnel of the plant is now deeply involved in planning production for jet engines, they are part of the appliance industry.

"It is our hope that we will be making electric household refrigerators in this new plant even while we are making jet engine assemblies," Mr. Ashbaugh added. "However, our first job is to meet the needs of the armed forces for these much needed engines, and we intend to keep first things first."

Mr. VanDerau, general works manager, in his remarks before the riveting ceremony, said that hours weeks and months of grueling paper layout work preceded every final plan for the new building.

"Detailed layouts in scale have been made for jet engine production and at the same time engineers have projected over these layouts the plans for refrigeration production," he continued.

"Westinghouse will have in this building the finest jet engine production line in the world and when they day comes for consumer production, we will have the best production layout the appliance industry has ever known."

He pointed out that in terms of earth moved, concrete poured, sewage lines, railroad tracks laid, that there was enough work done to set up a small town.

Figures he cited included the moving of enough earth in clearing, grading and excavating to dig cellars for more than 1600 six-room homes; more than three and one-half miles of storm and sanitary sewers; more than four miles of railroad tracks; enough concrete poured to meet the needs of more than 1200 average homes; and over a mile of steel fencing.

"But until this afternoon when the first steel is erected most of the work to date is 'unseen' to the average eye," he added.

Mr. Smith, who will be in charge of the new production facilities, pointed out that employment for the new plant still is in the future.

"We are not now in a position to know when we will begin to accept applications for employment for either office or production line work," he said.

The new Westinghouse plant is being built on a 350-acre site on W. Broad-st between Wilson-rd and Phillipi-rd. The steel erection began at the northwest corner of the building on the Phillipi-rd side. The main entrance of the new building will be on this side.

It is the largest single plant yet to be built by Westinghouse and will cover more than 2,000,000 square feet of floor space. The plant will be two stories high and the office building section of it will be three stories high.

Refrigeration production, when it starts, will include both cabinets and the refrigeration unit. Currently the cabinets are made at the Mansfield headquarters plant and the refrigeration units are made at the division's East Springfield, Mass., plant. The refrigeration units are shipped to Mansfield where they are assembled in the finished refrigerators. The space to be released at Mansfield and Springfield by the transfer of these operations to Columbus will be used for other production and employment will not be affected at either plant.

Estimated cost of the Columbus plant is in excess of $20,000,000 for the plant structure and no firm estimate has been placed on equipment for jet engine or refrigeration production.

OGDEN

It has been announced by the UAW-CIO Regional Office that James B. Ogden has been appointed to serve as international representative for the United Auto Workers UAW-CIO

Mr. Ogden's assignment will be in Columbus and surrounding territory.

His union career began at the Ternstedt GMC plant where he has been employed since January 1947. He was elected and served as chairman of the negotiating committee and also as president of the Ternstedt UAW Local.

Ogden has been a resident of the Hilltop for 25 years, where he attended St. Mary Magdalene Grade School and graduated from West High School in the class of '41. He resides at his father's home at 42 S. Harris-av, with his wife and two young sons.

"Fear" Causes Policewoman's Resignation

Mrs. Lula H. Dickinson, 197 Highland-av, resigned, effective Sept. 3, as a policewoman in the Columbus Police Department when she was ordered by Police Chief Frank L. Harrison to check saloons on the East and South Sides. Mrs. Dickinson said she was "afraid" to enter some of the bars in his district to check for juvenile drinkers.

Harrison's order was a follow-up of the arrest of a drunken teenage robber on the South Side last week.

In a written resignation to Inspector Scully last Tuesday, Mrs. Dickinson also stated that she wanted to study law, but that a recent change in her hours made this impossible.

Mrs. Dickinson entered the department June 1, 1948, and has served in the Juvenile Bureau since then. She has also been relief matron in the cell block. Her resignation leaves the department only five policewomen out of 10 allowed by ordinance.

Cowboys Set For Grid Opener Friday

When Boyl Six West High tacklers put the pressure on a Grandview backfield man in last Saturday's practice game won by the Cowboys 19-13., The above photo graphically illustrates why the City League coaches fear the heavy West line this year.

Friday nite at 8 p. m. under the arc lights at Magley Field the local 1952 gridiron season will get underway with Grandview and Arlington of the Central Buckeye League, North and the host team, the West High Cowboys of the City League being the participants in what are known as preview contests.

No team will play more than two quarters, each of which will be of eight-minutes duration. The night's proceedings will open with Arlington and North as the opponents, to be followed by Grandview and West.

In the third quarter Arlington and its traditional rival, Grandview will tangle, with those bitter City League rivals, North and West closing out the night's proceedings in the finale.

The Cowboys with a 19-13 practice win over Grandview last Saturday appear very capable of developing into an eleven not to be taken too lightly in the City League this season.

The line appears to be in very capable hands, with all backfield spots being wide open at the present time.

The locals have been working long and hard this week and had another practice game scheduled at Newark, Wednesday night, in an effort to be in their best possible playing condition by Friday night

Game time is called for 8.15 p m.

Tackles—Thomas and Myers.
Guards—Guffree and Ives.
Center—Raike.
Quarterback—Orr.
Halfbacks—Grant and Haire.
Fullback—Cole.

Property Owners Seek Street Improvement

The above view of Eakin-rd looking east toward Wayne-av from Ogden-av graphically portrays the reason why property owners in the vicinity plan to ask Columbus City Council to take appropriate remedial action. Deep ruts, a high center crown and extremely narrow roadbed constitute a hazard say local property owners of the through street.

A petition bearing the names of more than fifty percent of the property owners on Eakin-rd, asking for street widening and resurfacing is to be presented to Columbus City Council at its meeting on Sept. 8.

The petition points out that the plat of the area calls for a street with a paved section of at least 32 feet, but that at the present time far less than that area is available. Correction is also asked of a high crown that exists in the present roadway which makes the street extremely hazardous to both motorist and pedestrian.

The improvement asks for grading, draining, curbing and paving with concrete asphaltic surface of Eakin-rd for a 32-foot width from Wayne-av west to Harris-av.

Supporters of the movement point out that the cost to property owners will be approximately $11 per front foot which will be prorated over a period of time on their tax duplicates.

Appropriate traffic signs were also to be asked of council and city traffic engineers.

INJURED IN TRAFFIC

Among those injured in traffic over the week-end was Frank V. Davis, 60, 707 S. Burgess-av. His injuries were not serious

New Hilltop Bowling Alleys To Open Early In October; Leagues Now Being Lined Up

Pictured above is a view of the new Hillcrest Bowling Lanes at 3440 W. Broad-st which will be formally opened in early October after nearly a year's delay in construction. Twenty-four alleys will be available.

Columbus' newest bowling plant, located on the Hilltop, is the new half-million-dollar Hillcrest Lanes, Inc., 3440 W. Broad, which will definitely open its doors this season. This was the announcement made this week by William E. Wright, vice-president of the Hillcrest Lanes, Inc., who said that in all probability the new alleys will open the first week in October.

Actual installation of 24 Brunswick alleys began Tuesday of this week and the Brunswick-Balke-Collender officials have promised the Hillcrest Lanes, Inc., that the alleys will be ready in four weeks. It was pointed out that the alleys need about a week to be worked out, so that bowling will actually begin in early October.

Pete Spilos, manager of the new alleys, is in the meantime lining up leagues to start at that time.

William E. Wright, originally the sole owner of Hillcrest, first ordered the alleys two years ago, but after the building was nearly completed a year ago, he encountered financial difficulties and the huge structure has remained unoccupied for a year. Since then a corporation has been formed and the financial problems have been ironed out. The corporation consists of Floyd McCarthy, president; William Wright, vice-president; R. M. McCracken, vice-president, and Lyman Brownfield, secretary-treasurer. Wright has reserved the privilege of buying out the corporation in five years.

In addition to the installation of the 24 alleys, all that is left to be done before the building can be opened is blacktopping of the parking lot and some inside electrical work.

Hilltop Driver Judged Guilty By Muny Jury

A 19-year-old Hilltop driver was fined $25 and costs in municipal court last Thursday after a jury found him guilty of driving after his license had been revoked for one year. Judge Rodney Ross suspended a 30-day term in the workhouse.

The youth, Dean A. Baker, 2860 Fisher-rd, is still to face trial for drunken driving as a result of his arrest July 4 at Olive and Powell.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

The Rural Zoning Board on Aug. 25, Monday night, passed the rezoning of the 1179 acre trace west of Phillipi and Georgesville-rds. The tract includes 1179 acres, 425 acres are for residential area and 654 acres for heavy industrial [illegible].

These two tracts are for the best of the West Side and Hilltop areas of Columbus, BUT they also passed zoning for 100 acres for a regional shopping center.

If this is permitted to pass by the Regional Planning Commission and then the county commissioners it will ruin the present business district on the Hilltop and most of the business men with it.

Fifty (50) acres would be a very large tract and would permit at least a huge regional commercial shopping center of 100 stores. Maybe we can stand this shock.

One hundred (100) acres for commercial would permit at least 200 stores and this would ruin the business economic life of the entire West Side of Columbus.

I would be for a top of fifty (50) acres and maybe we could survive this, but 100 acres is by far too much.

The Farm Bureau, a tax-free corporation, is behind this and should be stopped.

The danger is great and we business men of the West Side should protest this at once to the Regional Planning Commission and the county commissioners.

A meeting should be called at once because this comes up for the Regional Planning Commission consideration in less than 30 days from now.

Time is precious—we must act at once. I am for progress, but not for confiscation by the pressure groups behind this.

CALL YOUR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

CALL MEMBERS OF PLANNING COMMISSION.

MEET AND FILE PROTEST AT ONCE.

The industrial and residential zoning is OK, but the commercial zoning of 100 acres is dynamite.

Call all the business men. Meet [illegible]. Your future is at stake.

Act at once—50 acres for commercial and no more.

There is no time to waste. Time is running out. ACT—ACT—ACT. Stop this pressure group and save your business.

Fight for 50 acres for commercial instead of 100 acres, the other 50 acres to be added to the residential zoning.

A petition addressed to the Planning Commission and county commissioners should be started and signed by all business men and civic organizations.

'Small Fry'

By J. Curtis Allen

"Yep. Off for the annual shindig."

All dressed up with some place to go seems to be the expression mirrored on the face of little 10-month-old Jennifer Kay Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Martin, 199 N. Eureka-av, this week's presentation of Hilltop Small Fry.

Health Department Warns Of Rat Invasion With The Advent Of Cool Fall Weather

These cool evenings and chilly nights are fine for sleeping, if there's a blanket handy; but for your old enemy, the rat, they're downright uncomfortable. So he's making his annual invasion into your house, if possible, or into or under your garage or barn.

Now is the time to stall him off, before he's even in. Remember this: he won't linger long unless there's food nearby and he won't stay where he can't keep well hidden. Cut off his requirements in those two directions and your rat troubles are over.

Rats do a tremendous amount of damage attempting to attain these two ends. It's reliably determined that they spoil an estimated 200 million bushels of grain a year, the average production of 365,000 farmers. That's enough to make 315 loaves of bread for every household in the nation. Efforts toward his extermination, therefore, are well worth the time and effort.

But rat control without rat-proofing is a losing, wasteful battle. One pair of captive rats have produced more than 1,500 offspring in a single year. Against such prolific breeding, it is obvious poisoning or trapping can bring only temporary relief.

Dr. Joseph Drayer, deputy health commissioner, cautions householders against broadcasting crumbs or bread on the ground. Birds may get some of the food intended for them, he says, but the rats will get more. Besides, the food will encourage them to seek shelter nearby.

"Food for birds should be placed on an elevation rats cannot reach," he suggests, "such as a second floor window ledge or on a garage roof, unless there's an overhanging tree adjacent. It must be remembered, rats can and will climb trees if there's food or shelter to be had.

"If all garbage in Columbus were kept off the ground and other accessible places and, instead, kept in tight-lidded containers for collection, most of our rat difficulties would be that simply solved," Dr. Drayer continued. "Unfortunately, however careful we may be ourselves, there is always the neighbor down the street or across the alley who fails to take these precautions. So we eliminate our own harborages and shift the problem to some more careless householder."

Harborages are reached through openings, sometimes no larger than half an inch, by which rats gain access to buildings. This is the time of year, before cold weather sets in, when Dr. Drayer advocates a re-check of the premises to protect them against rodent invasion.

Windows or doors which do not fit well are an open invitation. Wooden sills and jams should fit within a quarter inch if they do not meet with this specification, a well fitted flashing of 18 gauge galvanized metal to a height of 18 inches above floor level should be constructed.

Openings around pipes, conduits, electric wires or other objects entering the wall should be metal flashed. A metal collar should be securely fastened to the wall with screws or made fast to the pipe with a set screw to keep the collar tight against the wall.

No louvres or ventilators should have unprotected openings of more than half an inch If larger openings are necessary, they should be protected by a screen of perforated 18 U.S. gauge metal or 14 American gauge galvanized wire.

Holes or cracks around drains which go into the ground to sewers should have careful attention. If they are not tight, pour in a 1-2-3 mix concrete.

Naturally, piles of refuse, such as tree limbs, leaves and grass cuttings, should not be permitted to lie around the yard, nor should piles of lumber, cans or other refuse be tolerated. They prove excellent nesting places for rats. Also, garbage and refuse cans should be elevated, preferably to a height of two feet. Never should they be permitted to accumulate on the ground or at ground level, Dr. Drayer [illegible].

THE GRAND CREVASSE
By R. Frison-Roche

"The Grand Crevasse" written by the French author, R. Frison-Roche uses the twin themes of the love of a mountain guide for a city girl and the ever-present challenge of the mountains.

Zian Mappas, an Alpine guide, is the hero of this story. In the shadow of Mount Blanc he falls in love with a city girl, Brigette. On her first climb a romance develops and their love grows stronger as they share the dangers of mountain climbing together. Forgetting his Alpine village fiancee, Nanette Guichardaz, he marries the girl from outside his beloved mountains.

How the call of the snow-capped Alps affects their marriage and Zian to his last crevasse is the exciting story of this book. Magnificently told, with breathtaking drama, "The Grand Crevasse" is thrilling and fascinating reading.

WINDOM'S WAY
By James Ullman

"In Windom's Way," James Ullman again presents a timely exciting novel of a doctor's struggle with himself to gain happiness and a feeling of accomplishment.

Dr. Windom is an American serving at an International Medical Foundation in a remote part of Southern Asia. Through his unrelenting efforts to aid the natives to a better way of life, he becomes involved in the revolutionary plans of the region and finds himself helping the natives against the reactionary national government in one side and communist attack on the other.

Other principals in the story are Dr. Windom's wife, Lee, rich and unhappy; Anna, a lively native nurse; Jan, her impetuous young brother; and Col. Hasbrook, U.S. Army.

Windom's Way is a mature novel, and if you have read his previous novels "The White Tower" and "River of the Sun," I'm sure you will find "Windom's Way" fascinating reading.

THE SARACEN BLADE
By Frank Yerby

Frank Yerby has written a number of good books over the past years but this is the best. It is to his other stories as the Saracen steel was to European steel at the time of the Crusades.

Laid in Europe in the 13th century, the book follows the lives of two men born the same day and whose lives were strangely parallel. One, Pietro di Donati, the son of a blacksmith, with a mind as sharp as the edge of the Saracen steel, as tough as the sword which could be bent double without breaking. The other, Frederick II, later Holy Roman Emperor, larger in stature, slower in thought perhaps; but a remarkable man.

When his father is foully murder during a revolt of serfs against their master, Pietro, then only a child, sets out to avenge his father's death. His adventures in quest of money, fame and knighthood carry him through Italy, France, Germany and with the Fifth Crusade to Egypt. Smaller in stature than most of the fighting men of his time Pietro is forced by necessity to develop new methods of combat.

At the end of his quest, helped in some measure by his friend and lord, Frederick, he comes into control of the baronies of his enemies after defeating them in battle. Together wit' Frederick he takes the lead in steps which later led to th end of the feuds' system in Italy.

The person who has a liking for historical adventure should enjoy this book. It is well documented in historical fact and presents a realistic picture of life in the 13th century.

THE THURBER ALBUM
By James Thurber

Columbus' own James Thurber has recently published a new book "The Thurber Album." While it has a lot to say to the many Thurber admirers all over the country, it endears itself particularly to every one who knows and loves Columbus. Not written in the spirit of satire and not given to wild flights of imagination, as so many of his previous books, it is written in a spirit of kind humor and with a deep feeling of love to the people and places of his home town.

He describes his forefathers, his parents and friends and by using his skillful pen, all these people, their views, prejudices, their loves and hatreds come amazingly alive.

Thurber speaks of th time he was connected with the Columbus Dispatch, the lovable people he met there. He writes about Ohio State University and the professors who taught there in his time.

Each of the 16 chapters is written with a deep human understanding of the people as they used to be in an earlier generation.

It is particularly delightful for the Columbus reader to view Thurber's description of our city as it used to be, to find the names of streets and places familiar to all of us and to realize the changes—for good and bad—which time has wrought on our city

"THE PROUD YOUNG THING"

"The Proud Young Thing," Helen Topping Miller's latest book, is now available at the Hilltop Branch Library. An historical novel, with its setting in South Carolina at a time of political unrest and threats of violence from Indians and Spaniards, it concerns Dick Edmonds, an escaped captive from the pirate ship of Paul Ledou. Pursued by the determined Imogene Bradfield, Dirk manages to set himself up in business in Charleston and becomes involved in the revolt of the planters against the Lord Proprietors. Although temporarily interested in Imogene, he falls in love with Harriott Clayton, disillusioned because the man she loved was hung as a Spanish spy.

The return of Paul Ledou, the pirate, his attempt to murder Dirk and Harriott's part in saving the life of the man she has finally consented to marry bring the story to an end.

The reader who likes a book with several plots and many characters should find "The Proud Young Thing" entertaining. I feel, however, that in Mrs. Miller's attempt to describe too many situations she has sacrificed some qualities, such as good continuity and development of personalities, necessary to make this an outstanding novel.

Football Time . . .

In the high schools across the nation there is no denying that the No. 1 sport today is football. Contrary to what many people think, however, football does not draw the largest attendance. Basketball annually outdraws football, according to the attendance figures, and has done so for many years.

However, many high schools which produce basketball teams do not have the enrollment with which to organize a football team composed of twenty or twenty-five boys. In the larger high schools across the country, football is the No. 1 sport.

The same situation applies in colleges, where college football is the top sports attraction of each college year. For some reason, college football stands out as the top football competition of the year, while major league baseball stands out at the top baseball competition. Perhaps it is because professional football leagues have not replaced college football as the No. 1 gridiron attraction in the minds of most football fans.

In almost every large high school this fall, the average American boy will be out to make the team, if he has the necessary prerequisites, or most of them. Pretty young things will become colorful cheerleaders, and even adults will work themselves up into a stew at these high school contests.

College games will be national events and will make millions of dollars for various institutions of learning. Various reasons have been advanced in an attempt to explain the popularity of football. Perhaps it is the spectacular nature and body-contact features of the game which make it an adventure to every fan. Whatever it is, football is the No. 1 sport in the high schools and colleges in the United States, and it has long since replaced baseball on these levels. Whether it will eventually replace baseball as the national pastime is a good cracker-barrel topic, though it has not yet done so.

YOUR YOUTH

By Bob Schmidt and Dick Wilson

"Wow! Look, guys, Jimmy got a bull's eye!" "Gee, ain't that tommy gun a dandy?" Boy, I sure wish I could shoot like Sgt. John!" And these were only a few of the excited comments heard by Bob and myself last Thursday when we took members of the Summer Fun Club to the Columbus Police Rifle and Pistol Range.

Sgt. John Grimm of the Columbus Police Department did a wonderful job of playing host to the boys. He first gave them a brief introductory talk on the value of a gun to the police department. Then he gave them instructions on how to properly use a rifle and pistol. Next he finally let each boy shoot target practice, and the climax came when Sgt. Grimm demonstrated shooting a sub-machine gun. All the boys were very much pleased with the trip and expressed their desire to return to the [illegible].

The writers of this column wish to extend thanks to Sgt. Grimm for being such a wonderful host and to Lou Maish of the Hilltop Sporting Good Store for making the necessary arrangements for the trip.

Just a reminder to all members of the Hilltop YMCA Craft Class that the classes will be continued through the fall and winter months. We will meet each Tuesday and Thursday evening at 4, at the "Y".

To relieve the anxiety shown by many of you movie lovers, Bob and I wish to inform you that we will continue with a fall and winter movie schedule. Movies will be shown every Friday afternoon at the YMCA at 4 o'clock. They will also be shown at Oakley Avenue Baptist Church and Glenwood Park.

School days mean it is time for Gra-Y, Jr. Hi-Y and Hi-Y Club organization. Bob and I will be seeing you at your school in the near future, so remind all your buddies that this year our "Y" clubs will be bigger and better than ever.

In concluding this week's column, we wish to remind ALL of our readers that there is still a need for additional volunteer workers for our YMCA membership enrollment. This enrollment will be Sept 22-29. We will appreciate your services. You may contact us at the YMCA office at 2552 W. Broad-st or phone JO. 4641.

The Gate Post

With the coming of fall the Glenwood Recreation Center will operate on a new and full schedule. Opening hours are 2 p. m. on week-days and 9 a. m. on Saturdays, with closing hours at 10 p. m. week-days and 12 noon on Saturdays. The gymnasium will be open at 6 each evening.

The fall schedule has not yet been completed but the main interest for boys at this season is football. The center will again have touch football leagues for boys in the junior (nine through 13), intermediate (14 through 15) and senior (16 through 18) age divisions. There is a strong possibility of an inter-center touch football league being formed, with league play between teams representing other centers. All boys interested in getting on a team or in entering a team in other leagues should contact either Jack Keaton or "Doc" Reister at the center.

Girls will have soccer leagues on the same basis as the boys. All league play will begin the last of September for both soccer and touch football. Every afternoon will be given to instructions for those who wish to be on a team. Marilyn Gordon will be in charge of instruction for girls in soccer.

Availale in activities for all ages will again be such games as ping-pong, shuffleboard, mill, checkers, chess and instructions in other games.

Glenwood Recreation Center staff wishes to express its appreciation and that of more than 90 boys who participated with Hilltop Kiwanis-Glenwood Little League to the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. It was the generous support of the Kiwanis that made the league the success that it was.

With the closing of Hilltop playgrounds the Glenwood staff extends an invitation to all Hilltoppers and West Siders to join in the activities at the center. For use of the center for special groups or special activities contact the director, "Doc" Reister, RA. 7416, or come to the center at 1875 W. Broad-st for arrangements.

THE PATH

Have you ever seen a pathway
Stretching far ahead of you
That suddenly climbed a little hill
And dropped away from view?
Then think of a path that is endless,
Where your dear one is living still.
It is only we who cannot see
The path beyond the hill.

An old poem concerns "the friend who just stands by." Many of us have been standing by helplessly, wanting to comfort the wife and daughter and family of Curt Roberts, and not knowing how. Most of us can be glib and voluble about any subject, except when it is a subject which touches us deeply. Words are futile when we need them most. But I'm sure Mrs. Roberts understands.

Mail—From a friend to whom I had sent my granddaughter's photograph: "God will make the world safe for Linda and for all the little Lindas and Jimmies, and I am sure He will start on November 4. Whoever is elected cannot do the job alone" . . . From a friend visiting in Santa Claus, Indiana: "I wish every child could see this town. They are already making elaborate preparations for Christmas here" . . . From Mrs. H. B. Burnette, Middletown: "Perhaps more people would take the strait and narrow path if it weren't so lonely" . . . From Marie Speith, who is working for the Election Board in Cincinnati: "The first day I worked here one of the girls I'm working with said 'If I had known all this swearing would be going on, I wouldn't have come.' I looked at her and wondered. What could she mean—I had only said a few faint cuss words! Then I saw she was looking at the people across the room who were holding up their right hands and swearing they had told the truth as to their registering, etc. I know this is corny but anything to break the monotony, I always say."

At a recent Verse Writers' Guild dinner, a musical poem was sung, titled 'The Rainbow Ends in Ohio.' Haven't heard the poem but like the title.

These may be signs of old age (mine) but nowadays I like—quiet rides around town just at daybreak before people are awake . . . more good books and fewer of the sensational "best sellers" . . . old, tested friendships . . . afternoons with friends who don't see the dust on my floor or the dirt on my windows and who don't expect to be entertained. Such a visitor was a good friend, Claudia Albright of South Warren-av. She brought the last flowers from her garden, one of friendship's loveliest gestures.

On cheerer-uppers (from Tonics and Sedatives, AMAJ): "A hospital is a place where they try to convince you that you are sick so your friends can indulge themselves in the sadistic pleasure of trying to cheer you up again."

"I hope the dear, kind soul
Who tries so hard to cheer me up—
Now that I am sick and glum—
Will fall and break an arm or leg
And I'll in turn retaliate—
Cheer for cheer, until he's numb."

John Stuart Mill said it: "In times of crisis we must avoid both ignorant change and ignorant opposition to change."

Hilltopper Does A Wrong Way Corregan Act

Donald F. Matthews, 25, 235 Clarendon-av, started out going the wrong way and ended up cited with reckless driving in a recent downtown occurrence. Mathews was driving his car east on Mound-st just across from the courthouse when a passing motorist yelled that he was going the wrong way on a one-way street.

Matthews then saw a sign at Pearl-st and, realizing his predicament, he maneuvered his auto into a sweeping U-turn with the idea of heading back to Pearl and turning north.

But his auto rammed into a parked car on the north side of Mound-st and his bumper locked on its front fender. When Matthews climbed out for a close look at the situation he discovered, much to his surprise, that he had sideswiped a police cruiser.

Patrolman Marion M. Dick cited Matthews for reckless driving and having no operator's license.

Newlyweds Hold Open House In Their Hilltop Apartment

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Bibbee, newlyweds of 2700 W. Broad-st, entertained with an open house Saturday evening, Aug. 30, for friends from Columbus and Worthington. Assisting Mrs. Bibbee were Miss Jean Bibbee, Marion, O., and Mrs. Ruth Ina Slaughter.

The couple was united before the altar of Emanuel Lutheran Church in Marion, O., Sunday, Aug. 17. The open church ceremony was read by Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor. The bride, the former Miss Ruth Evelyn Carr, daughter of Mrs. Harry E. Carr and the late Mr. Carr of Marion, O., and the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Bibbee, Marion, have both made their homes here in recent years.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Everett Carr, Perry, N.Y., the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and satin. The bodice of lace was styled with a cameo neckline edged with a leaf design and accented with sequins. The long sleeves of lace ended in points over the hands, and the skirt of satin, accented at the waist with a peplum, extended into a cathedral train. Her fingertip length veil of illusion fell from a small crown of sequins and see pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with red rosebuds and tied with white satin ribbon and lacelon streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Anita Kline, Marion, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Kenneth Hunt, Harpster, and Miss Frances Haas of Marion. Flower girl was Yvonne Condon, cousin of the bride.

Miss Kline wore a gown of chantilly lace and net over taffeta in a light green shade. On her head she wore a small hat of stiff net with short ribbon streamers down the back. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow mums and greenery tied with wide white satin and lacelon ribbon streamers.

The bridesmaids were in yellow. In their hair they wore bands of looped, stiff net and carried colonial bouquets of small green mums and greenery with white satin and lacelon ribbon streamers. All wore pearl bracelets and earrings, gifts from the bride. The flower girl's dress was white and styled like that of the bride. She wore a band of yellow mums in her hair and carried a basket of yellow flowers.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Mr. Lewis Bibbee, Marion, and ushers were Mr. Edgar Shaw, Mr. William Condon and Donald Shively of Columbus, and James Spillman of Waldo.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 100 guests was held in the church basement.

Assisting were Miss Harriet Ann Neimeyer of Middleville, Mich., niece of the bride, Mrs. James Spillman, Waldo, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Lewis Bibbee of Marion, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Elizabeth Swisher of Bucyrus, Mrs. James Lee, Mrs. Clarence Cranmer and Mrs. Thomas Berry, all of Marion, aunts of the bridegroom.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to northern Ohio, Mrs. Bibbee was wearing a beige linen suit dress with green and white accessories and the red roses from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Bibbee is a graduate of Harding High School and is employed with the Warner P. Simpson Co. Mr. Bibbee attended Harding High School and served with the 11th Air Force from 1943 to 1945, with 14 months of that time overseas in the Aleutian Islands. He is associated with the Jerry Spears Funeral Home

Revival Opens With —
EVANGELIST RUSSELL BOWMAN
Sept. 9th — 7:30 P. M.

They're good—those two weeks of vacation this summer. The first for you and your wife in a whole long year.

Just a moment ago the long, clear call of a loon echoed across the lake from that dark clump of pines on the shore, and a little whisper of the west wind caught your canoe and eased it through the water slowly down the lake.

You and your wife together. Drifting — with a warm wind on a northern lake in deep summer . . . Good to be alive.

Drifting like that is fine—for two weeks. But not for all the rest of the year. You wouldn't want that. You're not that kind of people. It's not that kind of a world.

Your church can help you stop "mental drifting" with its words of faith, and hope, and action. Like your vacation, it will bring you ease and relief from the problems that you continually face. But your church doesn't stop there. It aids you in charting a good life course—not one of aimless and futile drifting.

Let your church give you a lift. Go there — often.

How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?
Hebrews 2:3.

New Music School Opened On The Hilltop

Pictured above is Arthur Withrow of the new West-Hill branch of the Franklinton School of Music, with a group of singing pupils. Left to right in the front row are: Martha McDaniel, Naida Joanne Withrow, Billie Evans, Mikie Davis, and Mr. Withrow at the piano; second row, left to right, Janet Evans, Betty Smith, Sherren McDaniel, Suzanne Brown and David Davis.

The new local studio, located at 2393½ W. Broad-st, as of Sept. 2, offers group singing lessons for children from four years of age up. The children learn music appropriate for their age group. The instruction prepares them for instrumental work at an earlier age and develops an appreciation for music, according to the instructor.

Withrow resides with his wife and daughter, Naida Joanne, in Valleyview. He is accepting enrollments now for piano, voice, foundation work, popular, classical and sacred music for children and adults.

Old Time Soda Pop Bottles Found In An Abandoned Well

From the depths of an old abandoned well came these two old pop bottles being held by Mrs. Mary Davis, secretary of the A. C. Skipper Plumbing Co., at 144 N. Richardson-av. In the closeup, the ancient vintage of the bottles can be easily seen by virtue of their corks being wired to the top.

The soda pop, flavor unknown, was bottled by William H. Minch of Richmond, Ind., and Kiel-meier, Decker, Co. of Dayton, according to names on the bottles.

Three of the old bottles were given Mr. Skipper by a friend, Chester Riegel, who found them while cleaning an old well at Woodington, O. The third bottle is not in evidence, according to Mr. Skipper, who said, "One of my plumbers sampled the contents, but still the flavor is unknown."

How many Hilltoppers remember this type of bottles?

Driver Misses Curve; Crashes Into House

An auto which failed to negotiate a sharp curve in W. Mound-st at Wayne-av, early last Thursday, clipped off a tree and smashed into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Richards, 831 S. Wayne-av, second house from the southwest corner of the intersection.

Harold Regan, 28, 197 N. Central-av, driver of the car, suffered face cuts and was released after treatment at Mt. Carmel Hospital. He was cited by police for reckless driving.

Damage to the Richards home was $2000 and Regan's car was also heavily damaged. The sharp curve has been the scene of many near mishaps and residents of the neighborhood have dreaded the day when the oft-heard squeal of brakes would mean tragedy.

Laying Brick For Hilltop Church Marks End Of 50 Years Construction Career For Builder

Albert Isabel, a brick contractor in Columbus for nearly half a century, is pictured above as he laid the last brick in his career. Upon laying of the brick at the new Hilltop Church of Christ, Isabel retired. Rev. Carl Smith watched as the veteran brick mason laid the last course of brick for a new church.

When the last brick was laid in the new addition of the Hilltop Church of Christ, 124 S. Burgess-av, this week, Albert Isabel, one of Columbus' leading brick contractors, laid down his trowel to close nearly a half century of brick contracting. Shortly after finishing the job he will move to Florida where he will live in retirement.

Isabel, an active Lutheran layman, said that he could think of no better way of closing forty-five years of bricklaying than by taking the church job as his final work.

Prior to his work on the church he had the brick contract for the Bureau of Juvenile Research Hospital.

Tarbutton, Vorys Have Verbal Clash At HBA Meeting Tues.

They came out swinging at the Hilltop Business Association meeting in Schmelzer's Restaurant, Tuesday night and George Tarbutton, candidate for the Congressional seat held by John M. Vorys stole a march on the veteran congressman by departing from the original topic assigned and attacking the political record of his opponent.

Originally the program was designed as a short debate between the two political candidates with Vorys' topic, "Why You Should Vote—And Vote Republican" and Tarbutton's "Why You Should Vote—And Vote Democratic," Vorys arrived at the well attended meeting with a written text to which he adhered during the evening, while Tarbutton chose to make his statements in an "off the cuff" manner and flail Vorys' record.

Tarbutton assailed his opponent from the outset by attacking Vorys' voting record on the Marshall Plan, his support of foreign aid policies to countries which have indicated an unwillingness to cooperate with the United States and the resulting high taxes that have been imposed during Vorys' term of office.

Tarbutton delivered a stinger when he quoted a statement from the Congressional Record in which Vorys on May 22, 1952, said, "I think Acheson was right. This is a year of destiny and decision for Europe."

Both were in accord on UMT in a question and answer period following their addresses. On this question both expressed opposition to the UMT plan as presented to Congress.

Vorys in his address stressed the need for a two-party rule system of government and urged voting Republican this fall on the issues of costs, corruption, Communism and Korea.

The veteran congressman lashed at the administration spending policies and urged a pay-as-you-go method pointing out that the national finances could not be remedied until such a plan was adopted. He charged, "This administration costs too much for what we get out of it."

In his attack on the question of Communism, Vorys said, "Adlai Stevenson was a character witness for Alger Hiss, and up to the present Truman, Acheson, Stevenson, and the rest have simply not caught on to the danger."

He termed Korea the result of a series of disastrous foreign policy blunders which it will take years to overcome. On corruption within the government he charged a moral letdown from the top down.

Byron died while enroute to Mt. Carmel Hospital of stab wounds last Wednesday night.

Homicide Detective Charles L. Phillips said that Mrs. Grigsby had confessed to the slaying of Byron who was found in an alley following an argument. Three other suspects held for the slaying were released from custody following the Hilltop woman's alleged confession.

Judge John M. Mathias ordered the woman held in City Prison without bail.

Sept. 24 Final Date For Voter Registration

Only ten days are left before the deadline on which registrations can be made by voters in order that they be eligible to vote in the forthcoming November elections.

The Franklin County Board of Elections said this week that to accomodate as many registrants as possible they would hold "night hours" at the board's headquarters 218½ S. High-st.

The headquarters will be open from 8 a. m. until 9 p. m. daily from Sept. 15 through Sept. 24. On Saturdays it will close at noon.

Polling places in all precincts will be open from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. and from 4 p. m. until 9 p. m. on the deadline day, Sept. 24 for the purpose of registration.

Transfers may be made by writing the Board of Elections on a government post card advising of the old address, new address and proper signature of the voter. Officials pointed out that if you are in doubt, it would be best to re-register in order that you can be sure of voting in the November elections.

Hilltop Ballot Battalion Is Formed To Urge Registration Of Voters

Discussing plans for the registration campaign on the Hilltop is the executive committee of the Hilltop Ballot Battalion pictured above, Rev. C. Langholz, John Nippert, Mrs. Juanita Cline, Mrs. Edna Johnson and John Dickson. Nippert is chairman of the organization.

Thirty-one Hilltop civic and fraternal organizations were present last Thursday night in the West High School auditorium when officials of the various groups met to formulate a Hilltop Ballot Battalion which as a non-partisan, non-political group will urge the registration of every eligible Hilltop citizen as a voter.

Initial plans of the organization call for a registration campaign and the distribution of registration information throughout the Hilltop area on Sept. 20 and 21. This registration campaign is to be brought to its climax on the night of Sept. 23 when the Ballot Battalion will stage a huge parade calling attention to the fact that the next day, Sept. 24, is the last day on which to register in order to vote at the November elections.

Following the campaign to have every eligible voter on the Hilltop properly registered, the organization will embark on another campaign "Get Out The Vote" at the November election.

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club was the initiator of the current campaign as a public service activity.

Slogan of the group for the registration campaign is, "If you don't register to vote on or before Sept. 24, don't kick in November because you can't vote."

Kiwanis Plan Kids' Day Party At Westgate

Harold Fox, president of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, announced this week that the local club is planning a huge party for children of the community at Westgate Park on Saturday, Sept. 27. The occasion is the nation-wide observance by Kiwanis clubs of National Kids Day.

The huge party will start at 1 p. m. and continue until 5 p. m. with free rides, free entertainment and free refreshments for all youngsters attending, according to Fox.

Next week's Hilltop Record will carry complete details on the huge party which has been planned by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Volunteers To Spearhead The UA Campaign

Scores of residents of the Hilltop are volunteering their services in the huge volunteer army that is being formed to put the 1953 United Appeals Campaign over the top.

Seven thousand Columbus and Franklin county residents make up the army. They go into action on Sept. 20 and the campaign will last through Oct. 23.

If the drive is successful, the army will have insured the health and welfare of thousands of the county's needy residents.

All of the effort is directed to one purpose. The volunteers want to see the drive top the goal of $2,387,520 set for this year. That sum will be divided between 72 health and welfare agencies including the 67 agencies of the Community Chest, the Red Cross, Cerebral Palsy Association, Heart Association, USO and Cancer Society.

The United Appeals-Red Cross Campaign is wanted by the people of Franklin County. This was proven last year when the first United Appeals drive went over the top. The principle of one campaign a year for 72 health and welfare organizations was well accepted by county residents.

The year's goal will be shared by the participating agencies in the following manner:

Community Chest, $1,644,412; Red Cross, $429,070; USO-United Defense Fund, $115,525; Cancer Society, $110,000; Heart Association, $62,500 and United Cerebral Palsy Association, $26,013.

In order to achieve the combined goal of $2,387,520, United Appeals worked out a formula for giving. Plant and office workers are being asked to give a donation of 25 to 30 cents a week, junior executives are asked to pledge from one half to one and a half per cent of their salary and senior executives are asked to contribute from one to three per cent of their salary. Instead of cash, it is recommended that pledges be paid in installments or payroll deductions.

Remember, a United Appeal is a Good Deal, and — It Depends on You.

16-Month-Old Child Is Killed By Uncle's Auto

Services were held Monday in the Jerry Spears funeral home for 16-month-old Jackie Donald Mattox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elza E. Mattox, 3661 Plainview-dr. The baby was killed Friday night when hee wheeled his stroller into the path of an uncle's car.

The accident occured in the driveway of the Mattox home when the uncle, John Buskirk, pulled his car forward prior to backing from the drive. He said he never saw the baby but stopped the car when he heard something "rattle" beneath the auto. He got out and found Jackie lying in the gravel-and-cinder drive near the right rear wheel of the car.

The child's walker was smashed and pinned beneath the auto, according to Sherrif's Deputy Sgt Robert L. Neds. Dr. Robert A. Evans, coroner, examined the child's body at Mt. Carmel Hospital where it was taken by John Burkhart, 3684 Plainview-dr, a neighbor. The coroner said the child suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries.

The boys father, a construction worker, was at work when the accident occured. Buskirk lives at the home.

The Mattoxes have five other children Edward Lee, 6; Charles Otis, 5; Elva Russell, 3; Bonnie Mae, 2; and Elma Jean, 4 weeks.

1200 Acre Rezoning Is Approved

The Regional Planning Commission in regular quarterly meeting last Thursday gave its approval to the rezoning of a 1200-acre tract of land west of Columbus.

The commission approved an application of the People's Development Co., a subsidiary of the Farm Bureau, for zoning of a 554-acre tract for heavy industrial use, 425 acres for 1000 homes and apartment buildings and a 100-acre general commercial area for shopping center use.

The land, with the exception of one 45-acre tract, lies west of the Phillipi and Georgesville-rds and is divided by US Route 40.

New Hilltop Schools Are Most Modern In Columbus

Modern rest room facilities have been installed in both schools. Judith Baxter, 10, 574 Whitethorne, a student at West Mound (center left) is using the latest in wash stands. Judith is pressing the foot pedal to spray water on her hands.

All classrooms are equipped with wash stands for the convenience of teachers and pupils. Charlene and Charlotte Stultz, six-year-old twins, are using the wash stand in the second grade room at Westgate. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stultz, 567 Binns-blvd.

Mrs. Betty Parrish, 331 S. Brinker, divides her time between the West Mound and Westgate schools as clerk-typist.

About 850 youngsters moved into two of the most modern schools in Columbus last week when the new schools were opened. Opening of the new schools has taken care of crowded conditions at John Burroughs, Bellows and West Broad.

Both buildings are one story with 12 classrooms, an assembly room, library and office.

All class rooms have glass brick on one wall to admit light, yet diffuse it. South rooms are painted in cool colors, such as green, while north rooms have warm colors, such as rose.

Floors are rubber tile and ceilings are covered with acoustic tile to reduce noise.

Desks and chairs are blond wood of the most modern design and built to scale—that is bigger as the grades go up.

Lighting throughout both buildins is fluorescent. Special attention has been given to eliminating glare, yet providing the best possible light for students. Blackboards are green to cut down on reflection and yellow chalk is used.

The kindergarten in each school is a veritable wonderland for the five-year-olds. Everything is "pint size." Tiny tables and chairs have been provided. A miniature work bench with tools "just like daddy's" is there for the youngsters' use.

A separate rest room has been provided for the kindergarten with all fixtures built to scale. The "tiny tots" also have their own enclosed play yard off their room so they won't be trampled by the older boys and girls.

Last week was "get acquainted week" in kindergarten. Parents brought their youngsters to school to start with the teacher and inspect the room where they will be spending the next few months. Regular sessions of kindergarten started this week.

"This 'Get-acquainted Week' was planned to do away with tears on the first day," pointed out James Henery, principal. "The teacher and room won't be strange to a youngster the first day of school, if he has a chance to look things over first."

Henery is principal of both the West Mound and Westgate schools.

West High Youth Loses End Of Thumb

Putting up a fence around West High School's playing field resulted in a little less thumb for Bob Black, 17, 45 N. Westmoor-av, Thursday. Black, one of several students who volunteered to drive fence posts in preparation for last Friday's preview game, cut his thumb when it was struck by the steel fence post driver.

Emergency squadmen took him to Mt. Carmel Hospital where several stitches were placed in his thumb in an effort to save the tip which was nearly severed.

The Key To Personality

Personality is a magic word. To open the door to the radiant personality you want there is a key—what kind of a key? That's very simple—breakfast is the key. It isn't anything like the key to your front door, but breakfast opens the door to your inner personality.

The world looks brighter when you start the day with a good breakfast, and incidentally, you look brighter to the world, too. Personality-plus is yours when you feel well—and who can feel perky on an empty stomach! Last night's dinner may have been good, but don't expect too much of it. Your dinner kept you going all evening and prevented hunger pangs during the night, but you need a good breakfast to click through a busy morning.

Are you one of those people who makes the excuse, "I don't have time for breakfast"? Of course, those extra winks of sleep are wonderful or you may have "so much to do," but in less than 15 minutes you can eat a breakfast of fruit, cereal, toast and milk, a very small investment for such rich dividends in personality and well being.

Maybe your excuse is, "I'm not hungry in the morning." Maybe you're not hungry the instant you jump out of bed but there is a hidden hunger which will gradually appear as the morning passes; and about 11 you go into a slump of efficiency and personality.

Perhaps you think breakfast only "adds extra pounds." In a recent study made at a prominent university, women subjects were fed breakfasts supplying 300, 600 and 1000 calories and men subjects were given 750 calorie breakfasts for a given period of time. Then for the same length of time no breakfast was taken by the subjects. In all subjects—men and women alike—no significant weight changes were observed at any time, either during the "no breakfast" periods or when breakfast provided as much as 1000 calories.

Give yourself a fair break, unlock the door to efficiency, good health and a winning personality by beginning tomorrow to eat a good breakfast.

A United Appeal depends on you. Give enough once to support all.

Your pledge of 25 cents a week, of $13 a year, to the United Appeals will provide 13 hours of recreation for deaf children at the Columbus Hearing Society. Let your heart guide you—give generously.

Your 25 cents a week to the United Appeals will pay for two weeks of nursery care for a child of a working mother at Lincoln Park Day Nursery. A United Appeal depends on you.

By giving just 25c a week you will provide 100 hours of counselling and personal service for a blond person through the Columbus Association for the Blind.

Preview Football Games Show Evidence Of Powerhouse 11's

By Woody Owens

The local 1952 pigskin season got underway last Friday night at Magly Field before a capacity crowd and if the football exhibited by the four participating teams was an indication of what is to come, this old town is in for another topsy turvy season.

First one team would look like a powerhouse and the next time it took the field it would look like a different team altogether.

These games were billed as previews but at times the respective teams played as if a championship depended upon the outcome.

In the first contest North looked like the City League powerhouse as it easily outplayed Arlington in every department and emerged with a 14-0 triumph. The scores came on a well executed 22-yard pass play from Graf to Blackford and an 18-yard end sweep by Kessler with Yeomans converting after each, via placement.

The second contest, Grandview and the local Cowboys tangled with the Bobcats having a decided edge by putting on a sustained march from their own 12-yard line to the locals' 40 before time ran out. This game ended in a scoreless tie.

The third game brought together those Central Buckeye League rivals, Arlington and Grandview with the former which had looked so weak against North coming out on top by a score of 6-0 on Campbell's 23-yard dash around left end.

The fourth and final canto of the evening found North and West tangling, with the Cowpokes completely outplaying the Polar Bears and coming out on top by a score of 7-0.

The locals received the kick-off and returned to their own 32-yard line and after two plays failed, Dick Orr, diminutive Cowboy quarterback, broke over his own left guard on a quick opener and raced 42 yards to the North 26-yard line where he was downed from behind. He then passed to Ongarro complete on the 12-yard line and on the next play Ron Grant broke loose over his own left tackle to score. Ongarro added the extra point from placement.

The Cowboys threatened again but lost the ball on downs on the North 12-yard line. Two plays later the contest ended.

This Friday night the Cowboys will invade the lair of the Marion Harding Presidents, being out to avenge the 19-7 lacing handed them by the locals last year.

Little is known at this time as to the calibre of the up-state eleven but it is safe to say the locals will have to be at their best if they hope to return to the capital city with a victory.

The Cowboy's line-up may see some new faces after last week's play, with some players still on the doubtful list through injuries.

Methodists Win West Church League Title

West Park Methodist is the newly crowned 1952 West Church softball league champion by virtue of their 9-2 win over Avondale EUB Monday night.

This game was for the first round title and since they had already swept through the second round, undefeated they captured both rounds of play.

Their season record in the local league was 12 wins and two losses including playoff games.

Y OUR OUTH

By Bob Schmidt and Dick Wilson

"Pals Forever" is the slogan of YMCA Indian guides which is a club program based on a father-son relationship. This program attempts to multiply the number of things that fathers with sons between the ages of six and nine can do together. Last week Bob met with such a group at the home of Paul Leighninger, 2999 Fremont-av. Indian names will be selected by each member as well as an Indian name for the tribe. Mr. Leighninger was elected temporary Big Chief of the tribe at this meeting. The next "Pow Wow" (meeting to you who are not hep to Indian lingo) will be held at the home of Bob Edgar, 669 S. Richardson-av, on Sept. 10.

Boys and girls received a real treat last Wednesday night at the "Y" office when Moore the Magician and his company put on a magic show. Moore's wit and humor were just as entertaining to the kids as were his bag full of tricks and slight of hand. All of the kids present expressed their enjoyment of the the program with hearty hand clapping and whistles at the end of each act. This column wishes to compliment Mr. Moore on a splendid act and hopes to see him back to the "Y" in the near future.

The coolness of evenings brings to mind that football season is just around the corner. The beginning of football season reminds us that it is time to get on the ball and organize our Gra-Y, Jr. Hi-Y and Hi-Y clubs. As a result, I feel it my duty to inform all you fellows in the Hilltop schools that Bob and I will be coming around to your school in the near future.

This week we will start organization of Gra-Y clubs at West Mound, Highland, West Broad, John Burroughs and Westgate grade schools. As soon as these five clubs are organized, we will set up a touch football league; so spread the word, fellows, that it is club time.

All play and no work makes Y.M.C.A. boys dull boys. This is an old adage which your Hilltop Y.M.C.A. is trying to adhere to. So that we may practice what we preach, last Saturday I took a group of boys to the corner of Harris and Broad-st to start cleaning up the "Y" building site. They all worked hard, and they did a good job. Thanks a million, gang! I know the community appreciates it.

In concluding this weeks column, I wish to remind all the boys who played Little Nine Baseball to come to the "Y" and pick up their awards. A good time to pick them up would be on Tuesday or Thursday evening at 4:00 p.m. This is the time we hold our craft classes. This means you could kill two birds with one stone. How about it, you baseball players? Want to try some handicraft and get your awards at the same time?

'Small Fry'

By J. Curtis Allen

"What's this about Adlai's shoes?"

The inquisitive expression on the face of Charles Theobold, 7 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Theobold, 632 Clark-av might well be one worn on the faces of many last week when a newspaper photographer caught the pix of the presidential nominee with the worn shoe sole. Fact is though, that Charles is still too young to worry about political quips these days.

In Passing

By BETHAN WEAKLEY

SEPTEMBER

Not yet, O not yet do they fall,
The leaves, uncomprehending faces
Clinging in the decaying light;
Why do they cry so, trembling,
Harried by the wind, loath to leave
The trees which already begin to dream;
Is it, they are homeless, driven
Across nights and days, across gardens
Seeking repose; some final resting place?
I am wind-harried, watching:
Soon the life in me will too recede,
Driving across such deserted places.

Two fine Hilltop people celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Sept. 7. They are Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Hoffman, 247 S. Ogden-av. I've always mentioned in this alleged column what good neighbors they were when we three Weakleys came to Columbus about 25 years ago. Those were lonely, homesick days until we discovered our neighbors, the Hoffmans. We join their many friends in wishing them many more anniversaries.

Heard on radio: On Bert Stille's newscast (WHKC): "There is no right way to do a wrong thing" . . . On an all-night show (forget the station): "It's a woman's world. When a man is born people ask 'How is the mother?' When he marries they exclaim 'What a lovely bride!' When he dies they inquire 'How much did he leave her?'"

From a gal in Indiana: "My brother just brought me some chlorophyll nail polish. How sanitary can they get? I'll have to hold hands with my b.f. to see if the polish DOES anything" . . . From Larry Dammert, engineer at WLW, Cincinnati: "It would appear that the present trend is toward the hill-billy or 'country music.' I can't understand it, but how many things that are going on in this crazy old world can any of us understand?" From Arthur Godfrey (inscription in a book he sent her): "Chins up. Good wishes for your recovery."

Every Boy Is A Great Athletic Potential By Observing Health Rules, Says Doctor

It isn't unusual to see a small boy who can run faster than a bigger and heavier one, but when the smaller fellow can hit a ball farther, make the turn in a swimming tank faster or get more distance on a punt, then we say the smaller boy has what it known as co-ordination.

Co-ordination also is known as "timing." It is the automatic response between mind and body which enables the leg or foot to meet the ball at the split second when best results are obtained.

Curly Morrison, the former Ohio State fullback now with the Chicago Bears, is one of the greatest punters in football. He isn't especially big, as football players go, but he can out-punt huskies from 20 to 30 pounds heavier because he has good "timing." The same might be said of Horace Gillom, the superb Cleveland Brown booter.

Ben Hogan, one of the greatest of the professional golf stars, often is called 'Batam Ben" because he is so small. Yet he can boom a golf ball out there 350 yards or more with the far bigger Sam Sneads, Porky Olivers and Chick Harberts because he has "timing"

These fellows and many more like them have all the essential ingredients which go to make up good timing because they are in fine health. If Morrison had an impediment of the knee or ankle, or if Hogan had a "hitch" in the elbow, wrist or shoulder, the co-ordination necessary for good timing would be more or less lost. They couldn't kick or hit the ball as far—or as accurately.

That is why young men and boys, the ones who are to become our great athletes of the future, need to give special precautions to their teeth, in the opinion of Dr. Everett Tracy, new head of the dental division of the Columbus Department of Health. There is a close link between overall health and good healthy teeth, he says.

"Partially this is because good strudy teeth aid digestion, which in turn encourages a strong body and the muscle tone that contributes so heavily to both strength and co-ordination," he explains. "If the muscles are unable to answer the instantaneous wishes of the mind through some fault, then we have a loss of co-ordination and timing and also a loss of power.

"Have you ever noticed in pictures of Ted Williams and Stan Musial what even, bright teeth they have?" Dr. Tracy asks. "If they had neglected their teeth they might have developed infections which could have gone into their sinuses and affected their eyes. And that would have affected their base hits and home runs. Perhaps even prevented them from becoming big leaguers at all."

Young boys frequently refuse to be concerned about their teeth. They think it isn't important how they look, although secretly they must admit such heroes as Hopalong Cassidy, Roy Rogers, Tim Holt and Johnny Mack Brown all have faultless teeth. Would they like them as well if they had stained, crooked or ill-fitting teeth, or if they had a tooth or two out? You just know they wouldn't.

We can't all be football, baseball or golf stars, so inevitably some boys will be lawyers, engineers, architects, scientists and follow dozens of other occupations. How they look may not seem important. But it is. It's the villains who have the dirty, ugly teeth.

Besides, the man with the nice teeth feels better. He doesn't have toothache or stomach ache because he can chew properly. He can eat corn on the cob, peanuts and celery and enjoy his steak much more than the fellow without proper teeth for the job.

Suppose you wanted to be a soldier. Suppose you wanted to go to West Point or Annapolis to become an officer, maybe a general or an admiral. You can't do it with bad teeth. They won't even let you into either academy if you have so much as one tooth missing. A boy who neglects his teeth has small chance of making them.

There's a right way to do everything, and the right way to care for the teeth is to begin periodical visits to the dentist at an early age, preferably at about three, Dr. Tracy says. There are numerous good reasons for this, among which are that it's easier on both patient and dentist. It requires less work and thereby less expense, and there's an absence of pain which eliminates fear of the dentist. Then there's the reward of a good appearance and good health.

YOUR HOME IS AN INVESTMENT

An investment in money . . . and we don't have to tell you how important money is. With today's high prices a new home, no matter how small, can become pretty costly. People think a long time before starting to build and this is only natural. A lot of thought should go into the planning and only the best building supplies should be used.

Likewise a lot of thought should go into your choice of a location. Is the neighborhood clean, are the people civic minded, and are the neighbors friendly? This is as important as the material you use..

One of the outstanding factors that has made the Hilltop a choice building community . . . a community very largely predominated by home owners . . . has been the fact that this is a well rounded community . . . It has everything a family wants . . . and needs in the way of services.

And it has a civic pride that places this community at the top of the list in Columbus.

And back of this whole plan of development of the community has been the fine leadership through the years of the Hilltop individual business firms.

So, remember that this home of yours . . . this investment . . . is improving in value when you help strengthen this community by patronizing your local Hilltop individual business firms.

Columbus State School To Seek More Recruits In Volunteer Services Department

By Pat Martindale

In the short space of less than one year the Volunteer Services Department at the Columbus State School has played such an important role in the overall program of the school that its functions will be broadened and a recruitment for more volunteer workers will be made in this community starting Sept. 15 through 27.

Because of limitations of staff, facilities and equipment in various areas of the school, volunteers have directly promoted the happiness and wellbeing of the school's population and at the same time helped to interpret the function of the school to the community in general.

Many Hilltop and West Side persons, either individually or as an organization, have given both time and funds for equipment or the needed equipment to the school since the start of the Volunteer Services, but with a population of 2,297 (as of April 1) much more is needed through the Volunteer Services Department.

Many organizations that adopt a charitable project have found the Columbus State School a worthy institution where the need is genuine and is sincerely appreciated. It is a place where just a little effort on the part of the volunteer affords a great deal of pleasure in the lives of the students. Because of the vast population and arrangement of the buildings it is impossible to give home-like or individual attention to students except through volunteer service.

Lloyd Ferguson, director of the Volunteer Services Department, said that the following activities and leaders were needed at the school; sewing groups, recreational sports, crafts of all kinds; physical education instructors, religious education, companionship activities, club groups, all types of dance instructions, beautician instructor, barber instructor, nurses aides, story tellers, nature study leaders and new guilds.

"For instance," said Ferguson, "if a person interested in teaching one sport such as football, could give one or two hours a week with a group of boys, that would solve the problem of giving that group a chance to get into a favorite sport that otherwise would be impossible."

Any person or group interested in the volunteer program may contact Mr. Ferguson at the State School either by visiting or calling. An instruction course will be offered a little later in the season for interested persons.

J. W. Worrel

Let me tell you about an experience I had yesterday. It might prove interesting to you because you might feel the same way as the fellow I went to visit. He told me flatly he didn't want any insurance. He wasn't sure what his plans were going to be and he didn't want to feel tied down to anything. He was afraid that any insurance he chose now might be no use to him in five years.

Well sir, all I can say is, he couldn't have heard of our Sun Life Adjustable Policy. If anything's more adjustable than that I'd be very interested in knowing what it is. Just listen to this. For the first five years the assured is covered for the full face value of the policy. At the end of that time he can choose a much bigger Whole Life policy, and at no additional cost and without evidence of health. He also has the privilege of continuing the policy on the Whole Life basis for the original face amount, but with a much reduced premium. And there are even more advantages. He can limit his period for paying premiums or have the policy mature to his own future benefit as he sees fit.

There's nothing rigid about this type of life insurance policy, is there? No matter how your plans may change during this time, your needs will still be taken care of. I'd sure like to drop in for a short chat with you and prove to you what a wonderful all-purpose program this is.

Bible Comment:

Intolerance Should Find No Advocate In Bible Dispute

In the King James version of the Bible the Epistle to the Hebrews is attributed to Paul, but from early days in the church there has been much questioning regarding its authorship.

But one fact concerning the Pauline Epistles, those by James, Peter and John, which Paul certainly did not write, and the Epistle to the Hebrews, is that they are all agreed in a common faith in Jesus as the Messiah, in belief in his saving power, and in their conception of the Christian life.

James, for instance, emphasizes works as evidence of faith, where Paul puts more emphasis on faith, but in Paul's more extensive writings one would find many passages that, as strongly as James, stress the practical nature of Christian life. So, also, though John is the apostle of brotherly love, all that he says only strengthens what Paul wrote of love in I Corinthians 13. And when Peter writes of believers as "partakers of the divine nature," it is precisely what Paul has written in Ephesians 3:19.

This unity is emphasized in the conception of God's better revelation in Jesus, as presented by the writer of Hebrews, and as presented by Paul. Both are intense in their conviction that Jesus is the fulfillment of the Messianic hope. The Paul is chiefly concerned with doctrine, while the writer of Hebrews emphasizes the priestly character of Jesus, and the fulfillment of the ritualistic side of the Old Testament heritage.

Belief in Jesus as the Messiah is dominant in the Christian church; and it is here that the devout Christian and the devout Jew differ. The devout Jew may regard Jesus as a great teacher, a view now more widely held than formerly, but he looks still for the coming of the Messiah and the fulfillment of the prophecies.

It is a difference of belief that is not unimportant, but it should not in any sense occasion intolerance or unbrotherliness. If the Jew lives up to all that is good in the Old Testament and the Christian to all that is best in the New, the spirit of both would make intolerance and prejudice impossible. It is in ideals of peace and good will that Judaism and Christianity both find their highest expression.

4869 West Broad Street

"Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall,
Humpty Dumpty had a great fall;
All the king's horses, and all the king's men
Couldn't put Humpty Dumpty together again."

Poor old Humpty Dumpty! Of course, he exists only in a nursery rhyme.

But don't be too sure . . .

Look back over the hundreds of people you've met and liked. People who always appeared to be in perfect command of themselves.

And suddenly, in the lives of some, something snapped. Without any apparent reason, they went to pieces.

Yes—the dizzy pace of modern living is creating a lot of "Humpty Dumpties" that appear to be lost souls. Maybe you've tried to help these friends out of the depths of their despair—but with little success.

One word of good advice. Try the church!

Nothing heals, nothing mends as completely as a belief in the love of God. Nothing can bring back the sense of "belonging" as vividly as a friendly congregation with whom weekly worship is possible. Nothing gives a man a renewed grip on himself as well as a renewed conviction in the true immortality of the soul.

These "humpty dumpties" don't belong at the foot of a wall.

They belong in church, which represents the Great Healer of all wounds and all despairs.

Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed: save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise. Jer. 17-14

THE SECRET ROAD

By Bruce Lancaster

"The Secret Road" is a historical novel about our secret service during the revolution. It was set up and organized by General Washington and other patriot leaders.

The British held New York and had headquarters in Manhattan in 1778 to 1781. To get information, supplies and news in and out of New York, the Patriots organized a secret road or line. One of the brave men who worked in New York was Robert Townsend, a merchant buyer of supplies and society editor. He went everywhere and knew many people, both British and patriots. He sent valuable information by agents along the secret road to General Washington, from New York across Long Island Sound by whale boat to the mainland, then by horseback to the army agents such as Austen Roe and Caleb Brewster. Robert Townsend did many brave deeds for the cause of liberty. Major Tallmadge, a brave officer and patriot, was a director of the secret service, who also lived and took part in the secret road.

This is a great story about the brave men and women who made the secret road possible. "The Secret Road" is one of Bruce Lancaster's best novels.

Rhodes Urges All Out War On Disease

Continued vigilance by Greater Columbus housewives and an increase in their ranks by those who thus far have failed to cooperate in the drive against polio and other communicable diseases was urged today by Mayor James A. Rhodes.

"Figures in the city health department show a sharp reduction in the number of cases of communicable disease so far this year. There has to be a reason. Particularly is this so in the case of poliomyelitis, for which the pattern predicted an increase," the mayor explained.

"You won't get the doctors to say this reduction follows on the heels of our war against insects until it is absolutely proved. But we outside the profession certainly can see an indication. It's almost impossible to find a fly or mosquito in Columbus," the mayor boasted, "and our diseases fall off.

"That leads me to think that if we can eliminate the fly and the mosquito entirely, we'll cut down on the diseases. And I think we can do it if we can get everybody to work together."

Rhodes explained that most housewives are now wrapping their garbage in paper before disposing of it. Most everybody has a watertight garbage can and takes the precaution of seeing the lid is kept on tight. But there are a few who aren't cooperating, he added.

"If we can enroll these few in our program we'll soon have this thing licked," Rhodes predicted.

Columbus' main weapon against insects is its "fogging machines" of which it has three in operation this year. These machines spray a five per cent solution of DDT in kerosene in alleys, vacant lots and wherever insects are inclined to congregate.

The spraying is done on both a destructive and preventative basis. Such places as school yards, playgrounds, shelter houses, hospitals, hotels, swimming pools and parks are in one group and packing houses, dumps, the zoo and neighborhoods where polio cases are known to exist, in another.

So far the three Columbus machines have sprayed more than 8,500 miles and used more than 11,000 gallons of insecticide.

Community Council Plans Special Events

The first fall meeting of the Hilltop Community Council was held last Wednesday night in the social room of the Glenwood Recreation Center.

Within the next few weeks the general chairman of special events will announce plans and appoint a committee for the annual Hilltop Halloween Party. The party is one of the four special events to take place during the year and is sponsored by the council with many Hilltop organizations acting as cosponsors.

Designed for the purpose of entertaining the youth of this community and at the same time keep "Hallowe'eners" off the streets for their own safety and to cut down on property damage, this yearly affair has set an example in many other sections of Columbus.

Last year 4,000 attended the party held at West High School.

REPORT 14 ACCIDENTS

The Hilltop was the scene of 14 accidents the week of Sept. 14. Nine instances of property damage occurred and five persons received injuries in the cars. One juvenile and one adult pedestrian were also injured.

Lions And YMCA To Sponsor Fall Trips For Boys

The Hilltop YMCA this week announced fall trips for boys between the ages of 9 and 13 years, with the first of the trips scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 20, to Old Man's Cave, Ash Cave and the Rock House.

Co-sponsor of the trips, which will accommodate 100 boys, is the Hilltop Lions Club, which is financing the major portion of the [illegible].

The trips will be personally supervised by Rob Schmidt and Dick Wilson of the YMCA staff as well as members of the Hilltop Lions Club.

Inasmuch as there will be room for only 100 boys each trip, officials of the YMCA this week urged early registration at the Hilltop YMCA. A registration fee of 25 cents per boy per trip will be charged to supplement the total cost of the trips.

Taft Lashes Lausche At Local Meeting

Charles P. Taft, Republican gubernatorial candidate, and a large group of other Republican candidates were in evidence at the meeting of the Franklin Township Republican Club, Monday night, at Franklin-twp hall.

Taft in his address to the assemblage lashed the Lausche administration for its "do nothing attitude" in relation to Ohio highways, pointing out that the situation has become so deplorable that travelers try to avoid transportation over the present highways. He charged, too, that all or most of the highway funds are now being held in reserve for development of a turnpike in the northern section of the state while the balance "goes a-begging" for funds.

Other candidates on the Republican ticket at the meeting or represented were C. William O'Neill, Robert R. Shaw, John J. Chester, Jr., Samuel L. Devine, Kline L. Roberts, Lytle G. Zaber, Hugh R. Martin, Carl Treamer, Wayne Fogle, Henry A. Koontz, C. P. Lauderbaugh, Frank Kearns, Roy King, Homer George, Fred C. Berkhemer and Harry Metcalf.

E. O. Johnson, president of the Franklin Township Republican Club, said that an organizational meeting is scheduled for this Monday evening, Sept. 22, at the Franklin-twp Hall at 8 p. m. Primary purpose of this meeting is to organize all precinct workers. Johnson urged that all Republicans and members of the club be present in order that field work may get under way as soon as possible.

Hit-Skip Driver Arrested After Three Mile Chase

Sgt. Dwight D. Derr, 713 Racine-av, a member of the Grandview police force, arrested a youthful hit-skip driver suspect and his father, Sunday, after a three-mile chase through the Hilltop.

Sgt. Derr said he had just "marked off" duty and was driving home when he saw a motorist make a wild left-hand turn south into Eureka-av off Valleyview-dr. He gave chase and before he overtook his quarry, he said, the driver struck several cars on both sides of Wayne-av, between Glenview-blvd and Broad-st.

Derr halted the car at Valleyview-dr and Eureka-av and held Everett Dillon, 42, and his son, Richard, 18, Irwin, O., until cruisermen arrived. The boy was charged with failure to stop after an accident and having no operator's license. His father was cited for drunkenness.

Legion-Arrow Cycle Races To Be Sept. 28

Rain and a wet track forced postponement of the Legion-Arrow Motorcycle Races at the Ohio State Fairgrounds last Sunday, until Sunday, Sept. 28.

The majority of the 24 expert riders, 31 amateurs and 60 novices will return again on that date to vie for the $2,200 in prizes and trophies.

Sponsors of the race, the Camp Chase Post 96 of American Legion and Golden-Arrow Motorcycle Club Inc., said that the heavy rains of Sunday had made the track too dangerous for riders and spectators alike. It was the first time in four years that the races had to be called because of inclement weather.

BURROUGHS PTA TO START MEMBERSHIPS

The annual membership drive of the John Burroughs PTA opens the week of Sept. 22 with Mrs. Horton Ryan and Mrs. Edward J. Reilly acting as chairmen of membership and room mothers respectively.

Car Crashes Into Residence On Trabue-rd

Alta Rannebarger, 3302 Trabue-rd, ruefully looks at the damage caused to her home Saturday morning when a car driven by Charles Landers, 147 N. Ogden-av, crashed into it. The homeowner was in her living room looking out the window when she saw the car come charging into her porch. She said that usually she was sitting in the swing on the porch at that time of day but had just reentered the house. Sheriff's Deputies Harry Perkins and Dean Thomas who investigated the accident, said that the Landers car was proceeding east on Trabue-rd when it was in collision with an Upper Arlington city truck at the intersection of Trabue and Dublin. According to the officers the Landers car made a complete circle of the truck before crashing into the house. Upper Arlington Emergency Squadmen transported Landers' wife, Lillian, to the hospital from the accident scene.

New Highway Post Office Makes Hilliards Initial Stop

The Toledo and Columbus Highway Post Office will make its inaugural trip Saturday, Sept. 20. Its first stop will be at Hilliards at 7:25 a. m. It will leave at 7:40 a. m.

A brief public ceremony will mark the arrival of this new mail service to Hilliards. Assistant Postmaster General John M. Redding of Washington, D. C., and other distinguished persons in the postal service and in public life plan to ride on this inaugural trip.

Following this the public can inspect this new carrier of the mails. It will be the only time the public will be permitted to enter the Highway Post Office.

Hundreds of communities in all parts of the United States have been eager to obtain Highway Post Office service, but could not receive it because of limited public funds. For the 24 communities on this route the new service will advance mails in some instances as much as 24 hours. All classes of mail are transported on H.P.O.'s.

Columbus Postmaster Allen M. Rowe says concerning Highway Post Office service, "In my judgment the basic problem of the Post Office Department today is the speeding up of the movement of mail on short haul, and I believe that the Highway Post Office solves this problem.

"The public is invited by the Post Office Department to inspect the H.P.O. vehicle and to see how the mails are transported and worked enroute. The postmaster general is greatly interested in giving the public, and especially school age children, a chance to see and inspect the H.P.O. on the first trip—Saturday, Sept. 20, 7:25 a. m., at the post office in Hilliards.

Sept. 21 Youth Rally Day At Burgess EUB

Sunday, Sept. 21, has been designated as Youth Rally Day in the Burgess Ave. EUB Church for the Young People's Department. The special music, choir, ushering and assistance in the morning worship service will be cared for by the Youth Department.

An attendance campaign for both senior high and junior high, leading up to Dec. 14 will be fully launched and put in action.

A potluck banquet for all young people from 12 to 24 will be given at 5:30 in the basement of the church. Appropriate youth songs will be used about the tables and Rev. Howard Buckley of Ohio Ave. EUB Church will be guest speaker.

The evening service will be one continuous meeting, with a fitting religious film to be shown immediately following the fellowship hour. Adults will congregate for this particular part of the service with the young people in the basement of the church.

Jury Acquits Local Driver Of Drunk Charge

Dean A. Baker, 19, 2860 Fisher-rd, was acquitted Friday by a municipal court jury of driving while intoxicated last July 4 on the Hilltop. Baker, who had two previous court convictions, driving while drunk and driving after his license had been revoked, was previously sentenced to the workhouse and fined a total of $125.

His lawyer, J. R. McClurg, convinced the jury that in this instance Baker was free only 15 minutes of the day of his arrest and that it would have been impossible to get drunk in 15 minutes.

Old Fashioned Baptismal Service To Be Sunday

The Christian Film Drive-In Association is sponsoring along with other churches a free "Old Fashioned Baptismal Service" to be held Sunday afternoon, Sept. 21, at 3 o'clock, rain or shine.

All churches interested who have candidates to be baptized have been invited to come with their pastors.

The place chosen is Big Darby Creek, located on Route 40, about three miles east of West Jefferson, or about nine miles west of Columbus city limits. Turn in right at 5802 W. Broad-st.

Police Officer Files $15,000 Damage Suit

A Columbus policeman filed a $15,000 damage suit in common pleas court Friday against Martin Hughes, 434 Wendell-av, charging that Hughes went "berserk" on July 6 and kicked the officer in the face. Patrolman Harold Ashbaugh claims that Hughes kicked and smashed his nose after he had placed the man under arrest.

Court records show Hughes was fined $25 on assault and battery charges filed by Ashbaugh in a July 15 hearing.

The patrolman charges he was permanently injured when he went to subdue Hughes who, according to the patrolman and his partner, Patrolman Fred Whatley, 70 Hayden-av, "was in a drunken frenzy—entering houses, breaking furniture and assaulting people" in a two-block area around his home. The cruisermen reported they tried to calm him, but he resisted. After a lengthy battle, the officers thought they had knocked Hughes out.

He evidently regained consciousness while the patrolman was bending over to lift him to a stretcher. Hughes reportedly struck out with his feet, catching Ashbaugh across the nose and mouth.

Only Six Days Left—

Board Of Election Extends Hours To Permit Late Voter Registration

Headquarters of the Franklin County Board of Elections will be kept open at 214½ S. High-st from 8 a. m. until 9 p. m. daily with exception of Sunday for the next six days, according to information released earlier this week. The extended office hours are being kept in order to enable registration of all voters before the Sept. 24 deadline.

UA Quota For The West Side Is $17,500

With the kick-off of the United Appeals-Red Cross campaign only a few days hence, the organization of solicitors goes into high gear. Solicitor instruction meetings are being held in plants and industries. Other divisions are holding last minute instruction meetings for their workers.

Such meetings are scheduled in all sections of Columbus next week for the 3300 women volunteering their time to do the hardest work of the campaign—ringing doorbells.

The goal of the campaign is $2,387,530, of which the women are asked to raise $221,767 between Sept. 30 and Oct. 22. Mrs. W. B. Spende of the West Unit announces the quota for this area is $17,500.

Two meetings will be held for the women of the West Side. The first is at the new Westgate Shelter House, Westgate Park, 8 p. m. on Monday, Sept. 22. The second meeting will be held Tuesday, 8 p. m., at the Boys' Club, 115 S. Hague.

The campaign film "It All Depends On You," showing the agencies at work, is scheduled for both meetings. All women working on the campaign are urged to attend the instruction meeting.

Men and women, although not actually soliciting, are invited also to attend the meeting so they will better understand the need for the money to be raised in the campaign.

The six major agencies for which pledges will be solicited are Red Cross, the 67 agencies of the Community Chest, Heart Association, Cancer Society, United Cerebral Palsy and USO.

It was also revealed this week that there is yet to be registered in Franklin County more than 100,000 voters. These, it has been pointed out, have failed to register and if they do not register before Sept. 24 or on that date, they will lose their right to vote in the November elections.

Those who must register or transfer their registration include:

Women married since they last voted.

Persons who have moved from one precinct to another since their last vote.

People formerly residing outside Ohio or in other sections and those just becoming of age.

Election board officials said that all precinct polling places will remain open for registrations from 10 a. m. through 2 p. m. and 4 p. m. to 9 p. m. on the deadline day, Wednesday, Sept. 24.

Board of election officials also point out that a voter is still qualified if he voted in either the last general election or in the May primaries and has not moved from his precinct or has not changed his or her name.

In the meantime, the Hilltop Ballot Battalion composed of representatives from more than 30 Hilltop civic and service organizations this week was completing plans for the distribution of registration information throughout the complete area as well as to stage a huge parade throughout the Hilltop on Sept. 23 urging the registration of all voters.

Immediately following the campaign to have every eligible voter registered as of the deadline date of Sept. 24, the Ballot Battalion will launch another intensive campaign towards getting out the vote in the November elections.

Grace said that anyone who is a senior in high school or older is eligible to become a member of the organization which is anticipating a number of engagements this season if a large enough group can be formed.

Initial plans are for the calling of the first meeting some time in early October. Applicants are to call Grace at JO. 1907.

Youth For Church

The Church is the mother of Education, Morals and Democracy. Our democracy cannot continue if it is detached from the church. Only as it is attached to this creative institution, the church, can it survive in a world of pagan movements.

The Hilltop Kiwanis awakened to this need is sponsoring a "Youth For Church" movement in our community. This is not a Youth for Sunday School movement only but is a "Youth for Church" crusade. In the light of the facts that a very large percent of our young people do not attend a church regularly and many attend only Sunday School, by-passing the worship service, the Kiwanis Club wants to enroll every boy and girl in senior high school, in regular church attendance for the next 14 weeks.

Each student, who will attend the church of their choice at least 10 out of 14 worship services, will be given a certificate and a gold pin signifying their membership in the Kiwanis Youth For Church Campaign.

Rhodes Urges All Out War On Disease

Continued vigilance by Greater Columbus housewives and an increase in their ranks by those who thus far have failed to cooperate in the drive against polio and other communicable diseases was urged today by Mayor James A. [redacted].

"Figures in the city health department show a sharp reduction in the number of cases of communicable disease so far this year. There has to be a reason. Particularly is this so in the case of poliomyelitis, for which the pattern predicted an increase," the mayor explained.

"You won't get the doctors to say this reduction follows on the heels of our war against insects until it is absolutely proved. But we outside the profession certainly can see an indication. It's almost impossible to find a fly or mosquito in Columbus," the mayor boasted, "and our diseases fall off.

"That leads me to think that if we can eliminate the fly and the mosquito entirely, we'll cut down on the diseases. And I think we can do it if we can get everybody to work together."

Rhodes explained that [redacted] housewives are now wrapping their garbage in paper before disposing of it. Most everybody has a watertight garbage can and takes the precaution of seeing the lid is kept on tight. But there are a few who aren't cooperating, he added.

"If we can enroll these few in our program we'll soon have this thing licked," Rhodes predicted.

Columbus' main weapon against insects is its "fogging machines" of which it has three in operation this year. These machines spray a five per cent solution of DDT in kerosene in alleys, vacant lots and wherever insects are inclined to congregate.

The spraying is done on both a destructive and preventative basis. Such places as school yards, playgrounds, shelter houses, hospitals, hotels, swimming pools and parks are in one group and pecking houses, dumps, the zoo and neighborhoods where polio cases are known to exist, in another.

So far the three Columbus machines have sprayed more than 8,500 miles and used more than 11,000 gallons of insecticide.

Community Council Plans Special Events

The first fall meeting of the Hilltop Community Council was held last Wednesday night in the social room of the Glenwood Recreation Center.

Within the next few weeks the general chairman of special events will announce plans and appoint a committee for the annual Hilltop Halloween Party. The party is one of the four special events to take place during the year and is sponsored by the council with many Hilltop organizations acting as co-[redacted].

Designed for the purpose of entertaining the youth of this community and at the same time keep "Hallowe'eners" off the streets for their own safety and to cut down on property damage, this yearly affair has set an example in many other sections of Columbus.

Last year 4,000 attended the party held at West High School.

REPORT 14 ACCIDENTS

The Hilltop was the scene of 14 accidents the week of Sept. 14. Nine instances of property damage occurred and five persons received injuries in the cars. One juvenile and one adult pedestrian were also injured.

Lions And YMCA To Sponsor Fall Trips For Boys

The Hilltop YMCA this week announced fall trips for boys between the ages of 9 and 15 years, with the first of the trips scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 20, to Old Man's Cave; Ash Cave and the Rock House.

Co-sponsor of the trips, which will accommodate 100 boys, is the Hilltop Lions Club, which is financing the major portion of the [redacted].

The trips will be personally supervised by Rob Schmidt and Dick Wilson of the YMCA staff as well as members of the Hilltop Lions Club.

Inasmuch as there will be room for only 100 boys each trip, officials of the YMCA this week urged early registration at the Hilltop YMCA. A registration fee of 25 cents per boy per trip will be charged to supplement the total cost of the trips.

Taft Lashes Lausche At Local Meeting

Charles P. Taft, Republican gubernatorial candidate, and a large group of other Republican candidates were in evidence at the meeting of the Franklin Township Republican Club, Monday night, at Franklin-twp hall.

Taft in his address to the assemblage lashed the Lausche administration for its "do nothing attitude" in relation to Ohio highways, pointing out that the situation has become so deplorable that travelers try to avoid transportation over the present highways. He charged, too, that all or most of the highway funds are now being held in reserve for development of a turnpike in the northern section of the state while the balance "goes a-begging" for funds.

Other candidates on the Republican ticket at the meeting or represented were C. William O'Neill, Robert R. Shaw, John J. Chester, Jr., Samuel L. Devine, Kline L. Roberts, Lytle C. Ensor, Hugh R. Martin, Carl Treamer, Wayne Fogle, Henry A. Koontz, C. P. Lauderbaugh, Frank Kearns, Roy King, Homer George, Fred C. Berkheimer and Harry Metcalf.

E. O. Johnson, president of the Franklin Township Republican Club, said that an organizational meeting is scheduled for this Monday evening, Sept. 22, at the Franklin-twp Hall at 8 p. m. Primary purpose of this meeting is to organize all precinct workers. Johnson urged that all Republicans and members of the club be present in order that field work may get under way as soon as possible.

Hit-Skip Driver Arrested After Three Mile Chase

Sgt. Dwight D. Derr, 713 Racine-av, a member of the Grandview police force, arrested a youthful hit-skip driver suspect and his father, Sunday, after a three-mile chase through the Hilltops.

Sgt. Derr said he had just "marked off" duty and was driving home when he saw a motorist make a wild left-hand turn south into Eureka-av off Valleyview-dr. He gave chase and before he overtook his quarry, he said, the driver struck several cars on both sides of Wayne-av, between Glenview-blvd and Broad-st.

Derr halted the car at Valleyview-dr and Eureka-av and held Everett Dillon, 43, and his son, Richard, 18, Irwin, O., until cruisermen arrived. The boy was charged with failure to stop after an accident and having no operator's license. His father was cited for drunkenness.

Legion-Arrow Cycle Races To Be Sept. 28

Rain and a wet track forced postponement of the Legion-Arrow Motorcycle Races at the Ohio State Fairgrounds last Sunday, until Sunday, Sept. 28.

The majority of the 34 expert riders, 31 amateurs and 60 novices will return again on that date to vie for the $2,200 in prizes and trophies.

Sponsors of the race, the Camp Chase Post 96 of American Legion and Golden-Arrow Motorcycle Club Inc., said that the heavy rains of Sunday had made the track too dangerous for riders and spectators alike. It was the first time in four years that the races had to be called because of inclement weather.

BURROUGHS PTA TO START MEMBERSHIPS

The annual membership drive of the John Burroughs PTA opens the week of Sept. 22 with Mrs. Horton Ryan and Mrs. Edward J. Reilly acting as chairmen of membership and room mothers respectively.

The kickoff event will be a room mothers' tea, Tuesday, Sept. 23, 1:30 to 3 p. m.

Car Crashes Into Residence On Trabue-rd

Alta Ranndberger, 3363 Trabue-rd, ruefully looks at the damage caused to her home Saturday morning when a car driven by Charles Landers, 147 N. Ogden-av, crashed into it. The homeowner was in her living room looking out the window when she saw the car come charging into her porch. She said that usually she was sitting in the swing on the porch at that time of day but had just reentered the house. Sheriff's Deputies Harry Perkins and Dean Thomas who investigated the accident, said that the Landers' car was proceeding east on Trabue-rd when it was in collision with an Upper Arlington city truck at the intersection of Trabue and Dub ln. According to the officers the Landers car made a complete circle of the truck before crashing into the house. Upper Arlington Emergency Squadmen transported Landers' wife, Lillian, to the hospital from the accident scene.

New Highway Post Office Makes Hilliards Initial Stop

The Toledo and Columbus Highway Post Office will make its inaugural trip Saturday, Sept. 20. Its first stop will be at Hilliards at 7:25 a. m. It will leave at 7:40 a. m.

A brief public ceremony will mark the arrival of this new mail service to Hilliards. Assistant Postmaster General John M. Redding of Washington, D. C., and other distinguished persons in the postal service and in public life plan to ride on this inaugural trip.

Following this the public can inspect this new carrier of the mails. It will be the only time the public will be permitted to enter the Highway Post Office.

Hundreds of communities in all parts of the United States have been eager to obtain Highway Post Office service, but could not receive it because of limited public funds. For the 24 communities on this route the new service will advance mails in some instances as much as 24 hours. All classes of mail are transported on H.P.O.'s.

Columbus Postmaster Allen M. Rowe says concerning Highway Post Office service, "In my judgment the basic problem of the Post Office Department today is the speeding up of the movement of mail on short haul, and I believe that the Highway Post Office solves this problem.

The public is invited by the Post Office Department to inspect the H.P.O. vehicle and to see how the mails are transported and worked enroute. The postmaster general is greatly interested in giving the public, and especially school age children, a chance to see and inspect the H.P.O. on the first trip—Saturday, Sept. 20, 7:25 a. m., at the post office in Hilliards.

Sept. 21 Youth Rally Day At Burgess EUB

Sunday, Sept. 21, has been designated as Youth Rally Day in the Burgess Ave. EUB Church for the Young People's Department. The special music, choir, ushering and assistance in the morning worship service will be cared for by the Youth Department.

Mrs. Robert Trott, the newly elected youth director, will assist in the service with a youth choir and pastor, Rev. L. H. Lane will deliver the youth sermon of the morning.

An attendance campaign for both senior high and junior high, leading up to Dec. 14 will be fully launched and put in action.

A potluck banquet for all young people from 12 to 24 will be given at 5:30 in the basement of the church. Appropriate youth songs will be used about the tables and Rev. Howard Buckley of Ohio Ave. EUB Church will be guest speaker.

The evening service will be one continuous meeting, with a fitting religious film to be shown immediately following the fellowship hour. Adults will congregate for this particular part of the service with the young people in the basement of the church.

Jury Acquits Local Driver Of Drunk Charge

Dean A. Baker, 19, 2860 Fisher-rd, was acquitted Friday by a municipal court jury of driving while intoxicated last July 4 on the Hilltop. Baker, who had two previous court convictions, driving while drunk and driving after his license had been revoked, was previously sentenced to the workhouse and fined a total of $125.

His lawyer, J. R. McClurg, convinced the jury that in this instance Baker was free only 15 minutes of the day of his arrest and that it would have been impossible to get drunk in 15 minutes.

Old Fashioned Baptismal Service To Be Sunday

The Christian Film Drive-In Association is sponsoring along with other churches a free "Old Fashioned Baptismal Service" to be held Sunday afternoon, Sept. 21, at 3 o'clock, rain or shine.

All churches interested who have candidates to be baptized have been invited to come with their pastors.

The place chosen is Big Darby Creek, located on Route 40, about three miles east of West Jefferson, or about nine miles west of Columbus city limits. Turn in right at 5302 W. Broad-st.

Police Officer Files $15,000 Damage Suit

A Columbus policeman filed a $15,000 damage suit in common pleas court Friday against Martin Hughes, 434 Wendell-av, charging that Hughes went "berserk" on July 6 and kicked the officer in the face. Patrolman Harold Ashbaugh claims that Hughes kicked and smashed his nose after he had placed the man under arrest.

Court records show Hughes was fined $25 on assault and battery charges filed by Ashbaugh in a July 15 hearing.

The patrolman charges he was permanently injured when he went to subdue Hughes who, according to the patrolman and his partner, Patrolman Fred Whatley, 70 Hayden-av, "was in a drunken frenzy—entering houses, breaking furniture and assaulting people" in a two-block area around his home. The cruiserman reported they tried to calm him, but he resisted. After a lengthy battle, the officers thought they had knocked Hughes out.

He evidently regained consciousness while the patrolman was bending over to lift him to a stretcher. Hughes reportedly struck out with his feet, catching Ashbaugh across the nose and mouth.

Whittaker Revue To Be At State School

A fifteen act variety show under the direction of the veteran blind showman Lawrence Whittaker, will provide the entertainment at the Columbus State School this Sunday, Sept. 21, beginning at 2 p. m.

Whittaker said this week that this will be the initial show of the season and that more acts will be added during the fall.

Only Six Days Left—

Board Of Election Extends Hours To Permit Late Voter Registration

Headquarters of the Franklin County Board of Elections will be kept open at 214½ S. High-st from 8 a. m. until 9 p. m. daily with exception of Sunday for the next six days, according to information released earlier this week. The extended office hours are being kept in order to enable registration of all voters before the Sept. 24 deadline.

UA Quota For The West Side Is $17,500

With the kick-off of the United Appeals-Red Cross campaign only a few days hence, the organization of solicitors goes into high gear. Soliciter instruction meetings are being held in plants and industries. Other divisions are holding last minute instruction meetings for their workers.

Such meetings are scheduled in all sections of Columbus next week for the 3300 women volunteering their time to do the hardest work of the campaign—ringing doorbells.

The goal of the campaign is $2,387,520, of which the women are asked to raise $221,767 between Sept. 30 and Oct. 22. Mrs. W. B. Spence of the West Unit announces the quota for this area is $17,500.

Two meetings will be held for the women of the West Side. The first is at the new Westgate Shelter House, Westgate Park, 8 p. m. on Monday, Sept. 22. The second meeting will be held Tuesday, 8 p. m., at the Boys' Club, 115 S. Gift-st.

The campaign film "It All Depends On You," showing the agencies at work, is scheduled for both meetings. All women working on the campaign are urged to attend the instruction meeting.

Men and women, although not actually soliciting, are invited also to attend the meeting so they will better understand the need for the money to be raised in the campaign.

The six major agencies for which pledges will be solicited are Red Cross, the 67 agencies of the Community Chest, Heart Association, Cancer Society, United Cerebral Palsy and USO.

Local De Molay Will Install Officers Sept. 20

On Saturday night, Sept. 20, 8 o'clock, the Columbus Chapter, Order of DeMolays, will hold its 99th public installation at the hall, 10 S. Burgess-av. William Stump will be installed as master councilor; Jay Swisher, councilor; Donald Hooper, junior councilor; David Cox, senior deacon; Jack Conrad, junior deacon; Charles Strickler, senior steward; Gary Grube, junior steward; William Stewart, chaplain; Stanley Nippert, marshal; Harold Charles, almoner; Neil Webb, standard bearer, and Bill Rayburn, orator.

Preceptors are Ted Collmer, Richard Benedict, Geyndon Davis, Terry Hitt, Scott Pence, Tim Cooley, Bob Brownlee, and Bob Thomas, sentinel; Jim Dietsch, treasurer; Dave Gurley, district representative and James Paul, scribe.

It was also revealed this week that there is yet to be registered in Franklin County more than 100,000 voters. These, it has been pointed out, have failed to register and if they do not register before Sept. 24 or on that date, they will lose their right to vote in the November elections.

Those who must register or transfer their registration include:

Women married since they last voted.

Persons who have moved from one precinct to another since their last vote.

People formerly residing outside Ohio or in other sections and [redacted] just becoming of age.

Election board officials said that all precinct polling places will remain open for registrations from 10 a. m. through 2 p. m. and 4 p. m. to 9 p. m. on the deadline day, Wednesday, Sept. 24.

Board of election officials also point out that a voter is still qualified if he voted in either the last general election or in the May primaries and has not moved from his precinct or has not changed [redacted] her name.

In the meantime, the Hilltop [redacted] lot Battalion composed of representatives from more than 30 Hilltop civic and service organizations this week was completing plans for the distribution of registration information throughout the complete area as well as to stage a huge parade throughout the Hilltop on Sept. 23 urging the registration of all voters.

Immediately following the campaign to have every eligible voter registered as of the deadline date of Sept. 24, the Ballot Battalion will launch another intensive campaign towards getting out the vote in the November elections.

Hilltop Men's Chorus Seeking More New Voices

William Grace, 271 N. Burgess-av, president of the Hilltop Men's Chorus announced this week plans for the re-forming of the popular singing organization and stressed the need for more voices.

Grace said that anyone who is a senior in high school or older is eligible to become a member of the organization which is anticipating a number of engagements this season if a large enough group can be formed.

Initial plans are for the calling of the first meeting some time in early October. Applicants are to call Grace at JO. 1307.

Virginia Benton Gets Advisory TB Post

Mrs. Virginia Benton, 141 S. Burgess-av, public relations director of the Columbus TB Society, has been appointed chairman to the public relations advisory committee to the Ohio Conference of Tuberculosis Workers. The department works in an advisory capacity to the public relations office of the state which works with the 88 county organizations throughout Ohio.

Students Of Other Countries Attend Local Schools

There are 32 pupils enrolled at West Broad Street Elementary who attended school outside the state of Ohio last winter. Among them are the four above who were students in other countries. Michael Perez, left, points to Mexico City where he went to school last year, while his sister, Maria, points to Columbus. Denis Cramer, third from the left, lived in Bagdad, Iraq, last year, where his father, Warren Cramer, worked for the United States Information Service. Peter Tillers, right, is from Latvia. He came to the U.S. from a German displaced persons camp. His father, a surgeon in Latvia, was killed in World War II.

Youth For Church

The Church is the mother of Education, Morals and Democracy. Our democracy cannot continue if it is detached from the church. Only as it is attached to this creative institution, the church, can it survive in a world of pagan movements.

The Hilltop Kiwanis awakened to this need is sponsoring a "Youth For Church" movement in our community. This is not a Youth for Sunday School movement only but is a "Youth for Church" crusade. In the light of the facts that a very large percent of our young people do not attend a church regularly and many attend only Sunday School, by-passing the worship service, the Kiwanis Club wants to enroll every boy and girl in senior high school, in regular church attendance for the next 14 weeks.

Each student, who will attend the church of their choice at least 10 out of 14 worship services, will be given a certificate and a gold pin signifying their membership in the Kiwanis Youth For Church Campaign.

Support of Church Committee, Hilltop Kiwanis

Highland-av School News

Due to the extra large kindergarten enrollment at Highland Avenue School it has become necessary to form a third kindergarten class. Mrs. Williamson will have her regular morning and afternoon sessions while Mrs. Miller, who has been added to the staff at Highland, will have a morning session of kindergarten.

The annual garden exhibit by members of the Garden Club at Highland was held Sept. 11 and 12. The exhibit consisted of several plants of different types of vegetables as well as flowers of every description.

Mrs. Cora Hardman, a teacher at Highland, is the Garden Club sponsor.

Church Grade School Opens

Twenty-nine children enrolled Thursday, Sept. 4, in the Eastwood Seventh-day Adventist Church Grade School at Union and Ryan-av. The school has been in operation here for more than 50 years and is maintained wholly by the local congregation. It is one in a chain of 4,438 schools operated by the Seventh-day Adventist denomination around the world.

Clarence U. Dumbebin is the new teacher assigned to the school this year. He will teach the 15 children enrolled in the junior high grades. Dumbebin just graduated from the Washington Missionary College, Washington, D. C., one of the denomination's colleges for the eastern section of the United States. Mrs. Charles Baker will teach the 14 children in grades one through six.

The first of a series of improvements at the school was begun two weeks ago under the direction of Rev. Richard T. Minesinger. Both the boys' and girls' rest rooms will receive some improvements. The walls of the rooms are to be constructed of four inch cement block with glass block for light.

The first issue of a new school paper written by the students was published last week. It will be typed, mimeographed and sent out every Friday. The price will be 50c a year. Ralph Geiger, an eighth grade student, is the editor. Margaret Eastman is the financial secretary.

Your quarter a week to the United Appeals Drive will pay for nine meals and lodgings for transients at the Salvation Army.

Twins, And More Twins Swell School Enrollments

Four sets of twins attend the new Prairie Township school. Seated on the front steps of the school are, left to right, back row, Joyce Anne and Carol Ackley, eight years old, of Galloway; James and John Wessler, New Rome, 10 years old; front, Edna and Gail Kerrdell, New Rome, eight years old; Ruth Ann and Mary Margaret Chernick, New Rome, eight years old.

West Broad Elementary School boasts four sets of twins attending classes this year. ON GROWING OLD

Let summer last, that I may fill
My heart with green at every hill.
And through September let me hold
The burning beauty of her gold.
But when she passes, should the sere
And stricken bough prove winter near,
Then let me walk in ways serene,
Not envious of gold and green.

Here is a suggestion for the many friends of Mrs. Fred Adair, 39 Whitethorne-av. She is confined to her bed now, and about the only things she can do are listen to the radio and talk with her friends by phone. She has an extension beside her bed, so why not give her a call? (Randolph 0652) She has done a lot of things for a lot of people; now it's our turn. She told me about her four-year-old grandson, Johnny Ray Peonisch, who recently came from Miami, Florida. The day after he arrived he called his dad and said, "Look, Daddy, I've found a new bug!" It was a baby squirrel. And Johnny Ray doesn't call it "Miami," it's "Usami" to him.

Even with food prices like they are, sometimes you get a laugh when you order groceries—especially if you order them from Ray Beck of Broad-Warren Market. Like Jack Spratt and his missus on that meat deal, my better 9/10 and I can't agree on bread, so Mr. Beck sends both kinds—elaborately labeled "His'n" and "Her'n."

Over at WVKO there is a d-j and announcer with the impressive official or income-tax-paying name of James Edward Saunders, but who is known to his many fans in central Ohio as "Eddie." Mr. Saunders has been with WVKO since its opening in November, 1948. He conducts two daily record programs (6 to 7 a.m. and 4:05 to 5:15 p.m.) and has a program each Sunday morning from 7:30 to 11, which he calls "Sermon in Songs." Before going to WVKO he was heard over WCOL and WRFD. He also sang in church choirs and quartets. He and Mrs. Saunders live at 1449½ N. Sixth-st.

Mr. Saunders has won several citations for his outstanding work in the National and International Urban League, and won the Color Magazine award, No. 1 of twenty-four negro d-j's of the United States. He makes many personal appearances at hospitals and church services; is a sincere and tireless worker in behalf of shutins and anyone who is in trouble and needs his help.

From Don Alban's "Don's Den" in September "The Grapevine": Life is really empty when "sorts" are the things you're out of. You have to be on the sunny side before you can put trouble in the shade. (Like they say in most organization "organs." Good going, Don!)

Mail — From my dirt-farmer friend out Thornville-way: "Can you believe it is September already? I can't. Yet now and then I see a maple tree that is starting to color. I still have happy days ahead. You know me — always snooping around gullies and creek beds and hilltops and woods, hunting for stars" . . . From a man who has lived in a wheelchair most of his life: "Cheer up, things could be worse but they ain't!" . . . From a friend, from whose letter an excerpt was printed here: "If Ida knowed you was gonna use part of my letter Ida used good langridge like I'm usin now."

A shutin I know sends for all the travel folders and brochures published by each state. She travels many miles without leaving her bed. Which reminds me of the mail order catalogs that were called "wishin' books." Are they still printed?

Cowboys Win Toughie From Marion

Ron Grant, Cowboy halfback, is pictured above as he cracked through the Marion line for a touchdown on the next play after he had intercepted a President pass and raced to the two yard marker. This was West's second score of the game and knotted the count at 13-13. (Record Photo)

Early in the first quarter of the game the Cowboys were effectively corralled as can be seen by the above photo when the Marion-Harding line was smothering all attempts of the Cowboy backs to get underway. Grant, the ball carrier, is pictured here surrounded by a host of whitefaced Presidents as he started a reverse play. (Record Photo)

By Woody Owen

The West High School football team opened its regular 1952 schedule last Friday night at Marion against Harding of that city and returned home with hard earned 20-18 victory, but only after being out-played most of the contest, and being forced to come from behind twice to tie the score and then counting the winning touchdown mid-way in the final quarter on a brilliant 20 yard jaunt around end by quarterback Dick Orr.

Harding received the opening kickoff on their own 25-yard-line and with Brady, McKinstry and Chapman ripping through huge holes in the local defenses they marched 75 yards in seven plays to score with Chapman going the final 10 yards on an end sweep. Brady's try for the point after was wide.

The Cowboys took the ensuing kickoff on their own 25-yard line and marched to Harding's 17 where Brady's recovery of a fumble stopped the drive. The home team failed to advance and punted to Vincent who returned to the Presidents' 39-yard-line. Orr passed to Trabue for 13, Cole and Haire smashed the line for another first down, on the 15-yard line, as the first quarter ended.

The Presidents held the Cowboys to a net loss of two yards on three running plays and Trabue punted out of danger. Neither team was able to gain consistently and the contest developed into a punting duel between Chapman of Marion and Trabue of the Cowboys, with the latter having a decided edge. Harding finally managed to march from their own 44 to the Cowboys' 23 where a recovery of a fumble by Kimball stopped the drive.

The locals then put on a sustained march with Grant and Cole spearheading the attack, together with a 15-yard roughness penalty against the Presidents thrown in. They were on the home team's 38 yard line, with only one minute remaining in the first half. Three successive passes by Orr went astray, but on the fourth attempt he tossed a long one to Ron Grant who made a brilliant catch between two defenders on the five-yard line and drove into the end zone with a tackler hanging on, to tie the score.

Ongaro's attempt for the point after was partially blocked and went wide, as the first half ended.

The Cowboys received the kickoff as the second half began but failed to advance. Trabue then punted 45 yards where it was downed on the Marion 27-yard line. The Presidents then put on the finest march of the night as Chapman gained 17; McKinstry, five and 20; Brady, 10 and 17. Brady plunged the final four yards to score and added the point after by placement to put the home team in front by a score of 13-6. This march covered 76 yards in six plays.

Failing to gain after running the next kickoff, Trabue then punted 50 yards, where Brady was downed on his own 30. McKinstry plunged twice for a first down but the home team was again set back by a 15-yard penalty. Ron Grant then intercepted a Chapman pass on the 35 and returned to the Presidents' 18, where he was forced out of bounds.

Dick Orr, running from the tail back in a short punt, then circled his own left end and fought his way to the one yard line where he was forced out of bounds.

Grant then plunged for the score. Ongaro tied the score with a perfect placement.

The final period began with the Cowboys receiving a punt on their own 26 after the Presidents had failed to gain. After three running plays failed to advance and fourth down was coming up the Presidents were assessed their fourth 15-yard penalty, this time for unnecessary roughness, giving the Cowboys a first down on their own 41. This seemed to be the turning point of the contest as Grant, Haire and Orr blasted the line and swept the ends to the home eleven's 31. Orr then passed to Trabue complete on the 15. Orr again ran from the short punt and circled his own right end and with a brilliant individual effort went over to score. Cole plunged for the point after. These points proved to be the margin of victory, although the Cowboys were well on their way to another score as the game ended, having a first down on the Marion 20-yard line.

The offensive play of McKinstry, Brady and Chapman stood out for Harding, with the offensive and defensive play of Jerry Trabue and Ron Grant standing out for the Cowboys with the former also getting off several long booming punts and kickoffs.

Diminutive Dick Orr also turned in a brilliant offensive game from his signal calling post.

The greatly heralded Cowboy defensive unit looked woefully weak at times and will have to improve greatly if they hope to hold their own in city league competition this season.

This Friday night at 8 o'clock the Cowboys will officially open their home schedule with Dale Rose's Golden Bears of Upper Arlington as the opposition. The Bears upset South by a 19-13 count last Friday and this contest may indicate the comparative strengthwet the Cowboys and the Blue and Gray who meet in the city league opener next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Magaw, 91 N. Hague-av, will return home some time in October from a vacation in California. They plan to visit many interesting places, also visit with relatives and friends in Los Angeles, San Madre, Ontario and San Diego.

Roberta Smith, 236 S. Roys-av, was operated on Tuesday for appendicitis. She is in room 415, Mt. Carmel Hospital.

A rummage sale will be held at 901 Mt. Vernon-av, Saturday, Sept. 20, 8 a. m. by Trudeau Guild No. 14 of Benjamin Franklin Hospital.

Correction

The Hilltop Ministerial Association makes this correction of the article as appeared in last week's Hilltop Record; namely that the Kiwanis Club is sponsoring an attendance campaign for senior high school students for Church only, and not in the Sunday School. The Ministerium is backing the worthy and much needed project.

CARE OF TROPICAL FISH

Many people have become tropical fish hobbyists during the summer months. BE SURE THAT YOUR TROPICAL FISH ARE WARM. The great majority of fishes that are kept as pets are tropical and cannot be kept in temperatures less than 72 degrees F.

To be healthy they must be kept in temperatures ranging from 74 to 76 degrees and must be protected from sudden temperature changes, especially from chilling. Unless they are kept in rooms with constant high temperatures, there is only one practical way to keep them heated properly, and that is by means of an electric thermostatically controlled heater. The heating element is simply an electric heating coil in a waterproof jacket.

The control is a thermostat that should be adjustable and sensitive to within a couple of degrees. Some aquarium heaters are built as a single unit, but the most satisfactory type has the thermostat separate from the heating element. The thermostatic control and heater should be located in the tank, but some distance apart, so that it will not cut off the electric current before the whole tank is properly heated. Mr. Trabert cannot emphasize too strongly the necessity of heat control at this particular time of year due to the warm days and cool nights.

Trabert's Aquarium at 2341 W. Broad St., is the place to go for bona fide information regarding your finny pets. Care should be taken not to use a heater that is too small for the size tank it must heat; otherwise a burned out heater and dead fish may result.

It is possible to employ several heating elements in different tanks with a single thermostat. The various tanks should be fairly close together so that they are all subject to the same external temperatures. The thermostat should be kept in the smallest tank, since the greatest temperature fluctuations tend to occur in the smallest body of water.

For more detailed information on this timely subject, stop at Trabert's Aquarium, 2341 W. Broad St., and get some professional and technical information for more healthy fish. —Adv.

About The Hilltop

There is always something new and interesting going on. This being National Home Week, we have a rare opportunity to view the building industry's newest creations, at the million-dollar Parade of Homes . . . Seven come eleven, how lucky can you be? Three days before the Atomic Energy Commission announced its site at Waverly, George Painter, grocer, closed a deal on a 53-acre tract at bargain prices.

We're happy to report that Carl Koch, who has been ill in the hospital, is home now, and on the mend. The Lou Winklers recently returned from a visit with their daughter, Marjorie, and her family, the R. S. Hyers, of Rahway, N. J. While there they bade their son, Bob, bon voyage, before leaving for overseas duty . . . Saturday a week ago Ernest Bailey and Maude Andersen were united in holy wedlock in a quiet ceremony at the home of the retired Rev. Hill . . . George and Janet Patterson and their three children of Dallas, Tex., are planning to make their future home on the Hilltop . . . The Dan Collins' daughter, Suzanne, is vacationing at Daytona Beach, Fla . . . Did you recognize the Fuller Brush man? He is Chuck Ridgway, OSU student, better known as "Jack".

It's back to school for Mrs. Merle Weaver (Elsie) and her small son, Craig. While Mama teaches the fifth grade at the Grove City school, Craig attends the first . . . Mrs. Florence Neagle is this year's promotion secretary of the WSCS of Broad Street Methodist Church and Mrs. C. R. Kimes is treasurer . . . Wilma Brannon is a summer graduate of Western Reserve University, Cleveland . . . Members of the Welcome Wagon, Inc., will soon be knocking on the doors of our new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Creighton of Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. George Van Deer of Wisconsin.

Mrs. J. Loel Lamb is the new general chairman of the Trudeau Guilds of Benjamin Franklin Hospital . . . Last week Lt. Col. William Bright of the 37th division was up from Camp Polk, La., attending the two-day convention of the Ohio National Guard convention . . . Sgt. Richard DeRubertis is attending the adjutant general school at Ft. Benjamin Harrison . . . New recruits at the Naval Reserve Training Station are Robert Montenaro, Peter Taylor and William J. Schwarz . . . C. L. Campbell, representative of the William S. Merrell Co., attended a three-day sales and seminar and conference in Cincinnati . . . The Bob Goeses and their brand new daughter (Debra) will soon be saying goodbye to their friends. They will move to Indianapolis, where Bob is associated with the A. C. Sparkplug Co.

Bible Comment

Jesus, the Superior High Priest, Offers Himself for All

THE writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews has a deep sense of the spiritual heritage of Israel. "God," he writes, "at sundry times and in divers manners spake in times past unto the fathers by the prophets." He is convinced of God's promise, and of His covenant with the people.

But his faith and outlook as an earnest Israelite is dominated by the conviction that God has spoken "in these last days" through his Son, Jesus Christ, "the brightest of His glory," and the "express image of His person."

Holding, thus strongly, a belief in the divinity of Jesus, what is remarkable about his Epistle is the clarity with which he presents the fact of Christ's humanity.

With all the greatness of the past religion of Israel, it is the writer's contention that there was something incomplete, and a promise unfulfilled. Saints and prophets "obtained a good report through faith, but have received not the promise: God having provided some better thing for us that they without us should not be made perfect."

It seems evident that the Epistle was addressed to Jewish Christians, subject to persecution. To the charge that they were untrue to the religion of their fathers, the writer asserts the realities of the new covenant, and nature and mission of Christ as the minister of better things.

The key passage is in the second chapter. Though greater than the angels, the Son of God made Himself lower than the angels, taking upon Himself human nature, and being made "like unto His brethren that He might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to [illegible] for the sins of the people."

But what of priesthood and sacrifice in the Jewish religion? The writer's answer is that Jesus is "a superior high priest, inasmuch as He has offered Himself a sacrifice, once for all."

How much of religious faith and practice of today is in the realm of unfulfilled promise, awaiting the supreme experience of Christ Himself as the Minister of better things?

"YOU MUST RUN OUT THERE, BILL, I'M TOO BROKEN UP TO DO IT!"

Often it's a friend of the family, sometimes a total stranger, who must choose the burial space. In either case, he can only guess, select hurriedly and hope for the best. Think! The family's most personal, permanent possession — left for choosing by an outsider!

Decide today to drive out to Sunset Cemetery and compare our prices and service with any other cemetery, and then decide to buy your burial estate now.

Let your heart spill over — give generously to the United Appeals Drive.

One thousand years ago in Europe, men began the building of the great cathedrals that are known today all over the world.

All were different—except for one thing. The builders of the cathedrals erected them so that always the morning light of the East would stream through the great panes of stained glass at the front of the church.

In front of everyone for the morning service would shine the new light of the morning.

And the weary traveler who had lost his sense of direction had only to visit the church or cathedral of any town.

Always—to the left of the altar and the glorious light that flooded through the windows behind it—lay the direction of North. . . .

Today, a compass furnishes a ready reference for anyone who must know the direction of North. But as in the days of the cathedrals, churches still point out the true direction a man must follow if he is to attain the help and comfort of Him for whom the cathedrals were built.

In our modern age, when our sense of direction is often confused by the problems and doubts of the times, the church still stands ready to mark the path.

Today's churches are not always built to catch the morning sun and point the way to North. . . .

But in every church, the spire or steeple still points upward to God.

In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He will direct thy paths. Proverbs 3:6.

So Sorry
By Pat Martindale

A mistake in last week's Hilltop Record and West Side News proved one good thing—although it is a community paper it really gets around.

In a feature concerning the recruitment drive for new Volunteer Services members a picture of Mary Van Valkenburg entertaining students of the Columbus State School was used, as was a statement that she was a member of the Bible Meditation League. It so happens that Falkenburgs are affiliated with the Bible League although they do not live on the Hilltop or West Side nor is the League located in this community but the Falkenburgs do have a daughter, Mary, who was a Hilltopper. After seeing the feature through a friend the Falkenburgs spotted the mistake and asked that it be explained.

In tracing the mistake it was found that due to the similarity of the names someone must have connected Mary Van Valkenburgh with Mary Falkenburg of the Meditation Bible League and labeled the picture before it reached the newspaper.

Needless to say the Record is sorry for the mistake but is happy that it gets around and that so many people read the paper closely enough to spot mistakes.

The Bible Meditation League has in no way been connected with the Columbus State School nor has Mary Van Valkenburgh been affiliated with the Bible League.

South Perry School Fair Is Scheduled

Saturday, Sept. 20, the 24th annual South Perry School Fair will again be held on the grounds of the school at 1823 Fishinger-rd. Warren Armstrong, 3160 Riverside-dr, this year's fair chairman, promises food and fun for everyone, beginning at 3 p. m. and lasting until 11.

From 5 until 8 p. m. a cafeteria-style supper will be served in the school lunchroom. A variety of delicious home-cooked food will be available.

Si Lakin, 3895 Fairlington-dr, will again have charge of the auction. A great variety of valuable merchandise items will be put on the block. A special feature will be a registered dachshund pup which will be raffled off.

Square dancing to the music of one of the popular local orchestras will begin at 8 p. m.

Beginning in the afternoon and continuing through the evening will be a variety of carnival rides, games of chance, pony rides and a fish pond.

The fair is sponsored by the South Perry Parent-Teachers Organization. Proceeds of last year's fair were used to completely modernize the school cafeteria and to provide a six weeks' recreational program for the children. Last year's fair broke all records for attendance, and it is expected this year's will be even larger, due to the large increase in population in the township.

HCC Schedules Hallowe'en Party Oct. 31

Mrs. Dorothy Thompson, 230 N. Oakley-av, chairman for special events for the Hilltop Community Council, has announced that the annual Hallowe'en party will be held at West High School on Friday, Oct. 31, and that West will move its football game, which was schedule for Oct. 31, back to Thursday, Oct. 30. This will give Hilltoppers who attend the games an opportunity to also attend the party.

This year added supervision, added attractions and many new committees will be available for the party. Mrs. Thompson will call the first meeting of the general committee next week to outline and start arrangements on the party.

The theme "Barrels of Fun, No Damage Done" is again to be carried out on the Hilltop for the seventh year by the council.

Religious TV Program To Begin Sunday

Television Station WLW-C will present a new religious program, "Faith in Our Time," beginning next Sunday, Sept. 28, 2 p. m.

Outstanding Christian laymen and ministers will appear on the panel-type program and they will discuss themes that are of a religious and moral nature. The program will appear weekly at the 2 p. m. hour.

Next Sunday Dr. J. Gordon Howard, of Otterbein College, Westerville, will be the guest. Others who will appear on the program and interview Dr. Howard are Rev. Norman Schreiber, pastor of Westgate Methodist Church, Rev. Harold J. Braden, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Washington CH. Topic: "The Revised Standard Version of the Bible."

Rev. Clyde C. Pennell, pastor of Hilliards Methodist Church, will serve each week on the TV series as coordinator and moderator of the panel. Rev. Pennell presents the "Watchman" program over Station WCOL at 9:45 p. m. each Sunday.

Dr. Roy Burkhart, pastor of First Community Church, Upper Arlington, will appear on the Oct. 5 program. The topic: "A World Ministry."

West Hi Boosters To Elect Officers

The West High School Booster Club will meet Monday, Sept. 29 in Room 101 at West High School at 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of election of new officers for this year.

Current president, Jack Sensenbrenner, urges all Boosters and potential members to be present at this important meeting.

Birch, The Master Magician Will Give Performance Here Oct. 13

...h, the Master Magician, will invade the Hilltop area on Oct. 13 with his thrill-packed show of magical feats which have astounded thousands. He comes to the Hilltop on Oct. 13 under the auspices of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and will give a matinee performance for school children only and an evening performance at West High School auditorium.

Local Kiwanians expressed the hope this week that there might be two matinees inasmuch as all the profit that accrues to the Kiwanis Club will be given to West High School for the purchase of new band uniforms. If a second performance becomes necessary the profits from that show will be used for purchase of a new public address system at West High.

Included in the Birch performance are such bewildering illusions as the Vanishing Pony, in which a beautiful Shetland is caused to vanish while suspended in mid-air; the Challenge Packing Box escape from a strong box constructed by a local lumber company; the Beautiful Silk Mirage where yards and yards of gorgeous rainbow silks appear from nowhere; the Canary and the Mands lamp, in which a live canary is shot into a burning light bulb; and fifty other amazing illusions.

A huge truck transports the 30 trunks and crates of equipment and scenery, making the Birch production the largest magical show on tour in the United States today. Birch is playing to capacity audiences in every city—and the reason? It is not a "talkie," and not a radio presentation, but Birch in person, presenting a most interesting evening of humor and mystery.

Local Women Are Label Day Captains

A noon day luncheon will be furnished by local business firms.

Civic Leaders Rate United Appeals Best

A United Appeal is a Good Deal. That, in brief, is the opinion of church, professional and business leaders in Columbus and Franklin County.

Some of the prominent Hilltop residents who have taken the time to express their views concerning the drive are E. W. Lauer, 79 S. Sylvan-av; Rev. O. G. McClure, pastor of Hilltop Church of God, and Ralph H. Anderson, president of W. E. Anderson Sons Co., 580 Harmon-av.

Mr. Lauer remarked "It is to be regretted that certain individuals and organized rackets work on our sympathy to enrich themselves. The average executive does not have the time nor the facilities to screen the needy from the undeserving.

"The United Appeal is the economical, safe and sensible method of collecting and distributing our gifts to the less fortunate."

Rev. McClure said, "I think the United Appeals exemplifies democracy in action. It is an ideal method through which local, private and human welfare needs may be met. The effort should receive every citizen's full and adequate moral, physical and financial support."

Mr. Anderson had this to say about the drive: "The overwhelming success of last year's United Appeals campaign has certainly convinced me that it is an ideal method through which local private human welfare needs can be met.

"As a business man United Appeals, to my way of thinking, is much preferred as against the many individual appeals by organizations during the year.

"The United Appeals campaign as I see it is the best method yet devised to finance social welfare programs."

Hilltop Kiwanians Plan Gala Party To Observe National Kids Day

BOY THAT'S A MAN-SIZE HOT DOG . . . Such seems to be the opinion of Harold Fox, kneeling, as he looks at the over-size hot dog held by Dick Martin of the R. Wilke Meat Co. Standing at the left is H. E. Schmidt, Jr., of Nesbitt Bottling Co., and at the right is R. E. Benedict of Fairmont Foods Co. The Nesbitt Co. is contributing pop to the Kiwanis Kids Day at Westgate Park Saturday and the R. Wilke Co., hot dogs, and Fairmont Foods Co., ice cream for the youngsters. It's all to be a free treat to the youngsters on Saturday.

There's going to be plenty of activity at West gate Park this Saturday afternoon when the Hilltop Kiwanis Club stages a big free party for all children of the community, who are of elementary or junior high school age. The occasion is the annual observance of National Kids Day, which is an annually sponsored affair of Kiwanis Clubs over the entire nation.

Harold Fox, chairman of the committee in charge of the huge party stressed the fact this week that everything wa free for the youngsters, such as, free hot dogs, free ice cream, free pop, free train rides, pony rides, fishing contest, baseball game and other special entertainment which has been arranged. The party is scheduled to get underway at 1 p. m. this Saturday afternoon and continue until 5 p. m.

One of the high spots of the afternoon will be a fishing contest at the park lake. A prize will be awarded every 25 minutes to the boy or girl who catches the largest fish in each period. A grand prize of a new bicycle is to be awarded for the largest fish caught during the day. Dr. E. E. McNamee, chairman of the contest, pointed out that approximately 100 poles will be available through the courtesy of Hilltop Sporting Goods and Rausch Bros. Hardware, but that every one who can, should bring his own pole in order that every one have a chance at the prizes. Bait is being furnished by Hilltop Sporting Goods. No reels will be permitted, only still fishing will be allowed.

Two miniature trains will be set up in the park area and rides will be free for all youngsters for the four hour period of the party, according to Otto Best who is chairman of that event.

Noble Allen, chairman of the pony rides, said this week that 25 ponies will be on hand throughout the afternoon for those who like that form of entertainment. Ten of the ponies have been contributed by Tim Nolen of Mozabela Park.

For those who like their baseball, Chairman George Williams has arranged a game between the Camp Chase American Legion Frothole champions and the Kiwanis sponsored team from Glenwood Recreation Center.

The special entertainment committee headed by Ed Melvin has also come up with an interesting exhibit from the Columbus Zoo as well as a cotton candy machine which is also being donated through courtesy of the Columbus Zoo and Miles Drive-In Theatre.

To make it a real interesting day for the thousands of youngsters who are expected to attend the party, Chairman Franklin Sparks has secured from Lockbourne Army Air Base an interesting display of air force equipment.

In the free eats department Chairman Loren Galloway has lined up quite an array with hotdogs being contributed by R. Wilke Meats, buns by Meisner Bakery, soft drinks by Nesbitt orange and Coca Cola.

Westgate Mothers Demand New Sidewalks

Pictured above is a representative group of Westgate mothers who have banded together in the purpose of obtaining sidewalks for school children of the Westgate area. The mothers maintain that the sidewalks are necessary as a safety measure and that current traffic conditions in the area are highly dangerous at present time due to absence of sidewalks.

Monday night Columbus City Council heard a group of Westgate mothers urge them to take appropriate action to install sidewalks in the area for the "sake of the lives and limbs of our children who must daily walk to school in the streets, constantly exposed to dangers of heavy traffic because there are no sidewalks for them."

The mothers group led by Mrs Louise Clemens, 270 Brinker-av, presented a five point statement, pointing out the specific dangers to children in the area. These are (1), increased traffic from the General Motors plant; (2) anticipated increase in traffic next year from the new Westinghouse plant; (3) heavy Wicklow-rd traffic which pupils of St. Mary Magdalene and the new Westgate Elementary Scho l encounter daily; (4) extension of the community over a period of five to 10 years and the dangers of winter weather.

Last Sunday approximately 30 mothers from almost every Westgate street assembled at the home of Mrs. Rudolph Berauck, 244 S. Roys-av, to discuss the problem and ways and means by which they might carry their message to the residents of the area pointing up the serious threat of the "loss of some child's life" due to the fact that sidewalks in the area have been neglected.

The mothers of the area have thus far conducted a telephone survey which indicates that sentiment on the issue of sidewalks in the Westgate area is about "95.99%" for and against installation of new sidewalks.

The main objection apparently is the fact that lawns which now extend to the curbings would have to be given over to new side walks. This was borne out in a meeting of

Record Wins Ohio Newspaper Show Awards; Rated The Third Best Weekly In State Of Ohio

In the above photo C. Carlton Hartley, owner and publisher of the Hilltop Record, is caught by the camera as he receives the congratulations of Prof. James E. Pollard on the winning by the Hilltop Record of five awards and three honorable mentions in the Osman C. Hooper Weekly Newspaper Show. Hartley is also the publisher-owner of the West Side News, South Side Leader and Greenfield Daily Times. Prof. Pollard heads the journalism department of Ohio State University.

The Hilltop Record, long recognized as one of the better weekly newspapers in Ohio, this past week firmly established itself as one of the leaders in the weekly field of journalism by capturing five awards and three honorable mentions in the Osman C. Hooper Newspaper Show for Ohio weekly newspapers held in conjunction with the Ohio Newspaper Association convention at the Deshler Wallick.

Prize of the awards was the judging of the Hilltop Record as third best in the State of Ohio for all around general excellence. In achieving this distinction The Record was adjudged by a widely known expert panel of 12 judges who had presided over the judging of 12 other classifications of competition.

Of the newspapers which were entered in Class I competition for makeup of front pages The Hilltop Record won third place award for newspapers in cities of over 8,000 population.

In the Class 8 competition covering the field of advertising The Hilltop Record carried off top honors of first prize for newspapers in an area of 8,000 or more population.

In Class 8 competition for the best local art and its use The

Forty Cent Ad Sold More Than $30 in Plums

C. A. Middleton, 99 Belvidere-av, has changed the old adage "A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush" to "Plums in the bushel are worth putting an ad in the Hilltop Record.

BLUE DAMSON plums. 99 Belvidere Ave. RA. 3717

ran one week, (Sept. 11) in the Record, testified that he sold $25 to $30 worth of plums from the classified ad.

Hilltop Record classified advertisements have a job they can do for you too. Call RA 1125 and ask for the Classified Department.

Adequate Water Supplies Assured Westinghouse

The City of Columbus last week took action which assured the Hilltop area of added water supplies for the new Westinghouse Plant now under construction on W. Broad-st and for the thousands of new homes which are to soon be erected in the immediate area of the huge plant.

Service Director Elmer A. Keller announced the award of a contract to the Fishel Co., 1170 Kinnear-rd for construction of the 12,000 foot long force main on its bid of $45,403.80. Keller said the bid was approximately $10,000 under the engineer's estimates and represented the best of four bids which were submitted.

Last week for the first time, the new one million gallon storage tank at Westgate Park was filled to capacity. The new tank erected during this past year is expected to increase pressures over the entire West Side and to also prove a boon when the new Westinghouse plant is completed and becomes operative.

Completion of the huge Westinghouse plant is expected about next June, according to L. V. Forbeck, project manager. The entire facilities of the mammoth plant will be committed to the manufacture of component parts of jet aircraft engines. Some of it, however, will be given over to assembly lines for the production of home appliances, should the federal government not need the total plant capacity.

Currently being studied is an ordinance to set up charges to defray the costs of the new 12,000 foot water main. It was pointed out this week that assessments will be made through agreement with the Franklin County Commissioners, on a front foot or per acre basis.

Baxter Evans, chief counsel of Columbus City Attorney's office, said this week that after he receives pertinent information from the County Sanitary Engineer, Desso T. Mitchell, he will send the proposed ordinance to the firm of Squire, Sanders and Dempsey, Cleveland bond counsel for their approval. The measure then will be offered to Columbus City Council for further action.

Hilltop Tomatoes Grow Big Too Says Resident

A Hilltoper brought to the attention of the Record last week that large tomatoes grow on the Hilltop as well as in Hocking County.

Mrs. J. S. Mollnar, 1408 N. Hague-av., reports that she grew Italian tomatoes weighing between one and two pounds in her garden this year.

The Sept. 18 issue of the Record carried a picture of Mrs. Dewane Stout, 80 N. Wayne-av., preparing to can some two pound tomatoes she bought in Hocking county.

Highland Ave. School News

Highland's first PTA meeting of this year was held Thursday, Sept. 18, with N. G. Fawcett, superintendent of public schools, as the speaker. His speech proved very interesting and educational. Following the meeting the parents were served tea and sandwiches. The meeting, which was called the "get acquainted meeting", proved to be just that as there was a large attendance and everybody seemed to enjoy the meeting and the refreshments.

The Gra-Y Club of Highland School held its first meeting of the new school term on Sept. 16 with approximately 25 boys participating. Dick Wilson, program director for the Hilltop YMCA, conducted the meeting.

VFW Holds District Conference Sunday

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold the 11th district fall conference at Dublin High School on Sunday, Sept. 28.

Registration is from 8 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. The Dublin VFW Post and its Auxiliary are host to a joint meeting at 10 a. m. in the high school gym to hear a welcome address by Richard Gordin, post judge advocate; music by the Caldwell Band and address of welcome by James Yeager, mayor of Dublin.

Other speeches will be made by Howard M. Cole, state VFW commander, Richard Kettre, 11th district commander, and George L. Fetter, state adjutant.

No one can get the best of us—unless we let them play upon the worst.

If we printed everything we are told or hear, we would only get out one issue of the Record and start running and hope the howling mob would not catch up with us.

West Decisions Bears 13-7

THE WINNING TOUCHDOWN . . . Dick Orr, diminutive Cowboy quarterback who in his first two appearances this season has proved a sparkplug to the West grid eleven, is caught by the camera in the above photo as he dove across the Golden Bear goal line for the winning touchdown in last Friday night's encounter. West won 13-7 by virtue of Orr's score. (Record Photo)

FIRST BLOOD OR WEST . . . Jerry Trabue (22) goes up in the air for an aerial loss in the third quarter of the West-Arlington tilt and comes down with the ball to score the Cowboys' first touchdown of the evening. Battling Trabue for the ball is the Golden Bear star, Butch Campbell (22). (Record Photo)

By Woody Owen

Last Friday night at Magly Field the West High School Cowboys football squad opened this 1952 home season, by coming from behind in the second half to take a bitterly contested fray from Upper Arlington by a score of 13-7 before a large "Mothers' Nite" crowd.

It was again the combination of Dick Carr who dashed nine yards around end to pay dirt and Tom Ongarro's perfect placement in the final period that provided the margin of victory.

Most of the credit for the victory however should go to the defensive unit as they finally lived up to expectations in the final two periods and held the Golden Bears to a minus yardage from rushing and but one first down, that coming from a 63-yard pass and run play, which was the only time the opposition was able to penetrate beyond its own 35 yard line after the halftime intermission.

It was also the hard charging of this unit that cased Campbell, Arlington's punter, to hurry his kicks, one of which went only 10 yards and the other but 34 yards to set up both touchdowns.

The contest opened with Campbell of Arlington kicking off to Grant of the Cowboys who returned 25 yards to his own 35. The Cowboys made two quick first downs and then Trabue placed a fine punt which rolled dead on the Arlington 8.

The Golden Bears then began a sustained march, mixing a fine running game with a brilliant air show and soon were on the Cowboys' nine yard line. The recovery of a fumble by Nafzger stopped the drive at this point as the first period ended.

The Cowboys failed to gain and Trabue punted from deep in the end zone to mid-field with Campbell returning to the 36. Campbell then circle end for 15 yards but on the next play they were penalized 15 yards. Rose then passed to Burneson for 15 yards. Thomas threw Pataky for a four yard loss. Rose went off tackle for five.

It was the fourth down and nine. Rose's pass to Burneson was incompleted in the end zone, but the Cowboys were offside giving the Bears their second chance and this time they made good as Rose passed to Burneson who romped into the end zone to score. Campbell ran off tackle for the point after touchdown.

The first half ended soon after without any further scoring.

The final half opened as the Cowboys kicked off to Arlington who was unable to gain.

test reverted into a punting duel between Trabue of the Cowboys and Campbell of the Bears with the former having a decided edge, as he again forced Arlington into a deep hole by booting one dead on the eight yard line.

Campbell then attempted to boot out of danger and being rushed was only able to get it to the 18 yard line where the ball rolled

After two running attempts Orr then passed to Trabue for the score. Ongarro's placement went wide.

Trabue again kicked off deep into the visitors' territory and they were again unable to advance.

Campbell was again rushed and booted only 24 yards out of bounds on his own 45.

Cole, Grant, Ongarro and Haire then alternated in toting the pigskin and moved in five plays to the Bears' nine. Orr running from the tailback position in a short punt circled his own left end for the six pointer. Ongarro then added the point after with a perfect placement.

The Cowboys again kicked off to Arlington with Campbell returning to his own 30. Vandeventer then passed to Burneson complete on the Cowboys' 35. He then broke into the clear and appeared headed for pay dirt, but from out of nowhere came Halfback Roger Thompson who made a seemingly impossible diving shoestring tackle to down the ball carrier from behind on the Cowboy 7.

This was the most outstanding individual play of the game and may have saved the victory for the local squad.

Two plays later Nafzger again recovered a Bear fumble to stop their last scoring threat of the night. The Cowboys booted out of danger and after Arlington gambled on four passes all of which went astray, West took over on the visitors' 25.

Cole and Grant carried to the 10 with Ongarro then dashing through tackle for a score, but the Cowboys were again offside and penalized.

Arlington took over on downs and on the last play of the game Vincent intercepted a pass at mid-field and battled to the nine yard line where he was downed.

Jerry Trabue, Tommy Thomas, Ron Dean and Jim Kruckeberg stood out up front for the Cowboys on defense, ably backed by Jim Vincent and Harry Nafzger who recovered two fumbles inside his own 10 yard line and turned back two Arlington threats.

Ron Grant again spearheaded the offensive.

Halfback Butch Campbell and End Andy Burneson stood out for the Golden Bears, the former leading the ground attack, while the latter gave the Cowboys' secondary a headache with his pass catching. He caught six for 126 yards.

South, West Game Holds Wide Interest

This Friday night at 8 o'clock the Cowboys will open their City League schedule, when they travel to Mahaffey Stadium to clash with the Blue and Gray of South.

The local lads have a decided edge for defensive play in the two pre-season contests, with the South Enders having a decided offensive edge, and at this time they are the highest scoring eleven in Greater Columbus.

The running and passing of big Don Wirtz and Charlie Peake will probably give the locals' defenses their severest test to date and should there be any letdown on their part, as was so noticeable in the first half against Arlington,

Hello There!

J. W. Worrel

Procrastination is the thief of time. An old saying, but only too true. Don't we all plan to do things — expect to do things — and then decide that tomorrow will do just as well as today? We waste time and gain nothing. If we put off tidying up the clothes closet, maybe results wouldn't be terribly serious. Could be worse, though, if we postponed checking up the old car.

But let me tell you, one of the biggest tragedies I know can be caused by a fellow putting off a sound life insurance plan. Even one day's delay can mean all the difference between want and security for the little lady you're so proud of, and the youngsters who run out to meet you as you walk up the front path at the end of the day.

Yes, to procrastinate is to steal from yourself — to steal contentment. It is stealing from your family—stealing security. I'd sure like to talk about these things with you, and tell you how my great company — the Sun Life of Canada — can take care of your needs.

FIELDS

This is a life that I have known:
My youth saw fields, fields that were wide
And brown, with shocks and husks of corn
Where glistening, scattered blades were blown
About, hunting some place to hide.
White clouds above, ragged and torn,
Partly obscured the blue. I knew
The yellowed ears, heaped high in piles,
The horses waiting for the load
The farmer gathered. While southward flew
The honking geese for weary miles
Ahead, where warmer waters flowed.
These fields of peace and plenty are Far, far removed from fields of war.

If you have watched Just Neighbors on WTVN—and who hasn't?—you already know and love Dave Wilson. His dead pan is about the funniest thing on tv. It takes a lot of talent for an intelligent man to act as stupid as he does in his role as Tubby. Talent is what this boy has and he comes by it honestly. His mother was with Redpath Chautauqua for 15 years. A native of Columbus, she was the well-known Beatrice Baughman. Dave's father, Ross H. Wilson now a business man in Cincinnati, was co-owner and acted with the repertoire show known as The Wilson-Edwards Stock Co., for 21 years. One interesting thing about Mr. Wilson, senior, is that when he was four years old he played Little Eva in Uncle Tom's Cabin, without a wig. Dave's sister, Pat, is at WBNS-TV.

Dave went to WTVN a year ago, after a year as announcer with WBNS-TV. He is an announcer and plays comedy roles in "Pat's Open House" and "Prospector Bill." He attended Cincinnati College of Music and is an accomplished musician. Single, he lives at 2406 Summit-st. His hobbies are photography and fire engines. He recently purchased a fire engine (vintage of 1921) which has been displayed on the "Just Neighbors" show and at the Columbus Motor Speedway on September 12. While at Ohio State, Dave played with the strollers Club and in 1949 won its Oscar for his role in "Girl Crazy." He has also appeared in Players' Club shows; has emceed in night clubs, and has played in other dramatic organizations' shows. While in high school he played in USO performances with his mother and sister. Pat, and while in the army, arranged and played in USO and camp shows. This young man should, and will, go far as an entertainer.

Have you read "Bread From Heaven?" It is a heart-warming story by Henrietta Buckmaster. If you like light verse you will like the new book by Mary Anspach Simon (18 West Tucker-av, Shelby, O.) called "The Hooky Well." Mary's poems are sophisticated and humorous; the book is highly entertaining.

It's better to make sure that one's own work is right, than to point out where the other fellow's work is wrong.

By 1975 the average man can look forward to living nine years after he retires, compared to six years today and only three years in 1900, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports.

the Camp Chase Civic Association last week when strenuous objection to installation of sidewalks was raised. Objectors to the sidewalks maintain that the children are perfectly safe to walk in the street, despite busses, parked cars and heavy traffic.

In the meeting held last week City Councilmen Jones and Koontz who were present both agreed on the dire need for sidewalks especially along Wicklow-rd. Councilman Jones pointed out that the city could put in sidewalks immediately providing 51 percent of the residents of the affected area would petition in its favor.

The mothers group has been quick to take up this challenge and at the present time is drafting petitions for circulation among the property owners. Thus far the key members of the mothers' group who are urging sidewalk installation are, S. Roys-av, Mrs. R. B. Bernard, Mrs. W. Deitrich, Mrs. W. Smith, Mrs. C. Hanawalt, and Mrs. H. J. Crosby. S. Hilltop Record scored another victory by taking second place honors for all newspapers entered in the competition. This is a standout achievement since there are more than 200 weekly newspapers in Ohio.

Another first prize award was chalked up to the Hilltop Record's credit for its outstanding Women's Page, entered in competition with newspapers from localities of more than 8,000 population.

In other competition, The Hilltop Record also proved its qualifications for receiving the third place general excellence award. Three honorable mentions were also accorded in the fields of news coverage, local features and special editions.

In past years The Hilltop Record had shown steady progress in the Osman C. Hooper Newspaper Show having acquired nine previous awards at the annual Ohio Newspaper Conventions. With five new awards the total is now boosted to 14 which is an enviable record among weekly newspapers throughout the state of Ohio.

Career Institute Is Established On Hiltop

W. T. Parker, founded of Career Achievement Institute, is pictured above as he lectured to a new class.

"The Voice of Experience," says W. T. Parker, "supplies that missing link between what is learned in school and what must be known, and done, to get ahead in life." Parker heads the Career Achievement Institute which has recently been established on the Hilltop at 2460 W. Broad-st.

The institute is now operating here. It is a plan of study whereby men under age 35 will meet for a series of lectures drawn from experience and exhaustive research.

This study is based on the measurement of ability and applied to the real desire of life, ambitions, impressions, and the "know how" of progressing in their chosen lines of endeavor.

Parker pointed out this week, "The majority of positions open today require experience as a vital factor. But young men haven't lived long enough to personally possess that experience. Hence, opportunity must pass them by unless they can acquire experience through reliable teaching and counsel. That is where the Career Achievement Institute plans to fill that void, through a close study of outstanding people and their achievements, teach the down to earth facts, instead of guesswork or knock 'em dead success slogans."

The institute, Parker said, will, during its course, try to instill and teach the idea that progress depends upon more than performance of every day duties on a job, and what to do in addition to the ordinary duties as well as how and when to do it, to make steady progress.

Career Achievement Institute teaching is designed for the young men just starting out in life, or the one who is working but is not satisfied with his future outlook.

The Glenwood Recreation Center Touch Football Leagues will get under way on Monday, Sept. 28. League teams have six players to a team and a tackle is made by tabbing the ball carrier. No special equipment is used by the players. The game is a modification of the eleven man game with passing dominating the type of play.

Every Saturday morning at 11 o'clock there will be free movies at the center. Children can have a full morning of entertainment on Saturdays by coming to Glenwood at 9 o'clock to learn tumbling or play in the gym and end the morning with movies.

During the first week of October Glenwood will form a Chess Club. Anyone interested in learning to play chess or anyone knowing the game and seeking opponents to play, is asked to contact either Jack Keaton or Doc Reister at the center immediately.

Glenwood has revamped the TV room into a reading room. Reading and quiet games can now be enjoyed without disturbance and at the same time those watching television can continue to do so under this new arrangement.

Glenwood has many of the current magazines available for readers but would appreciate any magazines, comic books or books anyone could spare for the reading room.

The new game "Hill" has crowned the center and is waited to be played by persons who like a fast moving and interesting game.

There are still openings for individuals and teams in the girls' Soccer League. Leagues will play on Monday afternoon. Interested girls or teams should get in touch with Marilyn at the center.

Bible Comment:

Both James and Paul Urged the Practice Of Religious Rules

LIVING our religion is nothing more or less than putting into practice every day those principles of the Christian religion which we are taught to value so highly.

The Epistle of James is reputedly the Epistle of "works" and many, including Martin Luther, have set it above the Epistles of Paul as the messages of "faith."

To make such a contrast is unfair to the facts of early Christian history and to the spirit of the complete New Testament. Paul was as insistent as James on practicing the principles of true Christian living based on the Master's example.

James, Jesus' brother, was not one of the 12 apostles. In fact, John tells us the brothers of Jesus did not accept Him as the Messiah until after the crucifixion when they joined the Christian company.

James is mentioned by Paul as one of those who saw the vision of the risen Christ. Later James became a power in the church at Jerusalem. But Paul and James were never opposed to each other. On the contrary, they enjoyed a close fellowship.

The fact which drives many to conclude the Epistle of James is the one of "works" is due to his lack of elaborated discussions of doctrine.

We can think of James as a wise church pastor who deals with his people according to their needs. He rebukes some for their laxity and un-Christian attitudes. He commends others for doing things in a Christ-like way. But he is always busy defining doctrine so that none would miss the essential meaning.

By the time the Epistle of James was written, the Christian community was a great deal larger than in the beginning. It presented new problems in relationships. By this time many rich people were drawn into the organization.

But James found it necessary to remind his fellow Christians that God was no respecter of persons. Social and economic position meant nothing in the final consideration of good and bad qualities. Both the world and the church need much of the message found in his Epistle today.

Campfire Girls

Hilltop Camp Fire Girls won many honors this year at the Ohio State Fair with their exhibits in handicraft.

The Happy Helpful group won Grand Honor group award (or blue Birds with two group entries of painted plaques and clothes sprinklers. Their leader is Mrs. George Reis.

Mrs. Eleanor Gaskill's young Camp Fire Girls, the Ni-Le-Ta group, won one first, one second, three fourth, two fifth and one sixth awards on their entries.

Wa-Ka-Ko, groups of older girls, won three first, one second and one third honor.

The younger group went on an overnight trip on Sept. 13 to Camp Wyandot in Hocking County to complete their outdoor projects for their Wood Gathering rank.

The Nah-Top-I'l group won first prize on their needle work entries of baby clothes. They also won eight first, eight second, five third, two fourth, three fifth and one sixth prize on their individual entries. Six of the girls in this group rode on the Camp Fire float at the fair. The float was a daily feature in front of the grandstand. Their leaders are Mrs. Ruth Stanfield and Mrs. Frieda Ream.

The Tanda group, with leader, Mrs. Mary Boots, held its first meeting of the year this week to make plans for a week-end at Camp Wyandot.

The Evangelistic Church
WARREN AVENUE CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
400 SOUTH WARREN AVENUE — Harris B. Anthony, Minister
9:30 A. M.—Sunday School.
10:45 A. M.—Morning Worship. Topic: "What Are You Living For?"
7:30 P. M.—Evangelistic Service. Topic: "When The Books Are Opened."

"Sure I'd like to attend church," a friend said recently, "But you know how it is these days. Hurry, hurry, hurry!"

The man who spoke these words is, by many standards, successful. Big deals. Lots of night work. Always in a hurry to make connections, meet prospects.

Yet just the other day he was remarking that he is, basically, a disappointed man. Life, he says, seems to be passing him by . . .

It's one of the oldest rules in business that you can't get something for nothing. Even those in a perpetual hurry know that. But they think that religion may be an exception to that rule — and it's not.

An hour or two in church each week may seem to offer a slight chance of return. Yet, the person who profits by active church membership will find life not just "passing by." He will find that life has new hope, new meaning, and a new richness that no amount of hurry can purchase.

God's word comes true for any man who listens for that word in the quiet, unhurried hour of the Sunday Service of his church.

For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To Westgate taxpayers and parents:

Our visit to the Civic Association meeting was a boomerang.

Our respective councilmen, Jones and Koontz, spoke on sewers for Westgate. Very interesting speakers.

Also a discussion on sidewalks. Two lone mothers for sidewalks, and a wall represented group of Wicklow residents against. Why?

It would ruin the lawn, even though that area belongs to the city. Also all the shrubbery on city property. Illegal, yes, and dangerous when it obstructs the view.

Every day our National Safety Council announces via radio, "Do your children have a safe way to and from school?" Westgate parents say, "No."

People don't want the Westgate children on the lawns. Ask the children. Mothers tell the youngsters to walk on lawns. Children are bewildered.

Result: the street, which is primarily for speeding trucks, hot rods, sleek bopped-up cars, double parked cars, also has the children competing for the right of way.

Police tell us to keep our school children out of alleys as being dangerous.

How many parents are allowing their teen-age boys to race on our streets without caution?

Whose child will be maimed or killed first?

The question of traffic lights was brought up.

Drivers go through yellow and red lights all the time. One example is the corner of S. Roys and W. Broad-st.

You complain to the police, they are short of help.

Our principal of West High can't be expected to police all of the teen age drivers. That begins at home.

Result: we want our children on sidewalks, not in streets.

Furthermore we pay "City of Columbus" taxes. Doesn't the ordinance of the "City of Columbus" apply to us?

It's a shame that people here in Westgate can't look ahead and agree on sidewalks.

A few paltry dollars and so many feet of lawn for a child's life.

Give us the love and life of all our Westgate children over the love of dollars.

Mothers and friends we need your support.

Sybil Beranek

Hilliards School News

GERMAN BOY AT HILLIARDS

Martha Clark

Johann Gerhard Seibert, an exchange student from Germany, is a senior at Hilliards high school this year. Johann has been in the United States for only six weeks. He is living with E. B. Converse of Plain City. His parents are still in Germany. Johann says that he likes America but not any better than his home country.

The American Farm Bureau is responsible for bringing him and several other boys to the United States to study. Johann said he had a very enjoyable trip over. They traveled by train from Germany to Switzerland, then came the rest of the way by ship.

He is interested in farming but plans to be a teacher in natural sciences and mathematics.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE

Some changes have taken place at Hilliards during the summer months. The old wooden floors in the upstairs rooms have been covered with green and brown Kentile. New flooring was also put in Mr. Pickens' office. Acoustic ceilings were put in both corridors. New fluorescent lights were put in some of the rooms and new ones will be put in the school office, room one, and room 24.

SUMMER BASEBALL

Edward Green

Baseball will be played in the summer months of June and July this year rather than in early spring. Hilliards will be in the Mid-six league as before. The coaches feel that they cannot get enough good material for a winning team in the spring with so many other activities taking place.

The coaches hope to be able to put on a better program so that students will want to go to the games and give their team support during the summer months.

Even though the senior boys will have graduated by June, they will be eligible to play.

Hilliard will still be eligible to play in the state tournament.

STAFF ELECTED

New staff members were elected to Hilliards school paper during the class period on Friday, Sept. 5, and Monday, Sept. 8.

Class advisor is Mrs. Olin Smith.

ENROLLMENT RISES

The number of pupils enrolled in Hilliards so far for 1952-53 is 900 even. There are 374 in the high school and 526 in the grade school.

Three new subjects have been added to Hilliards High School. Drivers education is taught by a new teacher, Mr. Yocum. The art teacher is Mrs. Kellam, and the speech teacher is Mrs. Smith.

This year there has been an increase of 25 students in the high school and 25 in the grade school.

Hilltop Y Enrollment Goes Over The Top

Congratulations are in order to all those who participated in the Hilltop YMCA membership enrollment roundup just completed Monday evening. Success of their efforts is attested by the fact that the enrollment went over the top of the quota set.

Those who solicited memberships this year report a very fine response on the part of the public and further evidence that the Y program is advancing rapidly on the Hilltop with an ever increasing number of youth of the community participating.

Faith of the Hilltop public in the Y program here will be rewarded one of these days in the not too distant future when a fine facility is built here to serve the needs of this expanding community.

Membership in the Y is open throughout the year and if you were not contacted in the enrollment just ended why not call the Y office at JO. 4841 right now and express your desire to invest a small amount in this fine program.

Flowers of the Week

This week's Rosebud Floral bouquet to Irvin F. Young, West High principal, for the fine job he did in heading the Hilltop YMCA enrollment campaign. This is just another of his many fine contributions to the welfare of youth of the Hilltop. He did a fine job which the Hilltop should appreciate.

And a nice rose for the coat lapel of Sam Alford, chairman of the Y membership committee, for the untiring effort he put forth in the round-up. Nice work Sammy!

"Don't burn those papers!" warns Lt. Colonel Susan Thom, of the Volunteers of America. "We still need them and will be glad to have our trucks pick up your salvage."

Despite low paper prices most of the summer, Lt. Colonel Thom reports that the Volunteers of America has continued to pick up paper as well as magazines, books, clothing and furniture. With an upswing in prices, the Volunteers of America plans an extended paper drive during the month of October.

"We hope all our friends will call on us with their salvage," Lt. Colonel Thom states. "Our work load is still heavy. We have never curtailed our Red Feather services to the community despite low paper prices this summer. The need for our work increases in the autumn, so our need for salvage increases with it."

The Volunteers of America telephone numbers are AD. 8650 and AD. 8665. Send them your salvage today.

Over 8000 Kids Attend Hilltop Kiwanis Party At Westgate Saturday

Just why no one could explain but the cotton candy machine at the Kiwanis Kids Day Party was kept in constant operation as the youngsters flocked to get the popular confection "for free." Youngsters stood in line for as long as two hours to get some of the cotton candy.

The old personalist which is always so dear to the heart of the youngster is the ever popular American hotdog and there were plenty of them on hand for the Kiwanis Club's first annual Kids Day Party

Free pop was one of the attractions that drew thousands of youngsters to the Westgate Park Kiwanis Party last Saturday. In this photo Kiwanians in the stands were kept plenty busy with requests of the kids for "more pop please."

North Temperature

While there is ample evidence that the earth's interior is hot, there may be different estimates as to the exact temperature. Probably it is around 9,000 degrees F.

Hello There!

J. W. Worrel

$5,000 sounds wonderful, doesn't it? What a thrill if it should arrive in the mail as an unexpected inheritance! But as the total sum of life insurance in a man's estate, as the amount of money with which a widow will have to struggle along, why, it adds up to precious little! Yet I have known men — married men like you with comfortable incomes — look smug and pleased when they say they own five — or even ten — thousand dollars' worth of life insurance. I only ask them one question. If you were to die tomorrow, how long would that money last your family? Months. That's all. Just a few months.

And then? Could your wife earn her own living? Would you want her to? How about the kids' education? Would they all have to move to another neighborhood?

None of these drastic acts are really necessary. How about letting me tell you about some of our generous plans? I'd be happy to show you how easily you can build up an ample insurance coverage at a minimum of expense. No obligation. Just call or write:

It's Time We Got Working Mad!

ELECTION YEAR 1952

By

ED LINDSTROM

Plant Engineer, Kennametal Inc., Latrobe, Pa.

Confusion, and turmoil, and blood, and tears,
Under one party for twenty years,
Crime and corruption in places high,
A national debt that reaches the sky,
A dollar that dwindles day by day,
Taxes beyond what we can pay,
These are the things that with thinking clear
We must ponder and face this election year.

Boondoggle spending for state-owned schemes,
Products of planners fantastic dreams,
Taxpayer's money poured out like rain
With never a thought of loss or gain,
Government doles handed out as bait,
Trading our rights for a socialized state,
Now is the time we must choose and say
If this is to be, The American Way.

Regulations, controls, and red tape galore,
Alphabetical terms never heard of before,
Federal snoops making trouble and strife,
Poking their noses in everyone's life,
Even the housewife, when needing aid,
Must make reports if she hires a maid,
Is this the land of the free and the brave,
With each one directed from cradle to grave?

Killing the stock and destroying the crops
Under the guise of pricing props,
Cheated and robbed of our right to gold,
Savings made worthless when we grow old,
Drafting our boys for a futile war,
Maybe to die on a foreign shore,
This is the record that none can deny,
These are the deeds we must judge them by.

Out with the planners, the pinks, and the knaves,
Down with the schemes that turn free men to slaves,
We want our currency restored to gold
A national policy, fearless and bold,
A balanced budget, that is in accord
With income taxes that we can afford,
Write to the candidate, true and sincere,

Let's Get Back To The American Way Of Life

That Story Missing From Page 1 Today

There is a story NOT there for you to read on the front page today.

It is on the front pages of most newspapers, most days.

It is the same story you can't read in the magazines.

. . . The TV can't picture it for you.

. . . The radio can't tell you about it.

Maybe it's a big story.

Maybe it's small.

Maybe it would make a great deal of difference in how you vote this November. Maybe it wouldn't.

Maybe it would make you write your Congressman a hot letter telling him what you think of it. Or maybe the letter would be one of warm congratulations.

Maybe . . .

. . . But there is not going to be any letter from the people about this story. The story is blank, hidden, buried in dark files where only the eyes of officials paid by the people's tax money and using the people's power, can see it. The people will not be permitted to see it.

For such is censorship.

Not that all censorship is bad.

It isn't.

True military security is a vital necessity. True military security saves the lives of our troops . . . helps us win battles.

So we demand true military security just as strongly as we deplore any false censorship that daily can deny American readers information to which they are entitled.

Before Korea, newsmen knew what stories were being denied you. When they believed you were being taken advantage of by some either well-meaning or misled government officials, they could appeal the case.

Today, newsmen don't know.

There can be no appeal from mistakes by censors. No one but the censors know the mistakes—mistakes which can cover stories of jobs well-done just as surely as they can cover stories of botched-up jobs.

There can be no appeal . . . but there can be a remedy. The remedy is to go back to the voluntary censorship that carried us through World War II.

For as long as government officials are a law unto themselves, the people shall not know.

They shall not know if the blank story on the front page of their newspaper is justified because of real military security . . . or unjustified.

And never forget . . . for every blank story there is a blank place in your mind. A blank space that you cannot use. You, the people for whom this government is . . . of . . . for . . . and by.

Cowboys Muzzle Bulldogs; Take City Loop Lead

Tom Ongaro (39), West High back is pictured above as he romped through a big hole in the Buffalo line last Friday night for the first score for the Cowboys in their massacre of highly touted South by a 38-6 score. Bob Giuffre (74), West tackle, is shown as he blocked out would-be tacklers of the Bulldog eleven. Burton (11) and South's Peake (25) appear stunned at the suddenness of West's attack.

Fireball Doug Cole of the West Cowboys is pictured above as he battered across the South goal early in the first period of last Friday night's rout of South. Coming up late for the tackle is South's mainstay Don Wirtz (50). This was the second of West's rapid five touchdowns in the first quarter.

By Woody Owen

The West High School football squad successfully opened its 1952 city league schedule last Friday night as they easily trounced a supposedly strong blue and gray South High eleven by a score of 38-6 at Mahaffey stadium before an overflow crowd.

The ideal eleven spearheaded by a hard charging forward wall on both offense and defense and the devastating running of Fullback Doug Cole struck with the rapidity of lightning by counting three early first period touchdowns, and added three more later on in the contest, to turn what was supposed to be a close game into rout

Seldom in City League play has a local eleven exhibited such blocking and tackling as was displayed in this contest, as time after time on offense they tore huge holes in and around the Blue and Gray forward wall, through which the backs rambled. On defense they tackled so solidly, they caused the home team to fumble at least a dozen times, five of which the Cowboys recovered themselves.

The contest opened with Trabue kicking off out of the end zone. South was unable to gain and Wertz punted to Vincent who made a fine 23-yard return to the home teams 27. Cole, Grant and Ongaro then alternated in toting the pigskin to the five-yard line, from where Ongaro dashed off left tackle to score. Cole failed to score the point after on a run through guard after Ongaro had missed the first try on which the home eleven was penalized for being offside. West 6, South 0.

Trabue again kicked off over the goal line. The ball was placed on the Blue and Gray 20-yard line. On the first Peake made eight off tackle, but on the next play, Thomas broke through and recovered a Papai fumble on the home eleven's 15.

Cole then scooted through a huge hole over guard and scored standing up. Ongaro's kick for the point after was good. West 13, South 0.

Trabue again kicked off with Peake returning 21 yards to his own 28. On the first play, Thomas and Trabue hit Wertz so hard he fumbled with Kruckeberg recovering for the Cowboys on the 25.

On the first play Cole again dashed through a big hole over tackle to score standing up. Ongaro missed the point. West 19 South 0.

Trabue again kicked off over the goal line. On the first play Peake broke loose over his own left tackle and outran the Cowboys' secondary to go 80 yards to score on the longest run of the night. Reeves missed the try for point. West 19, South 6.

The last three touchdowns were scored in just a little over one minute playing time.

The second period was scoreless as the Cowboys were stopped twice on fumbles after they had driven deep into Blue and Gray territory, while the Southerners were also stopped by a fumble deep in local territory.

The second half began with Peake kicking off to Grant who returned 20 yards to his own 46. Cole and Orr made a first down on the South 39. Orr passed Trabue on the 32 after two running plays failed to gain. Trabue dropped back and from a fake punt formation passed to Orr who scampered to the nine-yard line.

Cole then dashed over tackle to score. Ongaro's try for the point after was again wide. West 31, South 6.

Trabue again kicked off to Peake who returned to his 42. The Southerners then took to the air and on two successful completions from Wertz to Peake they were soon on the Cowboys' 37.

Trabue stopped this drive by recovering Papai's fumble on the 43. Grant Cole and Ongaro failed to make a first down and the Cowboys again gambled on fourth down with Grant rambling 11 yards to the South 27 for the first down.

Kimball and Grant made another first down on the 24. West was set back to the 28 for off-side as the quarter ended. West 25, South 0.

On the first play of the final period Orr passed to Trabue for the score, Ongaro's kick was good. West 32, South 0.

After the ensuing kickoff a pass by Wertz was intercepted by Nafzger, brilliant sophomore line backer, and returned to the South 23. Again, on the first play, Jim Ealy skirted his own left end and behind brilliant down field blocking went over to score standing up. Ongaro's try for the point was no good. West 38, South 6.

The game then turned into a battle of the substitutes without any further scoring taking place.

The outstanding performers for the Blue and Gray were Charley Peake and Ron Collander offense, and End Jack Sagester on Defense.

For the Cowboys, Jim Kruckeberg and Jerry Trabue again stood out in the line while Doug Cole headed the offense.

This Friday night the Cowboys will invade the lair of the winless Central High Pirates who would like nothing better than to upset the high flying local eleven.

However there are still quite a few Cowboys around who haven't forgotten the 32-6 shellacking they received in 1951 and will be out to gain revenge.

Smart Boy

The latest joke bootlegged out of Soviet Russia concerns the catechisms of an urchin in Leningrad. "Who is your father?" queried the inspector. "The incomparable Stalin," proclaimed the urchin. "And your mother?" "The incomparable Soviet Union," said the urchin in the same parrot-like tone. The inspector allowed himself the shadow of a smile and asked, "What would you like to be when you grow up?" The urchin answered, "An orphan."

Little Cowboys Defend Title

On September 20 the West High reserve footballers began the 1952 season against the Upper Arlington reserves on the Golden Bear field. Coach Eugene Pierce, starting his initial year at the helm of the Little Cowboys, is in the driver's seat of a good-sized task. Last year's squad finished with a mark of seven wins, one tie and one loss to capture the City League Reserve title and with this record to defend Coach Pierce should have more than just a few worries throughout the pigskin schedule. Another encouraging thought is the fact that Upper Arlington, West's opening foe, is the team that dealt the Reserves their only loss of 1951. But with all things considered the Little Cowboys still look to be among the best this year.

Competing for the quarterback chores are Bill Cline and Bob Stadfeas, with the latter returning from the "51" squad. Joe Neff, returning letterman, and Jap Brenot are out for the fullback duties while Ronnie Klein, Jack Winnestaffer, Don Davis, and Kenny Harper, all returning from last season, will probably do most of the operating at the halfback slots. At the ends are Dave Bates, Walter Dolder, Gene Spence, Ed Brobeck, Bill Smith, and Gene Paul while Jack Speakman, Gary Landau, George McCready, Jim Cobb, Dave Krebs, Phil Anderson Dann Deahler and John Giuffre round out the other line positions.

September 26—Arlington (T)
October 2—South (H)
October 9—Central (H)
October 16—St. Charles (H)
October 23—North (T)
November 6—Linden (T)
November 10—East (T)

YOUR YOUTH

By Bob Schmidt and Dick Wilson

The highlight of our "Y" program for last week was when 94 singing, cheering boys went by bus to Old Man's Cave, Ash Cave and Rock House. A good time was had by all, biking along the nature trails, exploring the caves and playing football and softball. The Hilltop YMCA wishes to thank Bob Edgar, Francis Higgins, John Grassie and John Neimeister for the splendid job they did in helping to run the games and supervising the trip. Bob and I also wish to warn ALL the teachers of the Hilltop elementary schools and junior high school that there may be a few turtles or frogs in the pants pockets and desk drawers of their students. Quite a few such items were collected on this trip. All of the boys expressed their desire to go on the Serpent Mound trip which will be held Oct. 4.

Big and Little Braves of the Wyandot Indian Guide Tribe met at the tepee of Bob Phillips and son at 182 Guernsey-av last Tuesday. There was a short business meeting with each big and little brave informing other members of their Indian names. Big and Little Braves repeated the aims and slogan, "Pals Forever," and then enjoyed several Indian games and refreshments.

A total of around 100 boys turned out for the organizational meetings of the Gra-Y Clubs. Officers for each club will be elected in the near future. For the benefit of you fellows who have not yet joined the Gra-Y Club in your school, I will repeat the meeting schedule: Monday, 3:15, West Mound; Tuesday, 3:15, Highland; Wednesday, 3:15, John Burroughs; Thursday, 3:15, West Broad; Friday, 3:15, Westgate.

The Hilltop "Y" staff wishes to invite all boys between the ages of nine and 12 to join their Gra-Y Club in their school.

The boys' craft and hobby class is again meeting every Tuesday and Thursday, 3:30 p. m. at the "Y" office. All boys of the Hilltop are welcome and encouraged to join this class.

With the touch of fall in the air the Gra-Y members are busy thinking about football. After each club meeting the boys are practicing and developing their team for the opening kickoff Saturday, Oct. 11, when their Gra-Y Touch Football League starts. Dick is supervising these clubs and states that the boys are really anxious to start the league.

Vaudeville

"I suppose you have traveled a great deal?"

"Yes, all over the world. I crossed the dead sea before it died."

"Have you ever been to Turkey?"

"Yes."

"How do you like Turkey?"

10 Candidates For Homecoming Queen Presented

Sonya Albery, Margery Davis, Pat Henry, Sue Key, Shirley Lewis, Nancy Moss, Mary Ann Oberting, Jeanne Rings, Donna Theisen, and Pollie Wright were introduced in the ninth period pep rally at West High School Friday, Sept. 26, as candidates for the Homecoming Queen.

These girls were nominated by 12A and 12B classes and one of them will reign with a court of four girls at the Homecoming game with Aquinas on Oct. 17.

Prize Sailfish Catches Made By Local Boys

These two local youths had the thrill of a lifetime this past month while vacationing in Acapulco, Mexico. Deep sea fishing netted the two boys a pair of the big ones. Warren D. Thomas, 87 S. Westgate-av (at left) landed a 90 lb. sailfish measuring 7 feet 5 inches after a 25 minute battle and Donald Cowman, S. Champion-av, after a 30 minute tussle landed an 85 pounder which measured 8 feet 8 inches in length.

Westway Postscripts

This column has remained dormant throughout the summer mainly because of lack of material but is being revived at the request of members and friends, the former promising to contribute a bit. I wonder how long that will last.

Commander Dick Martin has moved. He and his family now reside at 3215 Homewood-rd. Their phone number there is JO. 2657.

We are still hearing chatter among the membership over our highly successful picnic held in the new Westgate Park shelter house last Aug. 17. More than a hundred attended and it was a gala affair. We wish to thank Comrade "Chuck" Geddes for furnishing all the coke. We also wish him luck in his new enterprise—the Texaco station at Warren and Sullivant.

The Post also wishes to thank Emma Russell, 359 N. Sylvan-av, our recent Post Auxiliary president, for outstanding service this summer. In her multiple capacity of holding hospital chairman on national, department, district and post levels, she has made a brilliant record for herself. However, in addition, she found a destitute veteran's family in the East End and alleviated the condition with the help of the Post and Auxiliary, and contributed mightily in community service. Like every organization, Westway Post desperately needs more workers like her.

Have you noticed the new door at our meeting hall at 2393½ W. Broad-st? We surely think it is an improvement. Watch for further improvements on the outside. The halls have already been greatly improved. We have had three big cleanups with one more planned to finish the job. In the first cleanup the commander had eight or nine helpers; in the second one, only four or five, and in the last one, only Junior Vice Commander George Bradley showed up. That made three for three for him but the number gets less and less each time and we have one more cleanup.

George Bradley is just about the hardest working member our Post has. He lives at 849 Markison-av in the South Side, yet he never misses a hall clean-up or any work we are involved in. In our contribution to the Hilltop Ballot Battalion he was by far the leading worker. There is a very active rumor that the Hilltop will soon receive this first-line citizen. His house is for sale and he wants to buy on the Hilltop.

Commander Martin has been appointed chairman of the by-laws committee of the Eleventh District of the VFW. In this capacity, he is stepping into some mighty big shoes. Ralph M. "Sarge" Hartman, 420 S. Harris-av, held that position last year. Charles F. Althoff, 681 S. Ogden-av, past commander of Tri-Community Post No. 4719, is a member of the new committee.

In his capacity as senior vice commander of the Eleventh District, Charlie Althoff visited our regular post meeting on Sept. 19.

Sick call: Our chaplain, Bob Swigert, 171 Guernsey-av, has been feeling bad all summer. George Ell, 168 S. Harris-av, is better now and gets around much better. Paul R. Kauderer, 709 Reinhard-av, was recently in Grant Hospital. At last word, Wilmer Beatty, 167 S. Harris-av, is back in University Hospital. Delia Martin of the Auxiliary is recovering from her operation.

Editor Hilltop Record
Dear sir:

I hope you will be able to find a place for this in your Hilltop Record this week.

It is my humble way of saying thanks to a man who gave so much happiness and good-will to so many in his short time in business on the Hilltop.

And I'm sure it expresses the heartfelt sentiments of all who knew him.

This family has been greatly schocked by what has happened to them so suddenly. I hold the highest regard for them all.

I shall be watching for the Record this week.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,
Mrs. H. Thompson,
24 S. Eureka-av.

John D. Matrozes

With the passing of John D. Matrozos (Johnnie to all who knew him) goes one of the finest people to ever grace the Hilltp business world.

"Johnnie" was a friend to all who knew him. Young and old alike called him by that name. Even if you weren't a friend when you entered his place of business, you were not a stranger when you left. It made no difference who you were, Johnnie always had something to say to you. His friends knew no bounds. They were numberless.

Regardless of how he might have felt at times, he always had a smile and a passing word for everyone. Or a wave of the hand for those passing by.

He was a great kidder to the school children who ate their noon day lunches in his restaurant. He'll be greatly missed by them and all of us who knew him.

This old world has been greatly enriched by having him in its midst. There should be more people in this world like John Matrozos.

And to his lovely wife and daughters, we extend the heartfelt sympathy of all of us who knew him.

"Johnnie" may be gone, but we will always cherish and remember his friendly smile and ready hello.

So, we say "Au Revoir" to a wonderful man, but not good-bye.

Even tho' he is no longer with us, his memory and the pleasant association with him will be with us always.

Mr. Carlton Hartley

Dear Carlton:

Heartiest congratulations on being one of the winners in the Orman C. Hooper Newspaper Show at the Ohio Newspaper Association Convention.

This annual competition is stimulating in that it causes Ohio newspapers to strive for better editorial and mechanical methods and to be classed as a winner among the great number of good Ohio newspapers is a distinct honor and a proud accomplishment.

We appreciate the fine way Ohio newspapers serve their readers by giving them important election information furnished by this office—just another example of the great public service the Ohio press renders.

Sincerely,
Ted W. Brown,
Secretary of State

Florence Hopper Weds Don Stout In Hamilton Ceremony Sept. 13

Mrs. Don Francis Stout

The Trinity Episcopal Church, Hamilton, O., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Florence Elizabeth Hopper to Don Francis Stout at 2:30 p. m., Sept. 13. The Rev. Charles E. Fish, rector, read the service. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hopper, 68 N. Roys-av, Columbus. Mr. Stout, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Stout, 316 Progress-av, Hamilton, is a Hamilton Journal-News photographer. The Hoppers moved to Columbus in May.

Two altar vases filled with white glads and two seven-branched candelabra formed a background for the ceremony.

The bride wore a white moire taffeta princess gown of ballerina length topped with a spencer jacket. Her head-dress was a lace mantilla. She carried white camellias on a Bible.

Miss Marjorie Ruth and Miss Patricia Louise Hopper, sisters of the bride, were her attendants. They wore gold moire taffeta gowns styled similar to the bride's gown and gold Juliet caps trimmed with orange blossoms. They carried colonial bouquets of gold, white and bronze pompons.

The bride's mother wore a teal blue crepe dress with black accessories. A Copen blue crepe with black accessories was worn by the mother of the groom. Each had a corsage of yellow pompons.

Leroy W. Hopper and Bennett Bartels were ushers. Jim J. Demetrion was best man.

A reception for 50 guests was held in Trinity Parish House.

Directed Course

Do you know any people who are afraid of joining a church?

Perhaps they aren't actually "afraid." Yet they do admit a fear that the principles sponsored by churches might be "too confining" for them.

Those people have their answer in this picture. Like all rivers, this one, too, is confined—confined by banks on either side.

Yet without those banks, what would any river be?

A swamp. That's all. . .

Just a swamp.

Mental confinement is not the church's purpose. Aiding men and women to expand the channels of their lives into a steady stream of conscious, productive living—that is the mission of the church most fully realized by those who join its rolls.

The banks of the mightiest rivers are so narrow at their source that a man may step across. But at the river's mouth are great, useful harbors and bays that form the climax of its course.

So it is with the life of every man who accepts the church and the word of God.

A man's heart deviseth his way: but the Lord directeth his steps.—Prov. 16:9.

Club Assembly Held

By Edward Green

Hilliards High School held its annual club assembly on the morning of Sept. 24. The purpose of this assembly is to acquaint the students with the various clubs that the school has to offer.

The assembly was opened by the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" led by Robert White and accompanied by Joan Woodin at the piano. Next followed the presentation of the flags by George Wuertz and Barry Myers. George Wuertz led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Bill Pritchard, backed up by the Varsity H boys, led the Students Creed. Doris Bolen read the 100th Psalm and then Sharon Hobbs opened the club assembly with a couple of jokes.

The first club on the program was Junior Dramatics. Lowell Johnson, Rita White, and the Pendleton twins gave a short skit on what their club is like.

Senior Dramatics was next with Marc Brown giving a short speech about his club.

Junior Hi-Y was represented by Larry Pendleton who spoke about the requirements of his club. The club sponsor is Mr. Yocum.

Ronald Rogers gave a speech covering the activities and the purpose of the Senior Hi-Y. Mr. Koncer is the club advisor.

Twelve senior girl members of the Tri Hi-Y holding lighted candles and standing in the form of a triangle, spoke on the purpose and the work of the Tri Hi-Y.

Sharon Hobbs gave the qualifications for joining the Art Club.

The Science Club was represented by Bob Kaiser. Mr. Hune is the club advisor.

Edna Wuertz gave the activities and the purpose of the FHA.

Louie Huffman, president of the FFA, gave a speech on his club. He also played a record which the Long sisters recorded at the FFA national convention in Kansas City. The record was about the FFA boy.

The French club gave a skit on French life. Jim Trachsel, Eddie Murdock, Carolyn Snyder, Joan Wooding, Gail DeWolfe, Jill Potts, and Jack Chenoweth participated.

FFA Takes Trip

The Hilliards FFA recently took an all morning trip to the Producers Livestock Yards in Columbus to watch the grading of hogs. They went by means of our school bus which was driven by the vocational agricultural teacher, Leon Boucher.

Upon arriving at the stockyards they went to the hog barn where the grading was being carried on. Mr. Smith who was grading the hogs told the characteristics he looks for in grading.

Some of the boys interested in sheep watched some sheep sold. Louie Huffman also bought a steer. Everyone enjoyed the trip and learned what a meat-type hog is.

Student Council Election

Seniors are Pat Lamb, Bill Clampitt, Donna Cowgill, and Gail DeWolf.

Juniors: Don Hackworth, Jerry Kaltenbach, Ronnie Patterson, and Dick Terry.

Sophomores: Max Gray, Jim Hetrick, Judy Moore, and Walter Shire.

Juniors Hold Meeting

By Ted Lind

The Junior class held its first meeting on September 19. The first order of the meeting was to vote on a selection of class rings.

After the decision was made the class had its election of officers. For the office of president Barry Myers was elected; vice-president was Larry Murray. For the office of secretary, Allee Ray was elected, and for the office of treasurer Ralph Vencill was elected.

Sky Ride

Friday night, Sept. 19, the Hilliards High School band went to West Jefferson to play at the football game. The band invited the crowd to go with them on a sky ride. They took off for the moon, where they played "Shine On Harvest Moon." The second stop was a star, so here they played "Stars of a Summer Night." Third stop was the sun, playing "Wait Til The Sun Shines Nellie." The last stop was the rainbow and "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows." The band arrived home singing "Wildcats, We're Hilliards Wildcats."

Franklin Twp. Voters To Pass On 3½ Mill Levy

Voters in Franklin Township will decide the outcome of a 3½ mill current expense levy to be in effect for five years. Only 1½ mills will represent new taxation, however since two mills will be a continuance of an existing levy.

Franklin Township Trustees point out the need for the increase in current operating monies as a result of increased services required to keep pace with a rapid increase in population and an even greater increase with the coming Westinghouse plant and the new homes planned for the area.

Township officials point to the operation of three fire companies operating from three vantage points in the township; increased assessments for operation of the County Board of Health; police protection; and increased highway maintenance costs as reasons for the levy.

At present, Franklin Township has only one suitable fire house. Two others are planned as soon as money is available. Two fire companies operate from leased quarters that are inadequate for the needs of volunteer firemen.

Increased traffic on gravel roads during the past several years has greatly increased the cost of highway maintenance for the 35 miles of secondary roads being maintained.

Fellowship Awarded to Hilltopper

A year's leave of absence from teaching has been granted Robert F. Harper, 44 Haldy-av, under a program of fellowships for 400 public high school teachers through out the United States during 1952-53.

Sponsored by the National Committee on High School Teacher Fellowships for the Fund for the Advancement of Education, Harper will spend the year on a program of research and study primarily in the field of teaching evaluation.

The program is designed to extend liberal education, improve teaching ability and increase the teacher's effectiveness as a member of the school systems and community.

Columbus was one of the 400 school systems selected to make recommendations.

Harper's study will take him through school systems at Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake City, Oakland, San Francisco and Los Angeles. A part of the year will be spent at the University of California at Berkeley, pursuing work in courses relative to his field of research.

Presbyterian Conference Is Planned

Presbyterians, ministers and laymen will assemble at the Broad Street Presbyterian Church, on next Sunday, Oct. 12, in observance of "Presbyterian Day." The conference is under the sponsorship of the Presbytery of Columbus and provides for ministers and laymen to study the needs and opportunities of the local church.

Beginning at 3:00 p. m., the conference will hear leading ministers and laymen discussing benevolence, budgeting, membership and community activities. Supper will be served by the host church at 6:30 p. m.

The highlight of the conference will come at 7:30 when Rev. Raymond E. Dronsfield, Moderator of Synod of Ohio, will introduce the Rev. Kenneth Neigh, Executive-Secretary of the Synod of Michigan.

Music for the evening services will be furnished by the Broad Street Church choir under the direction of Richard Johnston.

Woman Hit By Car

Mrs. Reva McCarthy, 28, of 2844 Valleyview-dr, suffered a right hip injury Tuesday morning when she was struck by an auto in the North American Aviation parking lot. She was admitted to White Cross Hospital.

Life Saving Act Is Rewarded

Just recently Johnny received a National Boy Scout Award at Mees Hall, Capital University, for his act of stemming the flow of blood from his playmate's arm which was severely cut during play at Westgate Evangelical Church.

Lessons on first aid taught to Johnny as a Cub Scout by Mrs. Charles Mattles, were credited for Johnny's act of heroism.

United Appeals Funds Provide Many Services For All Ages

If that worried, wistful look on the little girl's face reflects a lot of questions about the future, the older folks may be able to provide some of the answers.

Many of the answers are given during the United Appeals-Red Cross Campaign—a Campaign that can provide her future health and welfare needs should she be forced to call on others for aid. Her father and mother may have benefited from some of them already.

Perhaps when she was born, the family budget was strained by hospital and medical bills. There was the Hospital Reimbursement Fund to turn to for help. Then when she came home, instructive District Nurses helped Mommy learn how to take care of her and taught Mommy how to carry on.

She can go to Day Nurseries where she'll receive pre-school training and excellent care while Mommy is at work during the day. When she grows older, she can join the Girl Scouts or the Camp Fire Girls and go to summer camps operated by other United Appeals agencies such as the Salvation Army.

She'll get opportunities for year round recreation at the YWCA and have constant companionship in the Big Sisters Organization.

There are clinics to help her guard her health. The Heart Association may keep her safe from the nation's number one killer, and the Cancer Clinic will help to do away with her fears of the number two destroyer of life. Should she be so unfortunate as to be afflicted with cerebral palsy, the Cerebral Palsy Association will provide medical care.

Should she become a member of Uncle Sam's Women's army, the USO will follow her around the world so she'll know she is still remembered back home. The USO will provide a place to rest, recreation and will provide entertainment during her leisure time.

If she is in need of it, the Red Cross will be on hand to supply blood. Should she be away from home and find it financially impossible to get back in an emergency, the Red Cross again—or maybe the Travelers Aid — will help.

Should she find it difficult to adjust the problems of married life, trained social workers will help her.

If she and her husband decide to adopt a baby, Red Feather family bureaus will be there to investigate them and see they take an infant that fits their religious, social and cultural background.

Should she be left alone, Red Feather agencies will help her find a job. If she is maimed, there is a sheltered workshop of the Goodwill Industries. If she becomes blind or deaf, other agencies will be there to soften the blow.

When she grows old and is no longer able to do for herself, there will be Golden Age groups to give her help and companionship during the twilight of her life.

Those then are some of the services made possible by the United Appeals-Red Cross drive. They are available to her through the Community Chest, the Red Cross, the United Cerebral Palsy Association, the American Cancer Society, the Central Ohio Heart Association and the USO.

Actually, however, a United Appeals depends on the citizens of Columbus and Franklin County. They will say yes or no to an adequate program.

Eight-Year-Old Boy Shot In Westgate

An eight-year-old Hilltop boy was wounded in the left hip by a mystery shot as he played in his back yard Sunday afternoon, police reported.

Harold Sass of 819 Binns-blvd was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital by his father, Lester J. Sass, after he ran into his home complaining of a stinging sensation in the hip.

X-rays showed a bullet, believed to be from a .22-caliber rifle, imbedded in his left thigh. Hospital attendants said it had traveled about six inches after entering his body.

Trabue-rd Will Be Widened By County in Spring

Anndouncement was made this week by Franklin County Engineer Guy Elbin of a half-million dollar road widening program on Trabue-rd for a four-mile stretch, part of it to be along the new municipal golf course which is expected to be in use by next summer.

Elbin said that Trabue-rd will be widened to 24 feet from its present 16 feet, westward from N. Hague-av to the Rome-Hilliard-rd.

Elbin's announcement was made closely following the revelation of a dispute between the county and Dr. R. L. McFarland, owner of a hedgerow on Trabue-rd at the southeast corner of Wilson-rd.

It is the contention of Franklin County officials that the hedge is some 15 feet high and as such constitutes a traffic hazard preventing good vision.

Dr. McFarland, who lives at the intersection has indicated, according to county officials, that he won't cut the hedge down and suggests to the county that a traffic light be installed at the intersection.

When the work begins on the widening of Trabue-rd next spring, Elbin expressed doubt that the hedgerow will be condemned. He said that the widening of both Trabue-rd and Wilson-rd to a 24 foot width however will help immeasurably toward making the intersection much safer. As to the traffic light, Elbin is skeptical over its value at the present time.

The Board of Education has also been asked to present the need for the 2 mill levy for the schools which will be on the November ballot.

Officers are hoping for a large attendance at this meeting, both of members and nonmembers of the association so that voters may have definite and correct information about the proposed levies.

Label Days Is Hailed Successful

Success! . . . Success! . . . That is the cry at the Columbus Tuberculosis Society these days. Label Day, the giant volunteer work fest held Wednesday, Oct. 1, at the Deaf School, 450 Town-st, proved that volunteers truly are angels in disguise.

The 270 women who turned out at the school completed the job of "labeling" 125,000 Christmas seal letters in almost unbelievable time. So far beyond expectations was the number of women who came that more tables had to be set up at the last minute in order to accomodate them.

Label Day saves the Columbus Tuberculosis Society hundreds of dollars and a minimum of 1600 hours of staff labor by preventing at least two more original typings of the card files. Carbons of the original address labels will be used later for follow-up mailing pieces during the Christmas seal sale which begins Nov. 17. The Christmas seal sale is the only means of financial support the Columbus Tuberculosis Society. The Society is not a member of United Appeals.

A noon day luncheon was furnished free by 12 local business firms.

Participating in the project from this area were: Mrs. Earl Rader, 254 S. Richardson-av; Mrs. Arline Harris, 125 Clarendon-av; Mrs. Jane C. Camp, 168 S. Terrace-av; Mrs. G. W. Frizzell, 2285 W. Broad-st; Mrs. George T. Gusler, 3615 W. Broad-st; Mrs. George Schucks, 128 N. Central-av; Gertrude Wright, 99 S. Westgate-av; Mrs. William Brooker, 918 Wilshire-rd; Dorothy Brooker, 918 Wilshire-rd.

West Side Lumber Firm Challenges Magician Birch To Escape From Special Built Packing Box

Robert Kneisley, manager of the Hilltop Branch, Ohio National Bank, Harold Fox, president of Hilltop Kiwanis Club, and Willis Slyh of the West Side Lumber Co., inspect the packing box constructed by Slyh as a challenge to the magician "Birch" who will appear at West High School auditorium on Oct. 13. Birch has accepted the challenge to escape from the formidable looking packing case.

When Birch, the famous magician, appears at West High School auditorium on Oct. 13 he will be called upon to live up to the challenge of local Kiwanians and the West Side Lumber Co., to escape from a huge packing box in full view of the audience. The master magician has accepted the challenge and with the cunning imparted to him by the late Harry Houdini will endeavor to make good his escape.

The wily magician, who has thrilled audiences all over the world with his feats of magic, is appearing locally under the auspices of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. In this, his only appearance in Columbus this year, he will offer a matinee for school children only on the afternoon of Oct. 13 and then appear in an evening performance for adults. Tickets for the super magic show are now on sale by all members of the local Kiwanis Club and may be reserved at Sensenbrenner's, 2467 W. Broad-st.

In addition to the spectacle of escape from the packing box Birch will also present Princess the Vanishing Pony as one of the features of his show. The small pony is hoisted into midair and at the snap of a finger vanishes in thin air in full view of the audience.

A huge truck transports the 28 trunks and crates of equipment and scenery, making the Birch production the largest magical show on tour in the United States today. Birch is playing to capacity audiences in every city—and the reason? It is not a "talkie" and not a radio presentation, but Birch in person, presenting a most interesting evening of humor and mystery.

Mabel Sperry, brilliant young xylophonist, is the assisting artist. A star of radio and concert fame, she brings you delightful [illegible] on her World's Fair Marimbe.

The magic show committee of the local Kiwanis Club is composed of: tickets, Jim Cooper, chairman; Herbert Deems, Jack Sensenbrenner, George Williams, Frank Mason, Don Smith, Richard McGarry, Bob Miller, Franklin Sparks and Ed Planck. Publicity, C. Carlton Hartley, chairman; Jim Miles, Phillip V. Stout, Curt Wilcox and Mack Pemberton. Arrangements, Dr. R. J. Miller, chairman; Harry Parker, Gene Wolfe and Dr. D. S. Cowles.

The advance sale of tickets has already begun with tickets being available from any member of the local Kiwanis Club or from the following local business houses: Sensenbrenners, Fox Food Shop, Goodwin Pharmacy, Seiller's Department Store, The Hilltop Record, Westgate Electric, Watson Food Market, Wolfe Electric Service and West Hill Furniture. Reserved seats for the evening performance are available at [illegible] at $1.50 each.

Hello There!

J. W. Worrel

Ever talk to a bachelor about life insurance? Believe me, I have, and they're often pretty difficult to convince. "Life insurance?" a bachelor friend of mine scoffed the other day. "Now why should I bother about life insurance? I have no responsibilities and I'd rather spend my money on other things." I told him, of course, that there were a great many urgent reasons why a bachelor should buy life insurance. No matter how strongly a man may feel against the idea of marriage at the moment, the chances are overwhelming that he'll fall for its lure sometime or other. And once married, the little lady must be protected. But by that time our ex-bachelor will be older, his expenses heavier and his bankroll slimmer. On top of that, his premiums are going to be that much higher with each day's delay. Why, even if he should remain a bachelor, his insurance will provide foolproof protection for a rainy day. And, married or single, what a blessing a paid-up policy can be when he draws his salary for the last time! Our wonderfully flexible retirement plans can add untold comforts to those wonderful years of ease which will be his.

My bachelor friend was soon convinced. He doesn't laugh at the thought of life insurance any more.

The Highland Avenue Friends Church will hold its fall festival services beginning Tuesday evening with Rev. and Dee W. Cobb as the evangelists.

The Rev. and Mrs. Cobb are natives of Wilmore, Ky., and have made up an evangelistic team serving many churches and camp meetings of the nation. They were in the Highland Avenue Church for a meeting three years ago.

Services will be held each evening and twice each Sunday. The Rev. Chester G. Stanley is the pastor.

In Passing

By ESTHER WEAKLEY

This is a tribute to a very special guy. It will be done in my usual clumsy, stumbling manner but it will be sincere. (And I'm not apple-polishing either, or butteriesg up the boss.) The v. s. g. is Mr. C. Carlton Hartley. When I called to congratulate him on all the awards he won at the Ohio Newspaper Association convention, he gave his staff all the credit. One thing that makes him special is that—after fourteen years of winning awards—he wears the same size hat. Another thing is that he is the first to back any project that will benefit the Hilltop or any other community. One proof of his tolerance and patience is that he lets me foul up his nice papers with "In Passing." Next year he'll win even more awards—you'll see!

The Hilltop Scene—Never a dull moment at Belvidere and Broad. Inside of one hour the other day, there were the usual weekly automobile wreck on the corner; (still no traffic light) a mad cat scare; a neighbor returning from California; another neighbor distributing a bushel of tomatoes a relative in the country had given her; two newsboys trying to sit on the fire plug together, result: one black eye; a clothesline broke, full of just hung-up clothes; result: blue air; two men who had stopped in up the street for one for the road, serenading the neighborhood with "Beautiful Brown Eyes" . . . Will there be mums along Broad st this fall?

SLAVE SONG

How do you dare presume that I,
Old in the ways of men,
Will play your timeworn, childish games
Once and over again?

Here is my pride, my dignity,
Shattered to atom size;
I'm slave to a smile, a careless whim . . .
How did you grow so wise?

When did you learn a lady's heart
Breaks at a frown from you?
And who ever taught you sorcery,
You, who are only two?

Mail—From a friend in Portsmouth: "I read an article recently that asked the question 'Where is Autumn loveliest?' That would be a tough question to answer but I am sure it is best down here along the river" . . . From a correspondent in Logan: "The hills down here are just beginning to smoulder. Soon they will burst into flame" . . . It isn't often that anyone bothers to thank a newspaper columnist for write-ups—and they don't expect thanks. That is why when somebody does bother, it is greatly appreciated. I wouldn't presume to call myself a columnist, but a swell letter of thanks from Dave Wilson (WTVN) was very much appreciated, just the same. It made me feel that the wear-and-tear on my typewriter isn't "all for naught," as the poets say.

• • •

Speaking of mail, several years ago (1949, to be exact) my favorite abutin had occasion to write to James S. Crosley, managing editor of The Columbus Citizen. She had written a letter to the paper, expressing her appreciation to a local radio program. Am sure Mr. Crossley would not object to my quoting a part of his letter to her: "Maybe, since your illness, you've been able to see something which I think is a vital truth about life. That is that there isn't nearly enough frankness between people. They are too hesitant to tell each other frankly that they like something; appreciate some deed or that they have affection for someone else."

• • •

Here is part of a Creed, sent in by Blanche Meachum also of WTVN: (And incidentally, don't forget that she and Dad Meachum are still collecting sales tax stamps to buy Guide Dogs for blind people.)

Let me be a little kinder:
Let me be a little blinder
To the faults of those about me;
Let me praise a little more;
Let me be, when I am weary,
Just a little bit more cheery,
Let me serve a little better
Those that I am striving for.
Let me be a little braver
When temptation bids me waver;
Let me strive a little harder
To be all that I should be . . .
Let me think more
Of my neighbor, and less of me.

From somewhere: Barfly: "Will you join me?" Other ditto: "Why, are you coming unglued?" The preacher's evening sermon had been extremely tedious and the congregation gradually melted away. Finally one of the elders tiptoed to the pulpit and slipped a note under one corner of the Bible. It read: "When you finish, will you please turn off the lights, lock the door and put the key under the mat?"

Ah Boston

"So you come from New York", said an English lady to a traveling American. "I supposed, of course, you came from Boston."

"Why did you think that?" inquired the New York lady.

"Because I supposed all cultivated, intelligent Americans came from Boston."

"But what in the world made you think that?" was the natural question.

"O, I don't know, exactly. I think it was a Boston lady who told me."

Cowboys Eke Out 9-6 Win Over Central Pirates

Schooley (66) of Central is pictured in the above photo as he was being rushed in his own end zone in the first quarter of play that resulted in an automatic safety when his wild pass landed in the Central end zone. Note the intense look on the face of Central's Fleming as he watches Schooley's desperate attempt to pass.

By Woody Owens

West High School's gridiron eleven continued on the undefeated trail last Friday night as they chalked up their fourth win of the season and second in City League play by handing an underdog but hard fighting band of Central High Pirates a 9-6 defeat in a bitterly contested fray played on the riverside gridiron before a large homecoming crowd.

The Cowboys took an early 9-0 lead on a first period safety and a brilliant 49-yard gallop to pay dirt by Billy Haire in the second period.

From that point on they were outplayed in nearly every department and were forced to stave off a desperate final half rally which saw the Pirates penetrate inside the 10 yard line twice, only to be turned back by a desperate Cowboy defense and then getting the ball again and with a third string halfback by the name of Gene Bennett spearheading the attack they went 90 yards to score.

The climax of this drive was a fourth down aerial from the five yard line from De Censo to Brockmeyer.

Bennett personally accounted for 12 of the yards in this drive, but time ran out before they could seriously threaten again.

The contest opened as the Cowboys took the opening kickoff but failed to advance. Trabue kicked out of bounds on the home eleven's 43.

Schooley passed twice to Brockmeyer, which put the ball on the Cowboys' 25. Brooks ran his own left end for a first down on the 14. But the march was abruptly halted as Kruckeberg threw Schooley for a 10-yard loss and then Vincent intercepted a Schooley aerial on the 12 and returned to his own 28.

Ealy ran left end for eight and then Cole ran through a big hole over his own right guard and rambled 35 yards to the Pirates' 31.

Johnson stopped this march by intercepting Orr's pass on the 23. The Pirates then lost 22 yards on three running plays and Edington punted from his own end zone to Nafzger, who returned to the Central 17. The Cowboys penetrated to the five but were held for downs.

Schooley then faded deep into his own end zone to pass, but, being badly rushed by Thomas and Kruckelberg, he was forced to hurry his toss, which fell in his own end zone for an automatic safety.

West 2, Central 0

Neither team seriously threatened for the remainder of the quarter, which ended with the Pirates in possession on their own 38.

Second Quarter

Schooley ran off right tackle for seven yards and then repeated for a first down on his own 48. Nafzger then intercepted another Schooley aerial and returned to the Pirates' 48.

On a double reverse from Orr to Ongaro to Haire, the latter broke loose around his own left and, with two key blocks being thrown, one by Trabue and another by Johnson, he was soon in the clear to go all the way, untouched, to score. Ongaro added the point after, via placement.

West 9, Central 0

Central got the ball on the 50 yard line as two attempted kickoffs went out of bounds.

Schooley and Emmett then completed two aerials to Brockmeyer and the Pirates were again on the Cowboys' nine yard line. The Pirates failed to gain a yard on four attempts, with the Cowboys again taking the ball.

The Hilltoppers made a first down and then Trabue punted 47 yards to the Pirates' 43. The home eleven then gambled on four unsuccessful passes as the Cowboys took the ball on downs.

Orr then passed to Trabue who battled to the home eleven's seven yard line as the half ended.

West 9, Central 0.

Third Quarter

The second half began with Bennett returning Trabue's kickoff to his own 33.

The Pirates then mixed a fine running attack with a successful overhead game and in seven plays marched to the Cowboys' four yard line and for the third time in the contest they failed to score from inside the 10 as the Cowboys again took over.

Central was soon knocking on touchdown door again as Brooks recovered a fumble by Cole on the 15. The ever alert Jim Vincent, however, stopped the threat by intercepting a De Censo pass on the two and returned to his own 30 yard line.

Ealy then broke loose around his own left end and rambled 42 yards to the Pirates' 28. He repeated to the 15 but fumbled. Thornton, however, recovered.

This scoring threat was stopped on the 10-yard line as the Pirates took over on downs.

Bennett ran through a huge hole over his own left tackle for 27. Brooks ran over right tackle for eight and Bennett again repeated for 10 around left end to the Cowboys 45 as the third period ended.

West 9, Central 0

Fourth Quarter

Bennett carried for five, 27 and eight, to the five-yard line but three running plays failed to gain. On fourth down De Censo's pass to Brockmeyer was good for the touchdown. Edington's try for point was blocked by Sensenbrenner.

West 9, Central 6

Bennett personally accounted for 77 yards in this 90 yard march.

The Cowboys took the ensuing kickoff with Orr returning 31 yards to the Pirates' 44. Two successful passes from Orr to Trabue put the Cowboys on the 13-yard line, but they again lacked the punch to score as the home eleven again took over on its own 10 yard line.

The contest soon ended as the Cowboys recovered Bennett's fumble on the 35 and ran out the clock on two line plays.

Final score: West 9, Central 6.

Gene Bennett, the Pirates' halfback, was easily the game's outstanding performer, and not far behind was Brockmeyer, a brilliant pass catching end, who was a thorn in the Cowboys' side all night.

On defense Manuel, Phil Orem and Oates were standouts.

For the Cowboys Thomas, Kimbal, Kruckeberg and Vincent stood out on defense, while Haire and Ealy led the offensive.

This Friday night the Cowboys will travel to Hamilton for a clash with the Big Blue of that city.

The local lads, although undefeated to date, will be no better than an even choice to win, although the Big Blue has already lost two early season contests. No local fan has forgotten the 67-12 trouncing they handed the Cowboys last season.

It would be quite an achievement should the Cowboys return home victorious and this is possible should the local lads play the type of football they displayed against South in the City League opener and that they are capable of playing.

Letters To The Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters, however, must be not more than 400 words in length and all must be signed by the writer. The writer's name will be omitted if requested.

To the Editor of The Hilltop Record or to whom it may concern:

Now that the Franklin Twp. Volunteer Fire Department has completed a year of service to our community I would like to make this report to our residents on some of our activities which should be of interest to you as your lives and property are at stake.

Some 19 months ago a group of interested men of our community banded together to take 40 hours of intensive training in the use of modern fire-fighting equipment. At that time we had only the promise of a completely modern fire truck. But with faith in the trustees' promise that we would get [illegible] as the result of the passage of a two mill levy, it was enough for us to get started.

Much of this training was book work on the chemistry of fire-fighting, the use of ladders and rope work, and was carried on every week for two hours in the evening at the Sullivant Avenue Airport club room.

Then as the snow began to fly we received our first unit of equipment.

Training went on all winter and spring and in the meantime another piece of equipment had been delivered and finally the third and last piece arrived and by July, 1951, we were ready for actual service to our community.

During this time a lot of time had been spent by our volunteers not only in training but organization and formation of three separate companies. They were to be so located that no part of the township would be more than three miles from a fire house. Many maps and surveys were made by the trustees and county commissioners and the result was that one company was to be located in the San Margaritta territory and designated as Company No. 1, one near the township hall at Sullivant and Derrer-rd and called Company No. 2 and one is the Briggsdale area and it would be Co. No. 3.

Next was to find suitable housing for them and the trustees came through with a rental proposition until permanent buildings can be built. This is still in effect at No. 1 and No. 2, but a fine new fire house has been built and is in use at No. 3, just east of 3C highway on Frank-rd.

Since no department is any better than its communication system, much time had been spent on this item alone. As a result of the fine cooperation of the Ohio Bell System with our officers we think we have one of the finest set-ups of any rural department in Ohio. In a few words it works like this: One fire number is listed for our whole township—JO. 6373—and as soon as you call it a man answers at the Central No. 2 station, 24 hours a day, and takes your fire location and all the information you can give him and even while you are talking he has probably set off the siren at the proper station and the truck is being manned to roll. This is done by direct telephone line to each station and automatically sets the siren in operation. The first man in answers the telephone and gets the location and kind of fire and takes off with the truck. Other men hearing the siren come from all directions in their own cars and go directly to the scene. All this has happened quicker than the time it has taken me to write this. Each siren is set to blow 10 times, which is ample for us to determine which one is blowing and determine if it is a fire siren rather than an ambulance or cruiser or other piece of emergency equipment.

In case more than one person should call in the alarm at the same time you will not get a busy signal for we have a spare phone that takes this call and in addition to these two we have a private number that the firemen call in on which does not interfere with the fire phone. Then there are the two private lines to each company, so unless a major fire hits our community we feel we can give you fine service. In addition to this, each truck is connected to the sheriff's office by two-way FM radio and each station has a receiver tuned to the sheriff's office at all times which keeps us informed as to the whereabouts of all our units as well as our neighbors. This is a valuable feature for we have a mutual aid contract with all the other townships in the county and we know at once what their calls are and whether we may be called in or not. While assistance is rarely needed, much time is saved in getting equipment rolling in case it is needed. A good example of this is the bad fire at Hilliards last winter. They had help from as far as Canal Winchester, Naval Air Station, Dublin and West Jefferson on the way as soon as they made the request for help. This cooperation and quick response has had national recognition in the trade journals and insurance papers. This kind of a hookup not only gives additional equipment but abundant man power which is very vital in a big fire. Nearly every company in the county has at least 30 trained men on call so this gives every man a chance to get a little air and rest without jeopardizing the fire-fighting operations.

Now for a brief description of our equipment and its ability to serve you. Our engines are powered by GMC and International standard truck engines and each has a regular cab to keep the driver dry and warm. It furnishes power to the front mount pump which can supply 500 gallons a minute at any pressure to 350 pounds.

It can be put in service in a few seconds for we carry 500 gallons of water on each truck and in the case of a grass fire we can roll the truck right along as the hoses fight the fire, saving much work and time in dragging hoses a long distance.

Each truck has an assortment of seven kinds and sizes of nozzles which can all be used at the same time if enough water is available. However, since we have relatively few hydrants available we carry an auxiliary gasoline pump of 300 gallons per minute which two men take to a source of water supply such as a cistern, pond, creek or any other source and pump it direct to fire or fire truck. Our training is to use as little water as possible to control the fire and it is surprising how large a fire is extinguished with just the water we carry.

Also each truck carries around 1600 feet of hose of various sizes so we can reach most any house or barn without leaving the hard surface roadways.

For night work we carry a portable electric light plant and two 500 watt floodlights with adequate extension lines to reach all sides of a building. Then enough ladders to scale any ordinary building in our territory, besides high tension wire cutters, axes, pry bars, ropes for rescue, first aid kits, gas masks and last but not least, brooms, mops and scoop shovels to clean up most of the mess ordinarily left to the tenants to do, so in case of a house fire that is not a total loss we try to leave it habitable as soon as possible. This is all equipment on each truck at all times, besides much more at the house available on an instant's notice. This represents about $15,000 each, so you can soon see where a lot of the first levy has been spent. This is in addition to about $30,000 in house and land at No. 3 station.

We have about 90 men in our department and they each have a pair of boots, raincoat, hard and soft helmets, mittens and flashlights, which is no small investment. They all serve without pay except the trustees pay the individual company answering the fire $25 per run, which goes into their treasury to generally buy extra equipment they need and the trustees cannot buy. Each company has an assistant chief, captain and lieutenant who are in charge of their company, under the direction of a full time fire chief for the entire township.

Each company has its own set of business officers to direct and guide the workings of the many activities that we are called on to do.

In return for this service we only ask you to give us a call as soon as possible when you see a fire, giving as much information as possible as to the kind and extent, and above all, the CORRECT ADDRESS. Remember, the phone number, JO. 6373, but don't call it for any other purpose than fire.

We have many calls for emergency squad service but as yet we are not equipped with one.

Many people don't realize that we have answered some 233 calls in the first year.

We expect to contact everyone in the township within the next few months to bring our record cards up to date.

Remember, we are mainly interested in not hearing you call, so practice good housekeeping to prevent fires and keep every one fire conscious, especially in these fall months with the attending hazards of starting up the heating equipment that has stood idle all summer.

Please check all stoves, furnaces and chimneys especially so you will not be the next victim.

Assistant Chief No. 2

Gentlemen,

We wish to extend to you and your staff our sincere thanks for the generous allotment of space to the publicity for our school fair. We are certain it contributed to the success of this project.

We also appreciate having received copies of your paper in which these items appeared. Payment for these is enclosed.

Dear Mr. Hartley:

I want to express my appreciation for the beautiful flowers which I received today through the courtesy of the Rosebud Flower Co. and the Hilltop Record.

I want you to know that the people who deserve the flowers are the Division Chairmen and the solicitors who did an excellent job in putting this drive across. I also want the people who subscribed to the Membership Drive to know that without their help, our YMCA enrollment campaign would not have been successful. Certainly a special vote of thanks should go to Mr. Sam Alford, Chairman of the Membership Committee and the staff at the YMCA for their excellent work in carrying out the details.

I am looking forward to the day when we may have a Hilltop YMCA building to meet the needs of our youth on the Hilltop.

Again thanking you, I am

Yours very truly,

SELF CONTAINED CLASS
By Sharon Gothard

There is a new type of class at Starling Junior High School this semester called a self contained class. Its homeroom is 17 and the teacher in charge is Mrs. Dunlap. Similar classes are being held for 7B's throughout the city in an effort to find a better way for helping the pupils adjust to the change as between the elementary and junior high school. The class is made up of the 26 pupils assigned to that homeroom. They have four periods a day in the same room with the same teacher. At Starling these are the first two and the last two of the day. During that time they have citizenship, English and georgraphy as well as time for one study period. The rest of the day their schedule is similar to that of all other 7B's.

For one of their activities they are making scrap books of important events for the year 1952-53 in an attempt to see how these events affect their lives. They are also having a fine collection of sales tax stamps as part of the school's contest. They have a bulletin board committee that changes each week. It is the responsibility of this committee to keep the bulletin board timely and representative of the subjects being studied.

TAX STAMP CONTEST
By Virginia Langdon

For the month of October Starling is having a new type of tax stamp contest. The tax stamps will be used as election ballots and with them each pupil has an opportunity to vote for his favorite candidate.

A pupil must bring at least one stamp to be registered and with his stamps he votes their value for his choice as president. All the votes of each home room are credited to whichever candidate receives the majority; in other words, the votes of each homeroom are cast as a unit just as all the electoral votes of a state go to whichever candidate has a majority of votes in that state. Pupils in each homeroom choose their election officials who correspond to the clerks in a voting precinct. It is believed this plan will serve to help every pupil understand how the electoral college system works as well as to increase the school's collection of sales tax stamps.

Y-TEEN MEETING
By Lynne McFadden

The Y-Teens of Starling Junior High School held their first meeting of the semester on Thursday, Oct. 2. There were 81 present, including a representative from the YWCA, Mrs. Helen Seward. Dues are to be 35 cents a semester. This year, among other activities, there will again be a Sweetest Girl Contest through which chocolate bars are sent to Korea.

GIRLS' GLEE ELECTS
By Virginia Epley

The Girls' Glee has elected officers for the first half of the semester. They are Shelby Shook, president; Carol Kilson, vice-president; Mary Jane Rixinger, secretary; Faye Gann, treasurer; Dorothy Wellmitz, Charlotte Edgington, and Judy Harmon, librarians.

The Girls Glee is under the direction of Miss Winchester, who has a lot of good music planned for the year.

PTA MEMBERSHIP
By Nina Wood

Starling is holding its annual Parent-Teachers' Association membership drive from Sept. 29 to Oct. 10. There is a contest among the homerooms to see who can get the highest percentage of members. The prizes are $3, $2, and $1.

FUN WITHOUT DESTRUCTION
By Carol Hamler

Starling has chosen its representatives for the city-wide committee of the annual Fun Without Destruction campaign. They are Lynne McFadden and Ernie Mawhirten. These two will talk to each of the home rooms in Starling during the Hallowe'en season. They will also visit the elementary schools in the area where they will give skits on the subject of Fun Without Destruction.

BETTY NEWTON
By June Graves

Last week the eighth and ninth grade cooking classes of Starling Junior High School were given a lesson by one of the Betty Newtons from the Ohio Fuel and Gas Co. She demonstrated the use of the gas ranges and refrigerator in the cooking room. While doing this she prepared a snack for the girls and gave them recipes for several dishes.

The cooking classes are under the direction of Miss Ley.

Hilliards Eleven Downs Grove City

With halfback Barry Myers plunging three yards twice for touchdowns, Hilliards High defeated Grove City, 14-6, in a Mid-Six League game last Friday night on the losers' gridiron.

Score by periods:
Hilliards	0	7	0	7	—14
Grove City	6	0	0	0	— 6

Scoring: Hilliards touchdowns—Myers 2. Extra points—Armstrong 2 (placement). Grove City touchdown—Freeman.

So What?

"But, Joe, I can't marry you, you're almost penniless."

"That's nothing, the Czar of Russia was Nicholas."

Harold Fox

For the second week in succession, Harold Fox has come up with bargains that one can hardly pass up. For instance, this week he is offering one cake of mush free of charge to each person that buys a pound of little pig sausages. These sausages being featured by Fox are the new skinless type being offered by David Davies. By popular demand we are again offering one pound of Cube Steaks for 89 cents. These steaks are cut from choice beef, the kind that melts in your mouth. Choice cuts of quality meats are to be found in the meat department, and if you don't see the cut of meat that you particularly desire be sure to ask Bob Brown to cut it for you, or if you want some particular type or mixture of ground meat Bob will be glad to see to it that it is taken care of. Another special being offered this week is ground beef at only 39 cents per pound.—Adv.

Stretched

Two suspender salesmen were boasting of their products. "Five army mules pulled on either end of a pair of our braces," proclaimed one, "and they couldn't make them break."

"Pshhh!" scoffed the other. "Yesterday I was rushing to catch a train at Penn Station in New York, and my suspenders got caught in a pillar on the platform.

"I made my train all right but when the conductor opened the door in Philadelphia, those darn suspenders of ours snapped me right back to New York."

Hilltop Man Seeks Answer To Housewife's Sticky Problem

With a viscosimeter, Rex Jones is determining the "consistency" of a casting material being used in research work at Battelle Institute.

You need not be a scientist to know how annoying it is to have adhesives stick when you do not want them to stick. However, finding a remedy for this annoyance requires study and persistence, as Rex Jones, 766 S. Richardson-av, can tell you. This is but one of several problems that he has worked on during his seven years as a member of Battelle Institute's research staff.

In this particular study, Rex is seeking a formula or method for applying remoistenable glue so that it is not affected by heat or humidity. When he finds the answer to this problem, housewives will no longer be disappointed to find the package decorations or labels they carefully stored in the attic stuck together and unusable.

The group at Battelle with which Rex works, known as the Graphic Arts Research Division, is composed of some 30 scientists specializing in improvements of the printing industry. The group can boast of a number of valuable contributions to better printing. Perhaps the best known of these contributions is a rapid process for reproducing printed material known as Xerography. This process is now in commercial use.

Rex, who was a navy aviator during the war, received his bachelor of science degree in chemistry from OSU. He and his wife, Catherine, have a full-time job supervising their two daughters, Lynn and Judy. Lynn is in second grade, while Judy is in kindergarten.

Prize Winner

Your Youth

Last week seemed to me like a repeat performance of the Republican and Democratic conventions in Chicago. Speeches were made, nominations were in order, and finally election of officers for five Gra-Y clubs and one Jr. Hi-Y club took place. All of the meetings of all six clubs were full of spirit and very lively, but all of the meetings were nevertheless well handled and very orderly. Results of the elections for the six schools are as follows:

West Mound Gra-Y—President, Terry Beyer; vice-president, Pete Levering; secretary, Teddy Aisel; treasurer, Robert Voorhees; chaplain, Charles Bowen, and football captain, Jim Ferguson.

Highland Gra-Y — President, Mike Engle; vice-president, Larry Little; secretary, LeRoy Lowery; treasurer, John Galendine; chaplain, Glen Moler, and football captain, Howard Shepherd.

John Burroughs Gra-Y—President, Dean Potts; vice-president, Larry Little; secretary, Eddie Finley; treasurer, Jack Sims; chaplain, Billy Frank, and football captain, Billy Ingle.

West Broad Gra-Y—President, Louis Cruse; vice-president, Jan Lawrence; secretary, Tom Sines; treasurer, John Graham; chaplain, David Davis, and football captain, Bob Shay.

West Jr. Hi-Y—President, Fred Lanch; vice-president, Sherwood Waltman; secretary, Tom Coffman; treasurer, John Kuntz; chaplain, Dick Furry, and football captain, Sherwood Waltman.

Bob and I wish to extend our congratulations to the above fellows who have been elected as officers of their clubs. We know that all of you will do your jobs to the best of your ability.

I wish to announce at this time that the Hilltop Gra-Y Football League will start this Saturday at West High School. All of the Hilltop grade schools have their teams entered in the league. They have been having practice sessions for the past three weeks getting ready for these opening games. The first game will begin at 8:30 sharp with Westgate Gra-Y meeting West Jr. Hi-Y. The second game will be at 9:30 with West Mound playing John Burroughs. The final game of the day will begin at 10:30 a. m. when Highland faces West Broad.

Bob has asked me to report that the YMCA Indian Guides met last Tuesday at the Wyandotte reservation at 1570 Wilson-rd, in the tepee of Big Chief C. C. Hartley. Don't forget, Big and Little Braves. These pow wows are scheduled for the first and third Tuesdays of every month.

Miss Betty Knight, student at Otterbein College and volunteer worker for our Hilltop YMCA, reports that her girls' work is progressing nicely. She wishes to invite all girls in West Junior High School every Wednesday at 3:30 after school. She also wishes to invite all girls of grade school age to attend the girls' craft class held at the Hilltop YMCA every Friday at 3:30 p. m.

Good news for all you guys in West Senior High School! Bob has told me that a Hi-Y club will soon be organized. C. H. Sedgwick of West High School will be our club advisor, and this means that you are sure to have a bang-up program. Watch this column for further details, and then get on the band wagon with the rest of the guys who claim West High is going all out for a good club this year.

In closing, Bob and I wish to thank all the wonderful people who helped to make our membership drive a huge success. Words can't tell you how much we appreciate your efforts, so we will just say, "Thanks a million!"

Circumstances

You can be honest and you can be polite, but there are times when you can't be both at the same time.

Adding Up

A lad from the Arkansas hills was drafted. His sergeant warned him that he would be expected to don a clean pair of socks every morning.

A week later, the sergeant descended upon him at company drill and hollered, "Where are your shoes?"

The distressed private protested, "Geo whiz, Sarge, how do ya expect me to get 'em on over seven pairs of socks?"

About The Hilltop

That old football fever again. Saturday morning rush, game time for the Buckeyes, Hilltop's pretty cheerleader, Shirley Cline, the colorful scarlet and gray band playing the National Anthem, while the fans stand at attention, service men circled the field, the convalescent ones with nurses standing by, as half-time tribute was paid to the Boy Scouts. It was a great day for the Irishman from Central, "Hopalong" Cassedy, who scored three touchdowns.

In the Lions Club block, there was Walter Gilham and his son, Bill, who wants to be a newspaper reporter when he grows up . . . Across from us were Vic and Helen Lowe of the bakery clan . . . Down in front were the Ted Webbs. Their son, Jack, is a senior this year at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Thanks from all of us to the Kiwanis Club members for showing the youngsters a wonderful time Saturday at Westgate Park . . . Mickey Schwan came in on the prizes—a rod and reel . . . Sgt. Rolf Augustine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Augustine, is due home from Germany . . . Pfc. Ramon Dale Cox, son of Mrs. Janet Cox, 87 N. Wheatland-av, has been presented the Bronze Star Award for meritorious service in Korea . . . While home on leave CWO Fred and Mrs. Perkins of the 37th and their two children, Rhoda and Howard, visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davis. Before returning to Camp Polk they motored to Minnesota, where they were guests of the Perkins family.

When in New York for a fall vacation Berneice Green was feted with dinner parties and shows, by her friends and relatives . . . I forgot to tell you that "Newt" Davis, a man with varied interests, is the new commodore of the Buckeye Lake Yacht Club . . . With their cabin cruiser tucked away for the winter and their summer home closed for the season, Mary and Harold Miller are back with us. Too bad for Mary, the first time she put her city shoes on she got a blister on her heel.

Jimmy Dew will wed Patty Graves, a June graduate of St. Mary's of the Springs Academy, in an open church ceremony, Oct. 18, at Corpus Christi Church . . . Mrs. Russell Barnes, member of the Star Chapter of the Navy Mothers of America, will take an active part in the annual Tag Day Sale, Oct. 3 and 4.

Mrs. Earl Rader is the new vice-president of the Zeta Beta Chapter of Delta Omicron, professional music fraternity. Mrs. Robert Muncie is secretary . . . Tomorrow Bob Cooke, who is seeking election as Franklin County sheriff, will be in charge of the security detail for Governor Adlai E. Stevenson, who will be a guest of our fair city . . . Today Paul Snyder, manager of the new Western Auto Store, will be host to the community. It's their formal opening. Carnations for the ladies, razor blades for the men and comic books for the small fry.

The fall menu—with plenty of football on it. Friday evenings. We cheer the West High Cowboys. Saturday afternoon, it's game time for the Buckeyes, the colorful Scarlet and Gray band plays the national anthem while our flag is being raised. Service men circle the field, convalescents with nurses . . . Shirley Cline, West High grad, is one of the pretty cheer leaders . . . In the Lion's Club block, Walter Gilham with his son "Bill", who wants to be a newspaper reporter, when he grows up . . . The Ted Webb's hurrying to their seats, carrying a blanket, and wearing sun glasses. Their son, Jack, is a senior this year at MIT . . . Vic and Helen Lowe, the "bakers", seeing the game from the 50-yard line . . . The greeting card man, Jerry Walsh, rounding up his shut-in buddies after the game.

When in New York, Bernice Green's friends feted her with shows and dinner parties. Sgt. Rolf Augustine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Augustine, is due home from Germany . . . Recently Pfc. Ramon Dale Cox was presented the bronze star award for meritorious service in Korea . . . CWO Fred and Mrs. Perkins of the 37th Div. and their two children, Rhoda and Howard, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Al. Davis. Before returning to Camp Polk, La., they plan to visit the Perkins family in Minnesota . . . "Newt" Davis, a man of varied interests, is now Commodore of the Buckeye Lake Yacht Club . . . Happy birthday to "Sis" and "Spike" Ringer, on Oct. 13.

Jimmy Dew, will wed Patty Graves, this June's graduate of St. Mary's of the Springs Academy, in an open church ceremony, on Saturday, Oct. 18 at Corpus Christi Church . . . Still holding hands after 54 years of wedded bliss, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Slyh celebrated their 74th and 76th birthdays Sunday . . . It's a baby girl for the Lou Hauesen's . . . It was Bob Cooke, Democratic candidate for sheriff who took care of the security detail for Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson while he was a guest in our city . . . Paul Snyder, manager of the new Western Auto Store at 2886 W. Broad-st, was host to the community at their formal opening last Thursday . . . Popular Mike Sheskey has opened a new office for the American Stain Shingle Co. in Erie, Pa. Indian Summer

This is America's show-time.

This is our Indian Summer, when field and hill and woodland unite in glorious blazes of color. Never have the clouds seemed so full, the skies so blue, the days so right for living.

It is also the time when we prepare for things to come. Granaries are filled. Fences are mended. Roofs are repaired.

And over town and country alike drift the autumn's two most beloved trademarks:—the sharp, clean scent of burning leaves, and the familiar aroma of the kitchen, where fruits and vegetables are slowly simmering into goodness on the fires. . . .

The hand of God—the "Great Provider"—is everywhere evident now. But throughout the year, God provides for us in an even more important way, if we but give Him the chance. Through Him, we can all prepare for coming events by fortifying our souls with a faith that cannot be shaken, no matter how severely our hearts and minds are tried.

We need the material security so evident everywhere in America in Indian Summer. But we also need a spiritual storehouse of moral reserve that only our churches can help us to build. No man can neglect it. And by attending church regularly, he will learn a great, though simple truth:—that the strength of God is also his own. . . .

Be of good courage, and he shall strengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the Lord.
Psalms: 31-24

MAGAZINE CAMPAIGN

By Edward Green

On Tuesday, Sept. 30, Hilliards High School students started their 1952 magazine campaign. This campaign is sponsored by the Curtis Publishing Co.

The campaign will last two weeks, starting Tuesday, Sept. 30, and ending Tuesday, Oct. 14. The goal is $1,500.

The student council met last week and decided that the profits from the sales should be used to purchase a new electric football scoreboard. The scoreboard will be 18 feet long and 9½ feet high. The total cost will be $1,390. There is already $800 in the school treasury to pay for it, contributed by athletic boosters and from previous senior class funds.

The top prize to be given to the highest salesman is either a G.E. Wakeup radio, or a Benrus watch and cuff link set for a boy and a purse, Benrus watch, and earring set for a girl. Second prize is a Brownie camera. Third prize is a Scheaffer pen set with initials on it.

Also there will be two awards given away at a drawing. Each person with a $5 sale will have a chance on this drawing. A clock and a calendar watch will be given away, too.

The homeroom that is high in sales will be treated with all the ice cream the students can eat.

The homeroom teacher of the highest homeroom in sales each day will receive a stuffed army mule for the day which they will autograph. At the end of the campaign the mule will be given to the highest salesman.

Gail DeWolfe is the chairman of the campaign.

Fire Protection Levy Is Urged By Twp. Officials

Even with passage of a proposed three and one half mill current expense(fire protection) levy the tax rate for Franklin Township will continue to be among the lowest in Franklin County, proponents of the levy pointed out this week. Only two other townships have a lower rate for the current taxing period.

The proposed levy would be an increase of only one and one half mills over the present two mill levy, township officials said.

Over all needs of the township during the next five year period have been estimated at $87,500—the estimated amount that the new tax levy would bring in each year. Included in needs of the local subdivision as outlined by the Franklin Township Trustees are: administrative costs including compensation of trustees, clerk, police constable, etc., $7500; deductions by the County Auditor to cover Franklin Township's share of the expense of the Board of Health, election expenses, workmens compensation, etc., $7500; highway maintenance, including 35 miles of unimproved roads, $25,000; operating expenses of the fire department, salaries, payment on fire equipment notes, interest, new equipment, etc., $27,500; purchase of land and erection of two fire stations (during the five year period) $20,000.

As a result of having local fire protection, most residents of Franklin Township have received more favorable fire insurance rates. This is due to placing most property within a three mile radius of an operating fire station. In many instances, the savings on insurance has offset a major part of the existing two mill tax levy now in effect.

Township officials point out that as new property is added to the tax duplicate during the next five years, the three and one half mill levy will actually be reduced by some amount since only the original amount of the levy (total for the first taxable year) can be collected in any year it is in effect.

Three Artists From This Area In Competition

With high hopes of bringing national fame back to this area, the Columbus Tuberculosis Society will shortly dispatch 20 original Christmas seal designs, by local artists, to New York. From these designs and others submitted from all over the United States, the national Christmas seal for 1954 will be chosen. The local contest closed Sept. 20.

Entered in the competition from the Hilltop and West Side are, Mrs. Shirley Myer, 845 S. Wayne-av; Mrs. Betty Osman, 709 Richardson-av; and Ronald Cunningham, 237 S. Sandusky-st.

Mrs. Myer's design was that of a toy train engine, tugging a coal car under sprigs of Christmas tree branches. This is Mrs. Myers first attempt in an art contest.

Mrs. Osman's design was that of a little girl looking wistfully at a miniature Christmas tree standing on a window sill. Mrs. Osman is employed at a wholesale drug company as a typist and is the mother of two children, one a student at West High.

Ronald Cunningham's design was that of the dove of peace carrying in its beak a banner of seasons greetings. The dove was done in silver while the greeting is in red. Ronald is a 17 year old junior at Central High. Another hobby besides art is that of woodcraft. He has made for his home a bookcase, night-stand, coffee table and a lamp.

The person whose design is selected as the 1954 official Christmas seal will receive national fame and remuneration up to $500 from the National Tuberculosis Association. The Christmas seal, which was the original seal in this country, is still the sole means of financial support for most of the 3000 tuberculosis associations across the country. Its annual selection, therefore, is based on its appeal for holiday mail.

The Columbus Tuberculosis Society will conduct its annual Christmas seal sale in November. The Society is not a member of United Appeals.

Hilltop Kiwanis Sponsor Window Painting Contest

Beginning Oct. 24 ,the Hilltop area will be infested with spooks, goblins, leprechauns, black cats and what have you, as the school children of nine elementary schools begin their annual custom of painting Halloween decorations on local merchants' store windows in a contest sponsored annually by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Beginning this week the fifth and sixth grade students of Westgate, West Broad, John Burroughs, West Mound, Highland, Concordia Lutheran, St. Aloysius, Skidmore and St. Mary Magdalene schools began their canvass of local merchants seeking to secure permission to paint local windows in water colors showing Hallowe'en scenes and designs.

The deadline for filing of entries is Friday noon Oct. 17.

As in the past, cash prizes will be awarded the youngsters adjudged to have the best decorated window. A prize of equal amount will also be awarded by Hilltop Kiwanis to the school, the winning entries represent.

Next week the Kiwanians will visit each of the schools and pass out free water color paints which are to be used in the contest.

The Kiwanis committee in charge of this years event are: Bob Miller, 367 Binns-blvd, chairman; Paul Rausch, 2929 Palmetto-dr; Lou Rausch, 3051 Palmetto-dr and Bob Weaver, 228 N. Harris-av.

Announcement of judges for the annual contest, which was first originated on the Hilltop and later adopted by other portions of the city, will be made next week.

Windows will be judged on Oct. 28 and prizes awarded winning students at their schools on the following week.

EUCHRE PARTIES BEGIN

Euchre parties are now being sponsored every Wednesday night by Camp Chase Post 98 of the American Legion at their home, 3211 W. Broad-st. The parties begin promptly at 8:15 p. m., according to George Levisay, chairman in charge of the event. The public is invited to attend the weekly affair.

Community Hallowe'en Celebration Is Changed

The seventh annual Hilltop Community Council Halloween Party will be held in two separate locations this year. Glenwood Recreation Center will be host to one party and the other is to be held at Westgate Park, Friday, Oct. 31.

At Glenwood there will be a square dance for the teen-agers, fish pond for the younger children, pop-corn, candy, pop, ice cream and hot dogs. Coffee and doughnuts will be sold to the adults. Contest and a masquerade parade will be held for the various age groups with prizes being awarded. The party at Glenwood will get under way at 7 p. m. and will last until 11 p. m. It will be held rain or shine (inside) and there is no admission. Everyone invited.

At Westgate Park a round dance will be held for the teen-agers in the new shelter house. Contests and a masquerade parade will be held in the old shelter house and prizes will be awarded. The same type of refreshments as at Glenwood will be sold on the grounds. The park will be well lighted and safety patrols will be on duty throughout the evening. The party begins at 7 p. m. and lasts until 11 p. m. All Hilltoppers are invited. In case of inclement weather the dance will be held as scheduled since it will be inside and as many refreshment booths as possible will be moved under cover.

Many Hilltop organizations and the PTA's of all Hilltop schools will help to co-sponsor this party in order to give the children of this community a good time at Halloween and at the same time help to keep property damage down.

Mrs. Dorothy Thompson is chairman of the affair, with F. N. Reister of the Recreation Department as her assistant.

Due to a conflict of dates, the annual Halloween party was divided into the two sections and will not be held at West High School this year. The Ohio Association of School Librarians had previously reserved West High School for their annual state convention on Friday, Oct. 31, and Saturday, Nov. 1. Due to the prior commitments for the librarian convention, the Halloween party was divided into the two sections since no other facilities large enough were available on the Hilltop.

In order that the champ trophy might rest at Beacon Light until next year, the new champs had to triumph over crack teams from Wyandot, Berwick, Minerva Lake and Bridgeview.

All personnell of the Beacon Light are strictly West Side, Hilltop and Rome residents and as such they have brought the city championship to that area.

Selling Old Furniture Is No Problem If Advertised

A two line ad placed in The Hilltop Record and West Side News succeeded in selling a nine-piece dining room suite recently for Mrs. R. A. Dittoe, 32 N. Powell-av. Mrs. Dittoe placed the following ad in both papers on Sept. 25:

DINING ROOM SUITE, 9 piece, reasonable. JO. 6476 after 5.

As a result she received eight calls and was successful in selling the dining room furniture.

Now everyone knows that dining room furniture is the hardest to sell! Think what this could mean to you. Let up help you sell any old furniture, clothing, tools and miscellaneous items. Just call RA. 1125 and ask for Classified.

Former Local Residents Are Reported Safe

Word was received early Monday from England by Richard "Dick" Finneran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Finneran, 211 S. Eureka-av that his wife Bernice and two daughters Eileen, 6 and Sharon, 4 had luckily not embarked on the ill-fated Bristol train which was wrecked in England last week with an appalling loss of life.

Mrs. Finneran had departed for England on the liner "United States" with her two daughters to visit her mother who is seriously ill in England. The trio according to plans worked out before departure were to have disembarked from the "United States" and taken the ill fated train to their destination.

FOOT IS INJURED

Harold Cunningham, Valleyview-dr, guard at the Ohio Penitentiary, is currently confined to his home with a foot infection resulting from a fall in a darkened tower at the state penal institution. Cunningham suffered a severely bruised foot when he missed a step in a dimly lighted tower last week.

Volunteer Fire Department Will Stage Mammoth Halloween Carnival At Hilliards

"Norwich" the 900 pound steer in the above photo is to be one of the grand prize awards to be made at the Hilliard Fire Department Hallowe'en Carnival on Oct. 31. Volunteer smoke eaters aiding in the roundup of "Norwich" are Carl Lawry, Harry Cutler, general chairman, John Becker, Mack Barr, Bill Carl and Harold Michel, Hilliards fire chief. "Norwich" didn't like that fire engine invading his barnyard bailiwick for the photo this week and proved it later by scurrying through the line of firemen.

Hilliards Volunteer Fire Department members have completed plans for two evenings and one afternoon of entertainment for all Halloween revellers.

Starting at 7 p. m. Friday, Oct. 31 the program calls for entertainment by the local and outstanding American Legion Band and the Hilliards High School Band. At 8 p. m. a masked parade will go under way for cash prizes to young and old.

Youngsters 14 years old and under will be treated to free rides on the merry-go-rounds, swings, train and tractor. Free round and square dancing to the music of Milton Hall's orchestra will round out the balance of the evening.

Saturday starting at 1 p. m. a band and baton twirling contest will be held for a trophy to the winners. Several greased pigs will be given away in the course of the afternoon. Also a prize for the greased pole event — come prepared.

Saturday evening the program will get under way at 7 p. m. with prizes being given to the largest masked family, tallest, shortest, fattest, man and women and bald headed men.

Grand prize awards will be made at 10 p. m. including a 900 pound steer, bicycle, dishes, ham, lamp set, table lamp and electric kitchen clock, winding up with a free Halloween costume dance.

Local High School Y-Teens To Take Part In Roll Call

Several West High School Y-Teens are taking part in planning the activities of Y-Teen Roll Call Week which is being celebrated nationally Oct. 12 to 19. Barbara Barbee, president of the West High Y-Teen club will participate in the special Candlelighting Service on Sunday. Sue Key is a member of the worship committee. The West High Y-Teen Choir will sing. Members include Judy Fenimore, Alice Athey, Marlene England, Mary Exman, Grace Van Atta, Sue Severns, Pat Henry, Linda Lease and Sue Key.

Columbus Y-Teens are joining this week in the nation-wide celebration of National Y-Teen Roll Call Week. They are planning special programs in each high school in addition to several city-wide events at the Y.M.C.A. Roll Call week is set aside each year to welcome new members to the Y-Teens and Y.M.C.A. family. Y-Teen membership is open to any girl between 12 and 17 who is in high school and girls of all races and religions participate in the Y-Teen program.

Y-Teen Roll Call Week started off with a bang on Monday, Oct. 13, with the Junior High Jamboree. Over 300 junior Y-Teens attended the Y after school for a program of square dancing and games and an opportunity to get acquainted with the Y-Teens from other schools from all over the city. This Get-Acquainted party signaled the opening of junior Y-Teens activities for the fall and will feature in addition to the games a poster contest between the schools.

Climax of the week's celebration will be a Candlelighting Service on Sunday, Oct. 19 at Trinity Church with a Recognition Tea for new members to follow at the Y.M.C.A. Parents, principals and advisors are invited to the 3 p.m. Candlelighting Service which will welcome new members with an impressive worship service featuring the lighting of candles by each girl symbolic of the Y-Teen friendship with teen-agers around the world. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Hilltop Record:

Why can't we have sidewalks to the Westgate School area for our children to walk on?

Certainly there is no lawn in the city of Columbus as precious as the life of a little child.

It's hazardous enough for adults to walk in the streets, much less to put our children out in the streets to face the danger of darting in and out between cars parked along the streets and to cope with the "hot rods" and drivers who think they're at the "Indianapolis Speedway."

Even the most careful drivers have accidents.

OBITUARY

"Beloved, it is well
God's ways are always right
And perfect love is o'er them all
Though far above our sight."

God has called another of our loved ones home. Father passed away Tuesday, Sept. 30, at 1 p. m. He was born on May 19, 1857, on a farm near Lilley Chapel and was one of nine children. His parents were Conrad Grener and Friedericka, nee Kiesewetter. He was dedicated to the Lord in Holy Baptism in infancy and later instructed and confirmed in the Christian Faith by the Rev. Mees in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Columbus, Ohio.

On Nov. 3, 1881, he was united in marriage with Miss Mary Will of the same vicinity in which he lived. Five children, four daughters and a son, were born to this union. Two daughters, Mrs. Minnie Cline and Mrs. Eunna Cline and the son, August, as well as his beloved wife, with whom he had been permitted to observe their 70th wedding anniversary, preceded father in death.

After having resided on a farm near Alton and on another farm near Rosedale, Madison County, at which latter place they were members of the St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church at Chuckery, father and mother moved to a farm at 4601 W. Broad-st, where they resided until the spring of 1948, at which time they moved to 198 S. Huron-av, of this city, where father continued living until the final summons came to him.

Surviving to mourn his departure are two daughters, Mrs. Francis Kuhn, Hilliards, and Mrs. Ruth Distelhorst, Columbus, four grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren, one brother, John, Hilliards, one sister, Mrs. M. K. Weber, Columbus, and other relatives and friends.

1. "Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep
From which none ever wakes to weep."
2. "Sleep on, dear father, sleep and take thy rest,
Lay down thy head upon thy Savior's breast,
We loved thee well, but Jesus loved thee best,
Good Night!"
3. "Only good night, beloved, not farewell
A little while and His saints shall dwell
In hallowed union indivisible,
Good Night!"
4. "Until we meet again before His throne,
Clothed in the spotless robe He gives His own,
Until we know even as we are known,
Good Night,
Aufwiedersehn!"

READER COMMENT

Letters To The Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters, however, must be not more than 400 words in length and all must be signed by the writer. The writer's name will be omitted if requested.

Dear Editor:

'Three times and out' isn't going to hold true of the Columbus, Ohio Grandmothers Club effort to get active recognition (with the cooperation of Governor Lausche) of Grandmothers' Day — the second Sunday of October—throughout the State of Ohio. The first two tries, 1950 and 1951 were certainly discouraging. But we have been taught never to say 'Die', but 'damn', also, if at first you don't succeed etc. So we are pushing ourselves into the limelight again this year in competition with the current political fireworks, the World Series baseball and the United Appeal Drive, bidding for public attention to our own particular 'Little Crusade' — most worthy of all.

The Grandmothers are not interested in A grandmothers' Day for selfish reasons that they may get a lot of presents and have a big fuss made over them. What they really want is to be identified with this social welfare movement until the idea sticks in the public conscience long enough to take root. After that there will be no stopping it. This is the sowing process. The harvest is sure to come sooner or later. Then the second Sunday of October will be no longer be known as Grandmothers' day, per se, but 'Old People's Day', or better still, Grand Folks' Day', including ALL old people, grandparents, grand aunts, grand uncles, grand in-laws and grand friends (those left without blood relatives). It is Grandmothers' day until the job this group of women has undertaken, is finished.

Shakespeare truly said, "All the world's a stage and all the men and women, merely players". The world amidst its present tensions is no longer a stage, but a three ringed circus with a concentricity of countless inter-related performances going on all the time. There is a feverish straining among the lesser lights to supplant those in the stellar roles. So many people wanting so many things—drama everywhere—much farce and burlesque plus a lot of comedy. But the stark tragedy goes on year in year out, shut away from public view, getting neither press, radio or TV notice. This, the tragedy of our public institutions and Rest Homes, housing the tired, worn-out bodies of past good citizens.

How wonderful if the second Sunday of October each year could be set aside throughout the Nation to flood these places with the sunshine of hope and happiness! How wonderful if there could be Open House with family reunions, gifts, flowers, a catching-up with family news, and such a meal as we have at Christmas and Thanksgiving. The American public can do anything it makes up its mind to do.

Having spent 8 months as volunteer worker at Alum Crest Hospital here in Columbus, the writer of this appeal, can truthfully report that it is utterly impossible for an understaffed and overworked nurses' staff, to satisfy the emotional and mental needs of those in their care, as well as their physical needs. Yet the mind is of paramount importance. John Adams once said, "Old minds are like old horses. You must exercise them to keep them in good condition". The spirit of human beings constantly deprived of friendship and a lively interest in life, soon dies. When the spirit dies, the mind dies. Could we not take the time and trouble to light one little candle in the darkness of these people's lives? Let us not call ourselves a civilized society until the final passing of these old people takes place in the midst of happiness, rather than despair.

Mabel Hartman

To the Editor:

Bringing up the question of the lack of sidewalks for pedestrians, I think we should have walks.

Safety-first so vitally stressed for the public comes under this question of people on foot in the street with vehicles.

Do you know of a better way to get hit? Your clothing is subject to splashing, also your temper and the anxiety for the little children on foot on their way to and from school.

Let's put up with less but put down more walks.

West Loses First Of Season To Hamilton Big Blue 14-13

Dick Orr starts a 28-yard ramble in this photo and is being chased by Logsdon (26) of Hamilton and Warner (57). Doug Cole, Cowboy fullback, is on the ground and Ongaro (59) is coming up to assist Orr. West, however, was penalized 15 yards on the play for offensive holding.

Tom Ongaro of the Cowboy eleven sets up a stiff arm for Hamilton defender Swanner (51), in this photo while Jarvis (39) and Moore (28) attempt to stop him.

By Woody Owen

Thrice defeated Hamilton Public's football eleven celebrated its homecoming last Friday night by handing a scrappy band of West High Cowboys their first loss of the season by the score of 14-13.

It was a contest that was marred by numerous penalties and poor officiating.

The Hamilton eleven jumped into an early lead by counting a touchdown the first time they handled the pigskin as Halfback Warner broke loose through the center of the line and raced 73 yards down the sidelines to score.

Hahn added the point after via place kick. The Big Blue scored what proved to be the winning points in the second period as Hahn climaxed an 80-yard drive with a 18-yard sprint around the Cowboys' right flank to score. Hamilton was penalized 15 yards on their first try for the point after. Swanner then passed to Jarvis who was wide open in the end zone for the point that eventually proved to be the winning one.

The Cowboys came fighting back however and counted a touchdown of their own before half-time, as Sensenbrenner recovered Hahn's fumble on the home eleven's 15. Ongaro carried twice to the five and Orr ran his own right end to the end zone. Ongaro's kick was good.

The local lads scored again in the final period when they marched 91 yards with Orr again scoring from the five-yard line on a sweep around right end. Ongaro's kick was wide.

First Period

Knox of Hamilton kicked off to Trabue who returned 10 yards to his own 40. Cole and Grant made a first down on Hamilton's 49. Cole gained four. West was penalized for off-side. Grand made 3. Orr's pass to Thornton was incomplete. Trabue then punted 47 yards over the goal line.

Hamilton took over on its own 20. Warner gained 8 through center Hamilton was penalized for off-side. Hahn ran through tackle for 4. Warner then broke loose through center and galloped 73 yards to score. Hahn's placement was good. Hamilton 7, West 0.

Knox kicked off to Grant who returned 18 to his own 33. Grant lost one over guard. West was penalized for off-side. Orr ran left end for 16 yards and a first down on 48. Cole gained 4 through center. Cole gained 1 through guard. Grant gained 3 off tackle. Trabue then punted 40 yards to Allen who returned to his own 20 yard line. Hamilton was penalized offside, then Hahn ran left tackle for 7. Nafzger then tossed to Hahn for a 5 yard loss.

Swanner passed to Bowermaster for a first down on the 37. Hahn ran 23 yards through tackle to the West 40. Herzog ran left end for 14 to the 26. Hamilton was penalized for off-side. Swanner hit guard for 2 as the quarter ended. Hamilton 7, West 0.

Second Period

Hahn ran right end for 14 to the 15 yard line. Hahn then broke loose around his own left end for 15 yards and a TD. Hamilton was penalized 15 yards for holding on the first try for the point after. Swanner then passed to Jarvis for the point after. Hamilton 14, West 0.

Knox kicked to Grant who returned 23 yards to the 38. Ongaro then ran his own right end for 17 yards to the Hamillyton 45. Grant ran over tackle for 4. Orr's pass was incomplete. Trabue from a fake punt passed complete to Orr who ran to the 20-yard line but the Cowboys were penalized 15 yards for holding to their own 48. Trabue's punt was partially blocked by Schiff but traveled to Hamilton's 24.

Hamilton was then penalized twice for being off side. Swanner then lost 1 through center. Kimball then recovered Swanner's fumble on the 14 yard line.

Cole gained 1 through guard. Ongarro gained 1 over tackle. Two passes by Orr failed to connect and Hamilton took over on their own 9 yard line. Fox ran left end for 9. Hahn made 3 and first down on 21.

Sensenbrenner then recovered Hahn's fumble on the 14. Ongaro gained 9 yards in two tries through right tackle. Orr then ran from the tailback in a short punt and circled his own right end to score. Ongaro's placement was good. Hamilton 14, West 7.

The first half ended without any further scoring but there were three more penalties inflicted.

Third Period

Hamilton received the kick-off but failed to advance. Allen punted to Vincent who was downed on his own 20.

Cole gained 2 over tackle. Ongaro then broke through right tackle and ran 23 yards to his own 45. Grant gained 2 through guard and Ongaro ran right end for 6. Cole's fumble was recovered on the 46 by Wagner of Hamilton.

Hamilton failed to gain and Warner punted to the Cowboys' 8. The Cowboys made two first downs and then were forced to punt, Trabue booted 45 yards to Allen who returned 18 to mid-field.

Hahn gained three over tackle. Fox ran left tackle for 6 as the period ended. Hamilton 14, West 7.

Fourth Period

Hamilton was penalized for off-side. Warner gained three over tackle and then punted to Vincent who was downed on his own 9.

Grant gained 9 in two tries over left tackle. Cole gained 3 and a first down on the 28 but West was again penalized to their own 15 for illegal use of hands. Grant ran over right tackle for 6. Orr then circled right end for 18.

It was fourth down and inches to go. Orr gambled and blasted through guard for a first down on the 36. Orr then passed to Trabue for another first down on Hamilton's 48. Ongaro then ran left end for 15 to the 33. Cole gained 2 over guard. Grant ran right end for 2. Orr passed complete to Ongaro on the 20-yard line and a first down.

Grant gained 2 over tackle. Orr then ran left end for 12 and a first down on the 5 yard line. He repeated around the same position for the score. Ongaro's placement was wide. Hamilton 14, West 12.

Then came the break of the game for Hamilton.

Trabue kicked off to Fox who returned to his own 30 and when tackled he fumbled with Kline recovering for the Cowboys. But no official was within 20 yards of the play and by the time one of them got to the play the Hamilton player had again gained possession of the ball. This same official who had called 16 of the 19 penalties inflicted during the contest gave the ball to the home team and they stalled out the clock. Hamilton 14, West 12.

The recovery of the fumble by the Cowboys was visible even to the spectators in the stands but not to the officials and may have cost the Cowboys a chance to have pulled the game out of the fire.

Hahn, Swanner and Herzog led the Big Blue offensively, while Allen, a halfback and Schiff at end stood out defensively.

For the Cowboys, Tommy Thomas played his finest game of the season to date.

In the backfield Dick Orr and Tom Ongaro also turned in their best performances to date with the latter averaging 9 yards per carry and also snagging two very important forward passes.

This Friday night at Magly field it will be homecoming for the Cowboys with the ever dangerous Terriers of Aquinas who upset Central 20-7 last Friday, furnishing the opposition.

There are several Hilltop boys on the Irish squad and they will be out to hand the Cowboys their first City League defeat.

Big Wave

An 1850 cyclone created tidal waves that drowned 400 people near the mouth of the Mississippi River.

TOO MUCH . . . In this photo snapped at the West-Hamilton game last Friday Mack Pemberton, head coach of the West High Cowboy eleven, takes to the field to argue a point and gets pushed around by Head Linesman Dick Manuel for objecting to the Head Linesman's call of giving the ball to Hamilton after a fumbled kickoff was recovered by West and given to Hamilton. With less than two minutes remaining in the game, the poor officiating undoubtedly staved off another West TD which could have meant victory for the Cowboys. The incident was unprecedented, in that an official struck an objecting coach and then imposed an illegal 28 yard penalty against West.

Hilltop Gra-Y Football League Kicks Off With Thrillers Saturday

By Dick Wilson

Last Saturday morning, the Westgate Gra-Y faced West Jr. Hi-Y in the opening game of the Hilltop Gra-Y football league. West Jr. Hi-Y is not a member of the league, but has volunteered to play a practice game with each of the five Gra-Y clubs.

Fred Lanch, quarterback for the eWst Juniors, was the big ache in the sides of the Westgate boys. He scored two touchdowns and helped make four points after touchdown. Little Daniel Eagen was the star for Westgate. He scored their lone tally late in the fourth quarter.

The first league game pitted West Mound Gra-Y against strong and well coached John Burroughs Gra-Y. The pass combination of Bill Ingle to Fred Ash was too much for the lighter, but scrappy West Mound Gra-Y defense. West Mound showed signs of developing into an underdog threat. The back field combination of Dulin, T. Boyer, Foyer, and Voorhees just "ain't to be sneered at" according to their coach, Bill Link.

The final game of the morning had the spectators biting their nails and yelling themselves hoarse. Tommy Hartranft, fullback for West Broad Gra-Y, was the hero of the day when he crossed the Highland Gray-Y goal line with only 25 seconds remaining in the game. Up to this time the game was deadlocked at 13 to 13.

Howard Sheperd, the "Otto Graham quarterback," played a great game and figured in the scoring of all 13 points for Highland. Sherwood Waltman, coach for Highland, said he doesn't count his team out of the race yet as they will keep fighting until the last whistle blows on Nov. 6.

Box scores for each game are below:

Advertising Executive Knows Values

Mrs. Ivan Bull, 141 S. Dawson-av, Bexley, always places her want ads in The Hilltop Record and West Side News because she feels she has better results for less money than she would have downtown. Mrs. Bull who was in advertising work herself for over 15 years, used her recent ad as an argument in favor of advertising in the local papers.

On the same day that she ran the following ad:

TWIN BEDS, maple Jenny Lind, springs; also high-boy and dressing table. All for $50. FA. 8151.

Mrs. Bull sold the beds, etc. to a man on Cypress-av. "I had at least 25 calls," said Mrs. Bull" and was satisfied with my ad."

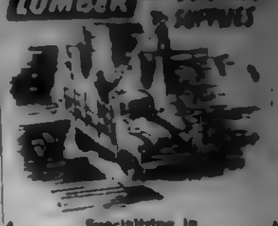
You too, can be a satisfied customer. Call RA. 1125 for placing ads in The Hilltop Record and/or West Side News.

Save to Frown

A traffic officer stopped an out-of-state motorist and said, "I'm going to give you a ticket for driving without a tail light." The motorist got out to investigate, and let up a wail of dismay.

"Come now," said the officer, "it's not as serious as all that." The motorist explained, "It's not the tail light I'm worried about. What's become of my trailer?"

Friendly Touch



In a life filled with honors and with troubles, Charles Dickens remembered to the end of his days a small incident which happened one day when he was passing through York. An unknown woman on a street corner recognized the great author, impulsively extended her hand and, in deep gratitude, exclaimed: "Mr. Dickens, will you let me touch the hand that has filled my house with so many friends?"

Reason Enough

Young Johnny Jones, to the despair of his mother and the horror of the neighbors, had a remarkable memory for bad language. His mother, at a loss to know how to correct this, bought a policeman's badge which she promised her son he could wear so long as he talked like a gentleman. For one week Johnny was a model boy, and even kept his playmates in check. But then one day Mrs. Jones, returning unexpectedly from a shopping trip, heard Johnny going through his entire repertory of choice words for the benefit of a youthful and greatly impressed audience. "Johnny," she exclaimed, "what is the meaning of this dreadful behavior? I want an immediate explanation." "Yes, Ma," Johnny replied, obediently, "I guess it's because I lost my badge."

YOUR YOUTH

By Bob Smith and Dick Wilson

I don't believe that there would be any better way to open the week's column than by extending a word of thanks to the voluntary leaders who are coaching the Hilltop Gra-Y football teams. They did a wonderful job last Saturday running the games. These boys are Bill Ling for West Mound, Sherwood Waltman and Tom Coffman for Highland, Kurt Grashel and Keith Jenkins for John Burroughs, Dick Furry and Fred Lanch for West Broad and Bob Grims and Ted Walker for Westgate. Bob and I once again want to say, "Thanks, fellows! A hard job being well done!"

Miss Betty Knight has asked me to announce once again that the girls' program is advancing very nicely, but that there is still room for more. The grade school girls meet every Friday at the YMCA, at 3 and the Junior High girls meet every Wednesday at West High School.

The Jr. Hi-Y is at this time in the stages of promoting dancing lessons for all their club members. They have invited Miss Knight's Junior girls to take part in these lessons. Bob and I wish to invite any boys in the 7th, 8th, or 9th grades to join the Junior Hi-Y Club. It looks as if a good year will be in store for all the members. Just think fellows—everything from dances to football.

Bob asked me to announce that he had an organizational meeting last week at West High School for the West Sr. Hi-Y club. Around 50 boys attended this meeting, and all

Religious Chalk Talk Master To Conduct Crusade Locally

Rev. George P. Woodward demonstrates his artistry with chalk as he illustrates a sermon.

Rev. George P. Woodward, 201 N. Warren-av, former newspaper cartoonist and now a nationally known master chalk artist in religion, will conduct a "Pictures-that-Preach" crusade in the Bellows Avenue Church of the Nazarene, corner of Bellows and Cypress-av, Oct. 15-26. Services will be held each evening at 7 o'clock.

Also beginning Wednesday, Oct. 15, Rev. Woodward will appear with "The Singing Pastor," Rev. James Everett, in a special series of television programs, originating in the studio of WTVN each afternoon at 2:45.

Woodward, who began the study of art at the age of nine, combines an ingenious chalk talk reproduction of familiar Bible scenes with his sermon as the main feature of each service. In illustrating the sermon he frequently draws three or four chalk pictures, each done with a flourish and speed that tax as the capacity of the audience to follow. All the while he draws he speaks fluently about the subject, his words flowing as rapidly as his chalk moves. In addition to the illustrated sermon, Woodward illustrates a hymn in each service. The hymn reproductions are given away to persons in the audience for personal work connected with the service.

Before entering the ministry, Woodward was a cartoonist on the Wilmington, Delaware, News, a metropolitan daily newspaper. He is author of several textbooks on chalk-talk art.

The public is invited to all services.

WARREN AVENUE CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

650 SOUTH WARREN AVENUE — Harris B. Anthony, Minister

9:30 A. M.—Sunday School.
10:45 A. M.—Guest speaker, Dr. W. M. McGuire, Pontiac, Mich.
7:30 P. M.—Dr. W. M. McGuire will give the story of his life.

"Give us clear vision that we may know where to stand and what to stand for—for unless we stand for something, we will fall for anything."

These great words echoed across the hall of the Senate of the United States a short time ago. Great words—that have been reprinted many times since first uttered in prayer by the Senate chaplain.

Yet there are many of us who believe in this thought, but find it hard to follow in these perplexing times. Can our churches be of help here?

If you are a member of a church, you need no answer to that question. You know that your church does not try to tell you how to stand on a question. That is your personal choice as a free American. But it does help you to separate the wheat from the chaff, the right from the wrong, so that you may stand for the right, knowing and unafraid.

Someone has said that the human race is divided into two classes—those who go ahead and do something, and those who sit back and inquire, "Why wasn't it done this way?"

Stand for something! Your church will help you with the most powerful incentive and champion that anyone may have—the knowledge that you are making your stand on the moral code of your God.

Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye have been taught..
II Thes. 2:15

Social Security Begins at Home

Our government may lighten the burden of life in years ahead, but much we can do for ourselves, right now, to banish worries we take for granted. For example simply by arranging, now, for the ownership of a family plot, you will have conferred upon those you love the one item of "Social Security" without which no "Peace-of-Mind-Plan" can be complete. Call or visit.

Cremations arranged through the funeral director of your choice.

Glenwood Center News

Every Saturday morning at 11 o'clock free movies are shown at the Glenwood Recreation Center. This program is not only entertaining but it gives Hilltop mothers a chance to get Saturday morning chores done and at the same time feel that the children are being taken care of safely.

Every Wednesday at 7 p.m. the Glenwood Echo staff will meet at Glenwood. All boys and girls interested in helping to write, report news from the various clubs and activities or in the art work should contact the center's office as soon as possible. The first paper of this year will be ready for distribution by Nov. 1.

A Teen-Age Club designed especially for fun will hold it's meetings on Tuesdays at 8 p.m. All Hilltop teen-agers are invited to join. A few examples of the fun already planned are the Juke-box sessions every Wednesday at 8 p.m., Square Dances every Thursday at 8 p.m. and round and square dance instructions at 7 p.m. on Thursdays.

Something new and special is being added to the activities for the boys at Glenwood. Since most boys who don't know how to dance prefer to learn before asking a girl to be his dancing partner a class of instructions will be held for boys only on Tuesdays at 7 p.m.

Any Hilltop Teen-age club wishing a place to meet or plan parties and activities is invited to discuss their problem with any member of the Glenwood staff who will be glad to offer a solution to their problem.

Glenwood's craft classes have resumed activities this week. Girls classes on Tuesday afternoons and boys classes on Wednesday afternoons. Many unusual crafts will be taught throughout the year. Soap carving, textile painting, leather crafts, gymp braiding, felt work and cork are but a few of the planned crafts. All ages can participate in this program.

Jackie Smith Proves Stamina In Overcoming Cerebral Palsy

All smiles over his ability to go up and down stairs by himself is little Jackie Smith, one of the bravest little men on the Hilltop. In spite of the handicap of cerebral palsy, the five-year-old has shown amazing fortitude and courage in overcoming the crippling effects of the disease. In the above photo he demonstrates to the photographer his newly acquired ability.

By Pat Martindale

"Look Mommy, I did it all by myself!" These were the excited words of little five year old Jackie Smith of 501 Catherine-st after he had walked up the stairsteps without help for the first time in his life.

To most youngsters of five and to their parents this wasn't an unusual fete but Jackie is a victim of Cerebral Palsy and it took much courage for him to overcome his handicap. It also took courage for his mother, Mrs. C. P. Smith, to stand by and watch Jackie when she knew he could fall so easily and when she knew that she or his dad or brother Tommy would so willing and easily help him up the stairs but Mrs. Smith also knew that the more they helped him the longer he would depend upon them.

Jackie has an abundance of courage for a five year old however, and attempts many things to overcome his difficulties. He studies tap dancing with Jack Sherick to gain balance and poise and although he has trouble shuffling his feet properly his teacher is very much interested in him and is patient but persistant. He will dance in one of the Sherick revues on Oct. 26 which will be given to raise funds for the orphan's Christmas Party. Only recently he attempted to skate and to everyones surprise he was successful after a few hard "setdowns".

Like anyone with a handicap, Jackie has been subjected to curiosity among his playmates but he has a dynamic personality and a charming smile that captures everyones heart so he has no trouble getting along with others. Because of his big smile "Rags" Anderson, a well known musician, wrote a song about him recently.

One of the biggest benefits to Jackie was the arm and leg exercises given him all last year by the Cerebral Palsy Center at 553 E. Town-st and because of the fine work done by this center, Jackie's parents feel that this agency should surely be supported through the United Appeals Campaign.

New Dossal Curtain Presented To Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran

A new Dossal Curtain was dedicated Sunday, Oct. 12, at the 10:30 a. m. service at the Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran Church, W. Broad-st, at Terrace. It was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Little in honor of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Lucas and the late Mr. and Mrs. James C. Little.

The curtain, tailored by the Ecclesiastical Arts Department of the United Lutheran Publication House in Philadelphia, Pa., is 54 inches wide and 136 inches long, bright red with gold and finished with a galloon on each side.

By design it is "The IHC"

The three letters are the first three Greek letters in the name "Jesus"—IHCOYC or IESOUS.

Commissioners Approve Zoning For Large Area

Franklin County Commissioners cleared the way last week for the huge housing development, business center and an industrial area on the Hilltop, approving rezoning on a 1200-acre tract east of Rome.

Approved on application of the People's Development Co., a Farm Bureau subsidiary, the tract includes an industrial area which could contain two buildings equal in size to the new Westinghouse or General Motors-Ternstedt plants, two residential subdivisions for several thousand homes and apartments and a regional shopping center.

The tract is divided by Route 40 and all except 45 acres lies west of Phillipi and Georgesville-rds.

It fills in all undeveloped land along Route 40 from the Westinghouse plant west to New Rome.

Plans call for approximately 425 acres in residential use, nearly 100 as a business and shopping center area and 650 for heavy industry.

The industrial sites are serviced by the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads.

Spencers Open At 'The Point' On Next Friday

Don M. Casto and Don M. Casto, Jr., developers of the Central Point Shopping Center at Central-av and W. Mound-st, announced this week the signing of a long term lease with Spencer's, Inc., for a children's furnishings store at Central Point Shopping Center.

Spencer Alexander is president of the company and Harriet Alexander, secretary-treasurer. They announce the opening of the new store at "The Point" on Oct. 31.

Spencers will occupy a store room 20 by 150 feet, installing a kiddie shop similar to the Lili Kiddie Shop at the Town and Country shopping center, in which Mr. Alexander is secretary-treasurer and one-third owner.

Harriet Alexander, who is buyer for the Lili Kiddie Shop, will buy for both stores.

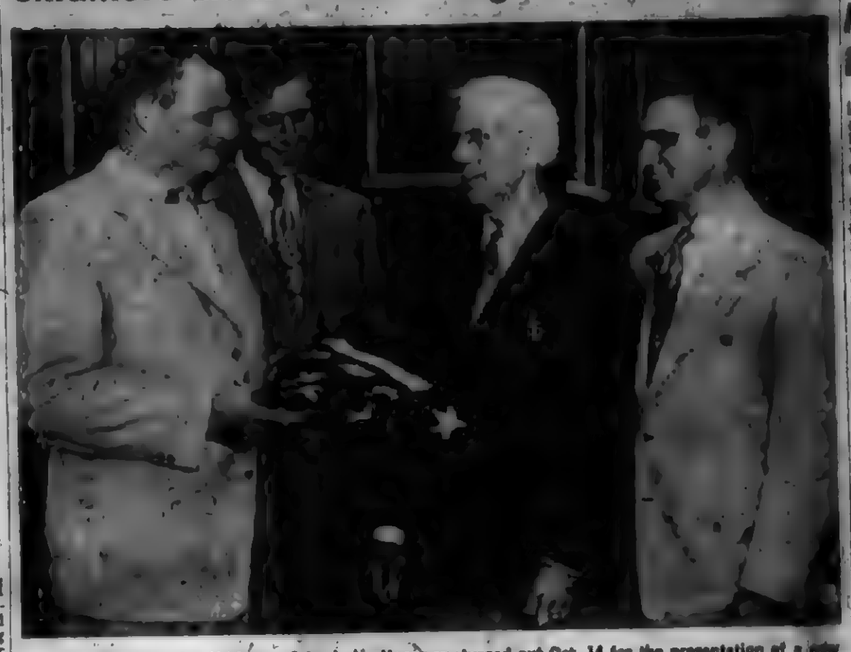
Spencers will feature a complete line of children's clothing, from layettes to teen-age sizes, using the "Tots to Teens" sales message. The store also will carry a complete line of children's toys.

Spencers, Inc., will be located in the third section of the Central Point Shopping Center.

Hart Exhibits At International Live Stock Show

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hart of the Hilltop are the first in the Columbus region to make entries for the coming 53rd International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago, according to show officials there.

Hart has listed a large showing of 15 Poland China barrows in the swine classes of the show, while Mrs. Hart will exhibit three Dorset wether lambs in the fat lamb competition.



The exposition, world's topmost event of its kind, gets under way in the International Amphitheatre on Nov. 29 for an eight-day run through Dec. 6.

Appeal Is Made For Small Radios To Aid Blind

Lawrence Whittaker, blind West Side showman, this past week sounded an appeal for any small radio sets which are no longer needed. He said that there are several blind families on the West Side of whom he has knowledge who can use the sets and that he will gladly see that they are placed.

Anyone having a small radio for which they have no further use may contact Whittaker at 367 W. Cherry-dr, Apt. C, or call him at AD. 4467 and he will arrange to have the unit picked up.

HBA Sounds Warning On Fraudulent Checks

The Hilltop Business Association this week warned that fraudulent checks are being passed in the city, some on the Hilltop.

They are drawn on various branches of the Ohio National Bank and are signed by Mrs. Albert H. Morotsky, giving several addresses, mostly faked. Checks are being passed on groceries, drug stores and other retail outlets and are written at time of purchase.

"Alert your salespeople and if suspicious, call the police," says C. H. Campbell, executive secretary of the HBA.

Post Office Urges Early Mailing Of Christmas Packages To Soldiers

The Hilltop Post Office this week urged its patrons to mail parcels now for delivery by Christmas, to personnel overseas in the armed services. The period from Oct. 16 to Nov. 15 has again been designated for the acceptance of Christmas parcels for members of our armed forces serving outside the continental United States. No assurance can be given that surface parcels mailed after Nov. 15 will be delivered in time for Christmas.

The weight limitation on surface parcel post is 70 pounds (except certain APO's through New York which are limited to 50 pounds) and they cannot exceed 100 inches overall in size. Air parcel post is limited to two pounds and 30 inches, length and girth combined.

Boxes for overseas transmission must necessarily be of strong construction because of the distance they must be transported and the handling involved. Each box should be tied securely with strong cord, and may be sealed provided they bear the printed inscription: "Postmaster: This parcel may be opened for postal inspection if necessary."

Foodstuffs subject to spoilage or breakage should not be sent overseas. In addition to articles normally prohibited in the mails, matches of all kinds and lighter fluid may not be mailed to overseas military addresses. Cigarettes, tobacco products and coffee are prohibited to certain APO's.

Addresses must be legible and should, in most cases, be printed directly on the wrappers or boxes rather than on labels pasted to the wrappers. It is desirable that the name and address of the sender and the addressee, together with a list of the contents, be enclosed in the package should the address become defaced in transportation.

Parcel post, both surface and air, may be insured and small parcels containing pens, jewelry, etc., should be registered.

Gifts of money should be sent by postal money orders which may be cashed at APO's and FPO's anywhere.

At the same time it was pointed out the parcels for civilians in foreign countries should be mailed now for Christmas delivery. Due to the time in transit and to customs inspection, it is recommended that parcels be mailed before the following dates: Africa and the Far East Nov. 1, Europe Nov. 15, and South America Nov. 22, according to J. B. Anderson, superintendent.

AN OLD AMERICAN CUSTOM

Remember when the shake of the hand sealed a business deal? It was a friendly way, built on the respect for the other fellow. Yes . . . the handshake is a sign of friendliness and of trust. Through years of working together to make the Hilltop a better place in which to live the handshake has sealed many a business deal. This old American custom is still a good one . . . One that you can rely on every day when you are dealing with your local Hilltop individual firm.. When you buy from these firms you are in most instances dealing direct with the owner of the business. He is your friend, your neighbor and you know he can be counted on to stand back of the merchandise you buy. The growth of this community has been around this old American custom. You are helping yourself build an even finer community when you, too, do business with your friendly neighbor, your local individual business firms.

Cowboys Surge To City Loop Lead By Whipping Aquinas

Dick Orr (38), carrying the ball for West Friday night, was caught by the camera as he returned this kick-off. Aquinas Carl Heinz (56) and Gene Sapp (67) come charging in for the tackle while Cowboy players Johnson (58), Roger Meyer (65) and another unidentified player come in to assist Orr.

"Fireball" Doug Cole, West High Cowboy fullback, splits the Aquinas line wide open to score in the game last Friday night at West. Orendorff (47), Aquinas linebacker with back to camera, tried to high tackle the low running Cole and as a result wraps his arms about one of his own men. Thornton (86) of West is at left of photo.

The West High Cowboys returned to City League warfare last Friday night and clearly demonstrated to a large homecoming gathering why they are the league leader and are considered by many as the team to beat in the 1952 flag chase.

They took all the growl out of the Aquinas Terriers to the tune of 26-7, with the first stringers playing just a little over half of the contest and building up a 26-0 lead, then turning the game over to the second and third stringers for the remaining time.

Fullback Doug Cole opened the scoring on the last play of the first period as he broke loose around his own right end and scampered 57 yards down the sidelines Ongaro's placement was good.

In the second period the Cowboys broke the contest wide open on Cole's five-yard plunge and a 20 yard aerial from Dick Orr to End Bob Thornton, just as the first half ended. Ongaro made good on one of the two conversions.

Early in the third period the Cowboys' brilliant safety man intercepted a Terrier pass and returned 27 to the 10, from which point Quarterback Orr scored with a five-yard end sweep two plays later. Ongaro's conversion was good.

The Terriers counted their only score in the final period against the Cowboys' second and third stringers, when a desperation passing attack carried them to the Cowboys' five-yard line. Fagan plunged for the score and Melchiorre's conversion was good.

This Friday night at Magly Field the North High School Polar Bears will be the opponent when these two elevens clash.

All previous games and records can be tossed out the window, as down through the years these two elevens are the City League's most bitter rivals and many times one or the other has come through with an upset to spoil a perfect record. They seem to delight in kicking each other around.

The North Enders have a 13-13 tie with East, the only other undefeated City League eleven, and just last Friday dumped Central in a free scoring contest, 28-31. This should be fair warning to the Powell-av squad to be at their best.

The Polar Bears' chief threats to the Cowboys will be Bob Karow, the league-leading scorer, with 43 points (31 against Central last week) and Jay Blackford, both speedy halfbacks.

Glenwood Center Cage Teams Readied

The Glenwood Recreation Center pre-season basketball leagues are now being formed.

All of last year's teams are invited to enter teams and any new teams are welcomed. There will be leagues for Juniors (up to 13 years), Intermediates (14 through 15 years) and Seniors (16 through 18 years) for both boys and girls. The league entries will be free for pre-season. Entry blanks and league rules can be obtained from the center now. The entries close on Monday, Oct. 27. The league will begin to play the first week in November and play into December. In December the regular season leagues will be formed.

Practice time may be obtained on the center floor by contacting the center office and arranging the time with the director.

Glenwood Center is organizing a girls' basketball team for girls over 18. Any girls who are interested in joining this team, which will play other independent teams in the city, are requested to contact the center between 8 and 9 p. m. Wednesday. The team will practice between the hours of 8 and 10 p.m.

Youth Injured

Harold Thompson, 10, of 248 Emmit-av. suffered a broken left leg and possible head injuries when he ran in front of an auto near his home last Wednesday.

Sheriff's Deputy William Blakeman said the driver of the car, Burl L. Ater, 24, of 280 Emmitt-av. took the boy to Mt. Carmel Hospital.

During the middle-ages the opal was considered a token of bad luck.

Y OUR OUTH

By Dick Wilson and Bob Schmidt

To the beating of the "Tom-Toms" the members of the Wyandot "Y" Indian Guide tribe enjoyed another tribal meeting at the teepee of Big and Little Brave Louis Christi. Around the council fire the little braves made their scout reports and all enjoyed some Indian stories. The first tribal project will be for them to make their tribes tomtom and the big and little braves are busy securing materials for this.

Several of the big and little braves were awarded feathers for having memorized the aims and slogans for the "Y" Indian Guides. We would again like to invite any father with a son age 6-8 to join this Indian Guide tribe where a father and son may become "Pals Forever".

With the calling of the signals the rousing cheers of the spectators, the second week of the Gra-Y Touch football league is but a memory. It is quite a thrill to see these Gra-Y members enjoying the opportunity of playing on a football team. The coaching staff and officials of West High School are to be congratulated in offering the practice field and other facilities so that these Grade school boys have an opportunity to enjoy their game—football.

By the way, parents, we would like to see you too on the side lines rooting for your boys team. Rumor has it that Woody Hayes is sending one of his scouts down to scout for future Ohio State players.

This Saturday the members of the Gra-Y Clubs will be contacting you in order to sell you a box of candy mints. The profit from these candy sales will be used for various service projects that the Gra-Y members have planned.

On your way out West Broad-st glance at the "Y" lot on the corner of Harris and Broad and you will notice that the restaurant is being razed and in the near future this will make a supervised "Y" playground for the Hilltop youth.

The members of the girls craft class are busy sanding and painting wooden salt and pepper shakers which they are planning to give their parents. The membership is still open and any grade school girl wishing to join please come to the "Y" office, 2502 W. Broad-st on Friday afternoon after school.

A girls club has been organized at West Jr. High and these girls have been meeting with their advisor, Miss Betty Knight. Temporary officers have been elected and the various committees are planning the activities for the year. At the last meeting Miss Bachmeyer, vice principal of West Jr. High was the guest speaker.

That's all the news for this week, you'll be hearing about us next week.

Hello There!

J. W. Worrel

Procrastination is the thief of time. An old saying, but only too true. Don't we all plan to do things — expect to do things — and then decide that tomorrow will do just as well as today? We waste time and gain nothing. If we put off tidying up the clothes closet, maybe results wouldn't be terribly serious. Could be worse, though, if we postponed checking up the old car.

But let me tell you, one of the biggest tragedies I know can be caused by a fellow putting off a sound life insurance plan. Even one day's delay can mean all the difference between want and security for the little lady you're so proud of, and the youngsters who run out to meet you as you walk up the front path at the end of the day.

Yes, to procrastinate is to steal from yourself — to steal contentment. It is stealing from your family—stealing security. I'd sure like to talk about these things with you, and tell you how my great company — the Sun Life of Canada — can take care of your needs.

These New Books At Your Hilltop Branch Library

A PERSONAL HISTORY—DOROTHY CARUSO

When Dorothy Caruso confided her plans for a second book to a publisher, he attempted to discourage her. People were interested in what she had to say about her husband, he said ("Enrico Caruso, His Life and Death," published in 1945), but no one was interested in what she might write about herself. Three friends disagreed, however, and the result is "A Personal History."

As she planned this book Mrs. Caruso says, "I began to look back at my life again . . . I followed myself in pictures along a road . . . I saw the road as a book. But events would not be the subject of the book; they would be merely the photographs in the travel-folder. The real subject would be not what I had seen, not what I had learned, not even what I had felt, but what I had become from seeing, learning and feeling."

Because she does indeed treat events only lightly, the reader must attempt to piece the story together in some places as Dorothy Caruso sketchily traces her life. We do get a clear picture of the young Protestant girl in a convent, different from the others—larger, more clumsy, nearly friendless at school and unwanted at home. This experience [illegible] in Dorothy building a defensive wall about herself, so that the world which rejected her could not know what she really thought. Her one real confidant during this period was her brother, Romeyn, and the two remained very close throughout his life.

Her marriage to Enrico Caruso was "as simple and natural as a dream. I had been alone, following a path full of obstacles, so ill-defined, so twisting that it was scarcely a path at all. Suddenly I was in the middle of a wide sun-lit road; it lay before me clear and straight . . ." The importance of this marriage was not the fame and glamour which the great singer brought to their life, but rather it was the kindness and understanding with which he treated Dorothy and the strength and firmness of his own personality which served to guide and teach the uncertain girl.

For only three years this happiness lasted and Dorothy Caruso was left alone with her baby, Gloria. Her life went on, through another marriage and the birth of another daughter, and again she was alone. Some time after this child was born the "metamorphasis", as she terms it, occurred, the transformation from a "passive, timid, reserved, uncertain, introspective silent woman into a carefree, self assured, sophisticated woman of the world." During the period of travel, excitement and pleasure seeking that followed, Dorothy remained devoted to her children and their welfare was always uppermost in her thoughts.

Another marriage and separation, two years in war-time France, and the introduction to a new idea—the teachings of the modern philosopher, Gurdjieff. These events and others continued to mold and modify the woman who is Dorothy Caruso and to make hers indeed an unusual story.

This book will not have universal appeal. The reader who is looking for a fabulous biography of the widow of one of the great singers of all time will not find it here. But the reader who is concerned with the change and development of a personality will get an intimate glimpse of one woman's reaction to her eventful life.

Listen to little five-year-old Cathy sing on "Just Neighbors" (WTVN).

I ate and ate an awful lot;

While cleaning out my desk I found this, signed "J. P." Have forgotten who sent it but it's worth passing along in passing: "As for my 'whistling in the dark,' I guess everyone does that once in a while, but actually I laugh or smile . . . for one simple reason: I have Christ. I'm not detached from myself enough to live completely for Him (or I'd never be sad) but I do possess Him. He sees to that out of His mercy, and maybe I can learn some day to be a good deal more alive to that mercy. For every pain and disappointment life brings, He arranges a joy and strength. If I didn't possess Him in holy communion, I wouldn't know what to do, now that I've learned to depend upon Him so much."

My private Waterloo — Agents who read the "No Agents" sign and pusha da bell anyway . . . TV personalities who shake hands with everyone on the stage each time they say a word to them. It's all very folksy and democratic but it is a bit wearing . . . The speed of the years! I only the other day swept up the pine needles from under the rug from last year's Christmas tree and now it's time to think of another Christmas! . . . Spouts that clog up and cause the rains to come into the house. Ours was clogged with leaves, newspapers and hand-bills.

Glenwood Center News

Plans are now being made for the Teen-age Club at Glenwood Recreation Center for the coming year. Meetings will be held every Monday at 6 p.m. and Tuesdays at 8 p.m. Boys and girls in this community are asked to join and ask for a program they prefer. An election of officers will be held soon and the Club would like all teen-agers to vote.

Teen-agers may dance to their favorite music via records every Wednesday night from 8 to 10. This is a good chance to meet new friends and try new dance steps.

The "Sadie Hawkins Dance" will be on Nov. 5 and the girls may invite their favorite boy friend. More details on this dance later.

A dance class for boys only is being formed at Glenwood for those who wish to learn. Enjoy the dance club better by learning how to dance.

Every Tuesday afternoon girls at Glenwood can be found sewing many interesting things. This week they made Hallowe'en Masks from old stocking tops. All girls are invited to join Mrs. Haise and the sewing class to learn how to "save a stitch in time".

Highland School News

A Jitney Lunch was held Oct. 17 at Highland-av School. The lunch was sponsored by the P. T. A. and the proceeds will be used for projects already determined by the P. T. A.

Beacon Light Golfers On The Beam; Win City Title

Touch Football Favored At Glenwood Center

Glenwood's Junior Touch Football League has completed four weeks of competition. The league standings as of now are:

Team	W	L
Cubs	3	0
Panthers	2	0
Roughnecks	1	1
Bears	0	2
Ghosts	0	3

The big game now in the spotlight is the All-Stars versus the league champions. This game will be played at Glenwood on Wednesday, Nov. 5, starting at 4:30 p. m.

Glenwood's entry in the city-wide Junior Touch Football League is now on top of the league with a three won and no loss record. This league plays its games at Sullivant Gardens on Thursday.

Instructions in tumbling, boxing and wrestling will be given at Glenwood starting the first of November. Exact dates will be announced on the center bulletin board. The Juniors will have their classes in the afternoon while the intermediates and seniors will have their classes in the evening.

The boys who participated in the Glenwood wrestling team are asked to report for practice during the first week in November. The Glenwood team was the city wrestling champion team and it is expected that this year's team will be bigger and stronger. Any other boys who would like to practice with and tryout for the team are asked to report that week.

West Broad Ties West Junior Hi-Y In YMCA Football Loop

By Dick Wilson

More than 200 players, parents and spectators last Saturday witnessed the second session of the Hilltop YMCA Football League at West High field. All three of the games on the Saturday morning card were hard fought and close in scoring.

In the first game, John Burroughs gave West Junior Hi-Y a scare, but the age and size of the Junior boys was against the "giant killers" from J.B. Gra-Y. They finally succumbed to a 18-0 score. Quarterback Fred Lanch of West Junior called upon Dick Furry, his big six-foot end, to good advantage. Furry scored two of his team's three touchdowns. He scored first on a long pass from Lanch and tallied again after he intercepted an Ingle to Ash pass.

Woodie Waltman, hard charging fullback and captain of the West Junior team, was responsible for the other West touchdown. He scored from the 10-yard line on an off-tackle play.

The John Burroughs line was able to stop the Junior team for the first quarter, but the heavier West line soon wore down the game "little guys" from John Burroughs.

West Jr. Hi-Y: ends, Coffman and D. Furry; tackles, L. Rector and Jones; guards, L. Furry and Rice; center, Link; backs, Kuntz, Walker, Lanch and Waltman.

John Burroughs Gra-Y: ends, Sims and Ash; tackles, D. Timmons, Norman, Little; guards, Potts, Dellinger, Bidwell, Cooper; center, Everett and Knisely; backs, Morris, Barner, Francis, Morrison, Ingle, B. Timmons.

West Jr. Hi-Y	0	12	6	0	—18

Officials: Wilson and Zalanis; scorer, Smith; timer, Crise.

The brilliant running of "speed merchant" Tommy Hartranft, fullback for West Broad, and the hard, clean blocking by his teammate Louie Cruse combined to defeat a smaller but well coached team from Westgate by 18-0. The 4'6" Hartranft "bum-bugged" the Westgate defense with his razzle-dazzle running from the "T" formation. Bob Kernn, Westgate coach, used all of the defense power he had to stop the elusive runner, but Tommy had one of those days when not even a traffic cop could stop him. He scored all three of his team's touchdowns, which gave him a total of 24 points, only one short of league leader, Howard Shepherd of Highland, who has 25 points.

West Broad Gra-Y: Ends, R. Saint, B. Saint, McComb, Sines; tackles, Merrick, Grover, C. Graham, Davis Bartel; guards, J. Graham, Nabb, Watts, Rhodes; centers, Lawrence, King; backs, Shay, Morgan, Levering, Hual, Webb, Hartranft, Frey, Cruse, Stump.

Westgate Gra-Y: Ends, Sanford, Schwan, Pemberton; tackles, Shore, E. Schwan, Lamato; guards, Linson, Richter; center, LeDeat; backs, Mann, Lae, Kernn, Schmidt, Eagen.

West Broad	0	6	6	6	—18

Officials: Waltman and Furry; scorer, Wilson; timer, Little.

West Mound bounced back from an overwhelming defeat of last week to throw a scare into a favored Highland team. The outstanding play of Howard "Otto Graham" Shepherd proved to be the only difference between the two teams. He scored two touchdowns and one extra point, all in the first quarter.

After a shaky first quarter, Coach Bill Link's chargers held Shepherd and his team scoreless.

West Mound Gra-Y: Ends, Aisel, Ferguson; tackles, Bobbit, Friend; guards, Burchfield, Clark, Lillie; center, Bowen; backs, Voorhees, Dulin, Alwood, Distlewag, T. Boyer, B. Boyer, Ealy.

Highland Gra-Y: Ends, McElroy, Dildine, Bates; tackles, Galentine, J. Lowery, Davis, Campbell; guards, English, Ardel, L. Lowery, Jenkins; center, George; backs, Neil, Good, Shepherd, Ingle, Roberts.

Officials: Kern, Walker, Philsby; scorer, Wilson; timer, Sines.

Sunday Brunch

By Betty Barclay

TIME has come to pack away the picnic baskets for another year. But don't pack away the wonderful idea of gathering the whole family together for a leisurely meal. Try setting aside Sunday morning for a family brunch. It can be a wonderfully interesting meal—a perfect time to discuss last night's doings and the plans of the day ahead. And be sure you make the food as interesting as the conversation. Here's a recipe that will do just that—Dixie Waffles. The nutty flavor of Grape-Nuts and grated orange rind added to a basic batter makes the difference between "just" waffles and "extra special" Dixie Waffles.

Dixie Waffles

2 cups sifted flour; 2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ½ teaspoon salt; 1 tablespoon sugar; 2 eggs, well beaten; 1¾ cups milk; 4 tablespoons melted shortening; ½ cup grape-nuts; ½ teaspoon grated orange rind.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Combine eggs and milk. Add to flour mixture, add shortening, then mix only until smooth. Add grape-nuts and orange rind; mix. Bake in hot waffle iron. Serve with butter and maple-blended syrup. Makes about five 7-inch waffles.

Women Are Indispensable

A friend burst into a neighbor's house one morning and stormed indignantly: "I'm so mad at Jim I don't know what to do!"

"Why?"

"Last night I dreamed that some blonde hussy was flirting with him, and he was purring like a kitten."

"Oh, Helen." I said, "it was only a dream."

"Well," she exploded, "if he acts like that in MY dreams, what in the world do you suppose he does in his?'

I Dare You!

Two bitter rivals were playing in the finals of their country club golf championship. One of them talked constantly as they played their match, much to the annoyance of his opponent.

Finally the latter burst out: "Look here, Smithers if you don't stop your infernal chatter, I'm going to hit you over the head with my mashie."

Depending

"What would you say is the difference between a little boy and a dwarf?"

"Well, there might be a lot of difference."

"What, for instance?"

"Well, the dwarf might be a girl."

"Newspapers are the schoolmaster of the common people. That endless book, the newspaper, is our national glory." Henry Ward Beecher.

A well-lubricated lad staggered into a hotel lobby, and picked up a pen to register. Aside did so a remarkable facsimile of a bedbug crawled across the desk.

The lad recoiled and informed the reception clerk, "I've been in lots of hotels, and I've been bitten by some mighty smart bedbugs, but—hic—this is the first time one ever came down to see what room I was getting.

A Hit!

By Betty Barclay

YES, these delectable Coconut Molasses Squares will score a hit for you every time you serve them. A wonderfully simple-to-make recipe, these chewy little squares will please both cake and cookie lovers because they're a combination of both. You'll find they make ideal lunch-box fare, too, not only because they're easy to pack, but because they also provide a happy blending of "sweet tooth" and nutritional requirements into one satisfying dessert.

Coconut Molasses Squares

1 cup sifted cake flour; ½ teaspoon soda; ¼ teaspoon salt; 3 tablespoons butter; ⅓ cup sugar; ½ cup molasses; ¼ teaspoon vanilla; 2 egg whites, unbeaten; 1 cup shredded coconut.

Sift flour once, measure, add soda, and salt, and sift again.

Melt butter in saucepan. Remove from heat and add sugar, molasses, and vanilla, blending well. Add egg whites, stirring only enough to blend. Add flour mixture all at once and mix well. Fold in coconut. Turn into 8x8x2-inch pan which has been lined with waxed paper and then greased. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 40 minutes, or until done. Remove from pan and tear off paper. When cold, cut in squares. Makes 16 squares.

West District Camp Fire Girls Hold Outing

By Pat Martindale

A typical October day with its fall colors and warm breeze prevailed for the West district Camp Fire Girls annual get-together at Westgate Park last Saturday afternoon.

Approximately 300 girls, leaders and mothers enjoyed the activities and games which took place before the wiener roast got underway. Do-nuts and pop were also served for the lunch.

The afternoon program began with group singing of the Camp Fire Law, Blue Bird song, Cannibal King and Lollipop Song. A Halloween puppet show was presented by Mrs. George Reis' Blue Bird group. The girls had made their own puppets for their presentation with paper mache' material.

Mrs. Pauline Cook's Camp Fire Girls sang and played a make-believe organ with black and white gloved hands showing through paper that represented the organ. This performance was unique and extremely real looking, even to the music which was hummed in the background.

A funny skit was given by the girls in Mrs. Eline Matheny's Camp Fire group. Mrs. Martha Langdon and Mrs. Jinny's Blue Birds did "Way Down Yonder in the Pau Pau Patch" and "Grandfather's Clock." Mrs. Clemen's Blue Birds formed a revolving friendship circle. Then the Camp Fire Girls in Mrs. Karal Whitlatch's group sang "Baby Boy" and "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and Mrs. Eleanor Gaskill's group closed the program with the dance, "Give a Little Peek." The games and stunts for everyone were led by girls in Mrs. Bertha Gramlick's group.

SEWING CLASSES
Phyllis Jones

This year Miss Gaughran has 270 pupils in her sewing classes which keep her busy most of the time. The 7B classes are making aprons; the 7A classes, dirndl skirts; and the 8A's are working on skirts, jumpers and dickeys. The 9B's had a lesson in good grooming and they are making blouses. The 9A class has a lesson on textiles and they are working on blouses, weskits and skirts.

ZERO PERIOD
Phyllis Jones

Something new has been added to the Starling schedule this semester—a zero period. Actually this period comes before most of the Starling boys and girls have started for school since it begins at 7:50 each morning. It is for the benefit of the 9th grade boys and girls who come to starling after attending 7th and 8th grade at Briggsdale. Their school day ends at 2:45. There are two classes that meet during zero period, a 9B English class taught by Mrs. Bauer and a 9B typing class taught by Mrs. Dixon. This new schedule works in much better with the school bus schedule.

CITIZEN REPORTERS
Sally Stevens

This year the Columbus Citizen is asking each school to choose one boy and one girl to serve as reporters for an all school news page. The English teachers of Starling have chosen the two who are to represent their school. They are Betty Rezes of 380 Ryan-av, and Ray Williams of 344 Ryan-av. Both of them are in the 9B and will hold the position through their 9A class. The director of the Youth Page is Miss Sohl.

BASKETBALL
Alex Robinson

Basketball practice for Starling begins on Nov. 3. Mr. Pace has been relieved of an extra duty and Mr. Fearing takes over as coach of the Starling team.

Members of last year's team still enrolled at Starling are Jim Bargdill, Wayne Dennison, Tommy Evans, Ernie Mawhirter, Jim Murdock, Ronald Riffle, Alex Robinson, and Ray Williams.

Starling will play its first game on Dec. 3 against Aquinas.

CITIZENSHIP POSTERS
Carole Hamler

The citizenship classes of Starling have asked Mr. Pittenger and the boys in mechanical drawing to make posters that read "Vote to Support Liberty." These posters will be distributed in the area around Starling by the citizenship classes.

ADVANCED DRAMATICS
June Graves

The advanced dramatics class, made up of both 9B's and 9A's, is working on a group of three plays to be given before both dramatics classes the first part of November. The class was divided into three groups. Each group was responsible for choosing its own play, giving out the parts to each person, and planning for the rehearsals.

G. Tarbutton States Foreign Policy Ideas

George Tarbutton, Democratic candidate for Representative to Congress, this week released the following statement relative to his candidacy for that office:

"Collective security abroad and rejection of the ridiculous notion that we should seek our security alone in the world together with the proper encouragement of our allies will add to our strength in the defense of freedom. The strategy and tactics of our military forces I will leave to the generals. As a soldier during World War II I can recall nothing more absurd than irresponsible statements by junketing congressmen about the manner in which our forces abroad should be employed and the tactics of our armies should be changed. For political advantage, I will not advocate unsupported revolts in foreign countries where I shall oppose the employment of our own forces.

"My opponent was recently quoted as follows: 'We should let our military men bomb beyond the Yalu undeterred by timid diplomats. We should encourage the resistance of the free Chinese on the mainland against their Red oppressors. We should help them to practice what we preach in the Declaration of Independence, the overthrow of despotic government. This should be done now, without involving our own forces or the forces from Formosa on the Chinese mainland'."

I ask you, who will fly those bombers and who will rescue the pilots, the navigators, the bombardiers and the other members of air force crews who may not return from missions beyond the Manchurian border?

I cannot in good conscience advocate expansion of the present war in Korea into a Third World War, and I am content to take my stand with Gen. Omar Bradley, who said a war in China would be a war at the wrong time, at the wrong place, and against the wrong enemy."

Bible Comment:

John Has Defined Christian Fellowship In Third Epistle

THE third Epistle of John consists of a single chapter of only 13 verses and differs from most other books of the New Testament in that it is addressed to an individual instead of a church or group of people.

However, even though it is brief, it deals with a large theme. And though John addressed the book to an individual, its theme and appeal are for every individual who would follow the Christian way.

The relationship which John describes should exist between all who follow Christ. It is the hope of establishing that relationship among all men that is the highest ideal of human accomplishment.

The dominant theme of the epistle, a personal letter addressed to Gaius, is fellowship, or the love of one Christian for another. We have no way of determining which of the many men named Gaius in the New Testament was the one to whom John wrote.

Perhaps that is just as well for it gives to what was originally a personal letter a sort of more-than-individual interest. It might be thought of as a letter from John to any sincere Christian friend, even to you if you qualify to that respect.

What was so distinctive in the relationship that led John to address Gaius as "Beloved"? The salutation makes it clear. He is the beloved whom John loves "in truth." It is the truth in which they "walk"—the truth of practical Christian living and "faithful work."

"Fellow workers for the truth"—these are the words John used and they define the essential nature of Christian fellowship.

It is better to light one small candle than to curse the darkness.

An old Chinese philosopher wrote this worthy sentence centuries ago.

Many of us do not realize the significance of this statement. But most of us remember some dark night on a lonely country road, and how gladdening it was to see the flicker of light from across a dark field, as a farmer lit his lamp.

Yes, it is better to light one small candle . . .

Of course, some modern folks think that one small voice crying in the wilderness can do little to ward off the dark forces of disbelief that threaten so much of the world today. These people just have not reckoned with the church. For the church takes the candlepower of each member's personality, and directs it in one mighty flood of light into the dark recesses where the light of moral public opinion is needed. That is the religious way.

Don't just curse the darkness. That doesn't drive it away.

Light your candle! Join a church—or become an active member of your church. And you will be helping to build a world that will reflect the moral concepts of our God.

O, send out thy light and thy truth; let them lead me.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Editor
Hilltop Record
Typists:
Dear Sir:

I just learned of the recent action taken by several Westgate mothers to obtain sidewalks for this section of Columbus and since I wasn't contacted by telephone I would like to add my name to those in favor of sidewalks.

We have lived in Westgate for two years and are very happy except that I have constant worry that our children are playing in the street since they have no place to ride tricycles, wagons, or to roller skate. Our oldest child has just started to school and rather than walk on Wicklow-rd, he and his other schoolmates use the alley.

Sidewalks would also benefit adults as well as children for safer walking, especially during the winter months.

Thank you for any cooperation your paper can give to this project.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Paul J. Weisenbach

Kindly permit me to suggest some praise is due policemen at West High football games may do some good, certainly won't do any harm.

One in particular, called John, is quite popular with youngsters. Thank you.

A Cincinnatian

Enclosed find $1.50 for a continuance of my paper, The Hilltop Record for 1952-3.

I would not miss it for twice as much.

I have enjoyed it since it was first published and still am enjoying it.

Respectfully
Mrs. Bertha Mayer

Halloween "Food" Faces

Yes, you read the title correctly. "Food" faces and not faint faces is exactly what is meant. However, these food treats will not disguise or frighten anyone, but on the contrary will enhance an already healthful and delicious dessert, making it more appetites than ever—both to the eye and to the palate.

If you're having a party at your house on Halloween, serve this Halloween Reenet Dessert with frosted doughnuts and cider. The dessert delicacy is easily made and easy to digest as well. All you need is milk, one package of reenet powder, candy corn and raisins. And before you know it, timely Halloween food faces will be peeking up at you and your guests, tempting all appetites.

Halloween Reenet Dessert

2 cups milk (not canned)
1 package orange reenet powder
Candy corn
Raisins

Set out 4 or 5 dessert glasses.

Warm milk slowly until lukewarm, stirring constantly. Test a drop on the inside of your wrist frequently. When it feels comfortably warm (110° F.) not hot, remove at once from heat.

Stir in entire contents of package of reenet powder at one time. Mix until powder is dissolved—not over one minute.

Pour at once, while still liquid, into dessert glasses. Do not disturb for about 10 minutes, while milk sets. Then chill in refrigerator until serving time.

Decorate each dessert with a Halloween face made of candy corn and raisins. Use the raisins for the eyes and mouth, and the candy corn for the nose.

A Time Of Changes

By Betty Barclay

EVERY time a new season arrives, it brings changes. The coming Fall months will change the leaves to beautiful red and gold colors; balmy breezes to nippy winds. People, taking their cue from nature, begin to look for changes too—in clothes and in foods. Here we give you an old favorite; lemon pudding and pie filling mix, all dressed up with a new Fall "topper" of gingersnap cookies and whipped cream. One important ingredient in this delicious dessert hasn't changed, however—the ease and speed of preparation that you can count on during all four seasons when you use a prepared pudding and pie filling mix.

Ginger Fluff Pudding

2 egg yolks, slightly beaten; 2 cups water; 1 package lemon pudding and pie filling mix; ¼ cup sugar; 2 egg whites; 2 tablespoons sugar; 12 gingersnap cookies (2¾ inches); 1 cup cream, whipped.

Mix yolks with ¼ cup of the water in saucepan. Add pudding mix and ¼ cup sugar; blend well. Then add remaining water gradually, stirring constantly. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil and is thickened. Remove from heat.

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add 2 tablespoons sugar gradually and continue beating until mixture will stand in soft peaks. Fold in hot pudding. Turn into refrigerator serving dish. Chill. Arrange 9 of the cookies on top and spread with whipped cream. Crumb remaining cookies thoroughly and sprinkle the crumbs on the whipped cream. Chill 1 hour longer. Cut in squares. Garnish with mint leaves and maraschino cherries, if desired. Makes 9 servings.

Teen-Agers Learn Charm Secrets At Glenwood

Learning the secrets of charm from Glenwood Recreation staff member Juanita McNamee at left are these Hilltop girls, Clara Howell, 447 S. Ogden-av; Dee Holman, 2000 Fairmont-av; Charlene Smith, 336 Columbian-av; Pat Patterson, 314 Columbian-av, and Jeri Cremeens, 1968 Fierst-av.

Every girl in the world can't be beautiful but every girl can be charming if she wishes. Hilltop and West Side girls are invited to attend this class which will be held in the social room at Glenwood.

The Spectator by C.C. Hartley

You Have A Duty To Perform Next Tuesday

The stockholders of the largest corporation in the world will have an opportunity to express their satisfaction or displeasure with the way their officials have been operating the firm's business next Tuesday.

It will be national election day and is your opportunity to go to the polls to cast your vote on the kind of operation you want in national, state and local affairs during the next four years. If you do not go to the polls you have no right to cry afterwards.

If you have not already made up your mind on all the candidates and issues then make an intelligent effort to determine what your stand should be between now and Tuesday. It is a certainty that you are under no obligation to vote any way except the way you want to.

You have the most important date of the year next Tuesday. Be sure you vote!

About The Candidates

In this paper last week and this we have presented numerous short biographical sketches of many of the candidates in the coming election. Additional information is given this week relative to the Hilltop men who are seeking office.

The Record has never made it a policy to endorse many candidates. We have felt such endorsements should be given only in exceptional cases that merit it.

Neither have we ever given wholehearted support to Hilltop men who are seeking office just because they live here. We believe, however, that Hilltoppers can do well to carefully consider each of the Hilltop men seeking office this year.

George Tarbutton, candidate for congress, although not at present a Hilltop resident, lived here until recently, married a Hilltop girl, belongs to numerous local activities and has been a worker for the best interests of the Hilltop.

Newton Thatcher has long had our support in public office because we feel he has been capable and trustworthy at all times. We feel the Hilltop will continue to back him up.

Henry Koontz has represented the Hilltop in city council and is now seeking election as a county commissioner. With two of four candidates to be elected the Hilltop will perhaps vote strong for Koontz.

Robert E. Cooke is a newcomer to politics and is seeking the job of sheriff. Bob is well known as a very capable police officer for many years. He is conducting an active campaign wherein he outlines the need of eliminating gambling activities in the county. This is by no means a new promise from an office seeker. If he is elected we would like to see him do something about it. Hilltoppers would have a friend in the sheriff's office if they help elect Cooke.

Boy Scouts To Call At All Homes Nov. 1 Reminding All "To Vote" Next Tuesday

In an effort to get out the vote, the Boy Scouts of Southwest District along with all Scouts in the U. S., will leave reminders on door knobs of every home on Saturday. This "get out the vote" plan is sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America and Freedoms Foundation, Inc., and is one of the many things being done to raise the poor voting record of U. S. adults. 51% of those eligible voted in the last presidential election. Four of the Scouts taking part will be, left to right, Ronnie Knipp, 211 S. Burgess; Bill Edwards, 2719 Sullivant-av; John Archer, 2580 Eskin-rd; LeRoy Schofield, 789 S. Warren-av.

Taking part in the largest single Boy Scout activity ever arranged in the United States, more than 900 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers of the Southwest District, Central Ohio Council, will call on approximately 20,000 homes in this area Saturday, Nov. 1, and place on the doorknobs Liberty Bell cutouts reminding citizens to vote.

Throughout the nation most of the organization's Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers, numbering more than two million, are expected to visit 20,000,000 homes in their non-partisan campaign.

The Scouts' "Get Out the Vote" campaign is sponsored jointly with the Freedoms Foundation. Many of the nation's leaders of all political parties have endorsed the Scouts' efforts to further the cause of good citizenship by encouraging more citizens to have a part in selecting the nation's leaders.

While the local Boy Scouts are engaged in their door to door canvass to get out the vote on Election Day the Hilltop Ballot Battalion will not be idle either. This group for the past few days has been visiting all Hilltop business houses and passing out those Glengarry type paper hats calling attention to the necessity to vote on Nov. 4.

On election day members of the Ballot Battalion will be in the vicinity of the polling places passing out shields to those who visit the polls early and vote.

Leaders of the Ballot Battalion this week sounded a call to all service and civic organizations in the Hilltop area to urge upon their membership the necessity of voting and to devote any efforts possible to get out the vote.

The largest single national Boy Scout effort previously took place in 1934. On Feb. 10 that year, Boy Scouts mobilized throughout the nation and heard President Franklin D. Roosevelt request them by radio to do a "national good turn" for distressed and needy families. Within a few weeks Scouts collected 1,812,284 items of clothing, household furnishings, foodstuffs and supplies for the needy.

Locally, the "Get Out the Vote" campaign of the Boy Scouts began

Sunday evening, Nov. 2, at 7:30 o'clock, the Glenwood Methodist Church will be host for the second annual festival of church choirs from the Hilltop churches. Each choir will sing two selections of its own choice. The latter part of the service will be a short program by the entire group of approximately 250 voices under the direction of Ellis E. Snyder of Capital University.

3½ Mill Levy Faces Franklin Twp. Electorate

One of the issues which will face voters in Franklin Township on Tuesday, Nov. 4, is that of a 3½-mill levy proposed by the Franklin Township trustees for future operating expenses.

Supporters of the levy point out that the measure will actually amount to a one and one-half mill increase over the current tax rate and that it is necessary since the two mill fire protection levy voted and passed two years ago will run out because it was only voted for three years. Two mills of the levy, it is said, will be for continuing this fire protection and the additional one and one-half mills will be used in improving township roads, maintenance of township property and for other administrative purposes.

In order to show how this new levy will affect the township taxpayers it was pointed out that a taxpayer with a property valuation of $2,080, according to 1951 tax figures was taxed at the rate of $13.70 per $100 valuation or paid a total tax of $28.22.

With the 18 per cent increase in valuation which has been added as a result of legislation in the last meeting of the Ohio Legislature the tax bill increased to $33.30 on the same property by virtue of the valuation increase.

With the proposed 3½ mill levy for the trustees, the tax bill on the same property will be $36.93 or an increase of but one and one-half mills over the original tax.

Sadie Hawkins Day Dance

It is the "Sadie Hawkins Day" dance at Glenwood Center, Wednesday, Nov. 5, 8 to 10 p. m. Everybody will come to the dance as one of the fabulous characters from the famous comic strip. The gals of Glenwood will make a special vegetable corsage for the guy they are going to ask to the dance.

Dress as "Daisy Mae," "Lil' Abner," Marrin' Sam," "Mammy" or "Pappy" Yokum or some other of the famous characters, and join in on the foot races and turnip chomping contest and other events that will be the feature of the intermission.

You might be chosen the "Daisy Mae" or "Lil' Abner" of the dance. Go down to Glenwood and join the fun.

Hilltop Folk Respond Well To U.A. Drive

Hilltop area residents made a fine showing in the 1952 United Appeals-Red Cross Drive, which officially ended Thursday, Oct. 23.

Although the drive failed to meet its quota of $2,387,520, campaign officials fully expect to reach the goal within the week.

The final reports given at a dinner meeting Thursday, Oct. 23, at the Southern Hotel, showed workers were some $52,583 short. This represents 2.2 per cent of the goal.

Campaign Chairman Preston Cooke urged the 7,000 volunteer solicitors to stay on the job for another week in an attempt to increase the $2,344,637 already collected.

In 1951, the first United Appeals year, workers raised $2,249,000, topping their goal of $2,154,750.

More Hilltop area residents gave this year than did last year. This shows that more and more people realize the united way of giving is the best way.

Leading the 12 divisions of the United Appeals in Thursday's report was the National Farms Division with $68,661, or 107.4 per cent of its quota. Next in line was the Industry and Labor Division with $791,307, or 101.6 per cent. Third was the Women's Division with $234,029, or 101.2 per cent of its quota.

Other divisions and the amounts raised were: Insurance, $112,975, 98.8; Public Services, $332,792; 97.8; Construction, $112,669, 96.9; Suburban, $52,120, 96.6; Education, $95,781, 95.8; Business, $99,198, 94.2; Commercial, $229,950, 93.9; Professional, $72,276, 89.2; Public Employees, $84,875, 75.4.

Sharing in the goal are the 67 agencies of the Community Chest, the Red Cross, Heart Association, Cancer Society, United Cerebral Palsy Association and the United Defense Fund (USO).

Square Dancing Proves Popular At Glenwood

Three Down, The Score For Classified Dept.

Three down and none to go! Yes, three satisfied customers have removed their ads from The Hilltop Record and West Side News classified pages this week, terming their sales efforts successful.

Among the many happy want ad users this week were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Diven, 297 Avondale-av, who sold a child's brown and white coat and leggings set; Mrs. Hazel Foster, 1204 Wilson-rd, who sold 58 heavy hens at $1.50 each, and C. T. Cooke, 186 S. Brinker-av, whose ad sold a Hercules coal stoker.

These are just a representation of the many people who use and have results from the low cost classified advertisements in the Hilltop Record and West Side News. Why don't you call RA. 1125 and ask for classified.

Capt. Russ Alban

Capt. Russell W. Alban, a member of Marine Reserve Fighter Squadron 244, has been awarded the Air Medal for "meritorious acts while participating in aerial flights during the Korean conflict from May 1, 1951, to Jan. 12, 1952."

The award was presented at the Marine Air Detachment Station, Naval Air Station, Port Columbus, by Maj. Richard C. McConnell, commanding officer of the squadron.

Franklin Twp. School Levy Is Advocated

Franklin Township Board of Education this week urged all voters of the area to give their support to the tax levy increase which is to appear on the ballot next Tuesday. They cite increased expenses which are creating a serious financial difficulty for the board as the reason.

In a statement issued this week the group said, "We are paying approximately one-half of the cost of our high school tuition, one of the largest items of local expense. We have employed more teachers and more bus drivers. We have purchased new buses which improve transportation and increase safety. We must levy eight mills, two mills more than we have at this time to participate fully in the state foundation program."

"Loss of this two mill levy will deprive the Franklin Township School Board of Education of $62,195. This represents $31,370 toward high school tuition; $21,749 toward transportation cost; $9,176 toward other operation costs and the state money for 1953."

Annual Halloween Party Starts At 6:30 pm Friday

Hilltop Community Council this week extended an invitation to the public to attend one of the Halloween Parties given on Friday, Oct. 31 at Glenwood Recreation Center and Westgate Park from 6:30 till 11 p. m.

In keeping with the traditional autumn celebration, the occasion being "Holy Eve" or just plain good old boisterous Halloween in America, the Hilltop Community Council and its co-sponsors of this annual party have planned a festival never to be forgotten among Hilltop children (from the ages of 1 to 100) with costume parades, games, dances, movies and all kinds of refreshments.

The party will begin with the grand march of costumes at 7 p.m. and prizes will be awarded to winners in the various age groups. At Westgate Park the judging will take place in the old shelter house and at Glenwood Center it is to be held in the gymnasium.

Immediately following, the prizes will be awarded to the winners of the window painting sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. St. Aloysius School, Highland Avenue and West Mound Street School winners will be awarded their prizes at Glenwood and all other schools will receive their prizes at Westgate Park.

A square dance with the Buckeye Rhythm Boys will begin at 8 p. m. in the gym of Glenwood for the teen-agers and last until 11 p. m. The gym balcony will be available to spectators who wish to watch the events.

Refreshments in the form of pop, pop-corn, potato chips, hot chocolate, ice cream, candy, pretzels, coffee and doughnuts and hot dogs will be sold.

A fish pond for the youngsters will be sponsored at both parties and to complete the fun there will be fortune telling.

The parties will be held rain or shine and all Hilltoppers are invited.

New West Broad Water Mains Are Approved

That long awaited water supply for the W. Broad-st area is no longer a mirage—it is actually on its way.

On Monday night, Oct. 27, City Council authorized and approved a contract to furnish water to the Franklin County Commissioners for the W. Broad-st area from Georgesville and Phillipi-rds westerly to and including the village of New Rome.

On Wednesday morning, Oct. 29, the Board of County Commissioners, at a special meeting of the board, in turn authorized and approved the contract and ordered the county sanitary engineer to immediately start the plans for the water mains.

The trunk lines, pumping station and storage tank will be financed by revenue bonds issued by Franklin County, which bonds will be paid off over a period of approximately forty years from revenue received from the sale of water to the consumers.

It is anticipated that the village of New Rome will want to abandon its present well supply and connect its distribution system to the new county feeder main.

Charles H. Lauderbaugh, county commissioner, stated that "the authorization of the contract culminates years of work to obtain adequate utilities to the West Franklin County Area."

Present at the Wednesday morning Conference were the County Commissioners, C. F. Lauderbaugh, Harry E. Vigor, Nate McCoy, Jr.; Dr. W. G. O'Barr, representing Prairie-twp; Otto Nuetzel, representing Franklin-twp; Joe Goodwin, representing the 11th ward; D. J. Kunz, president of the West Franklin County Civic Ass'n Inc., and Desso T. Mitchell, Franklin County Sanitary Engineer.

John Burroughs and West Broad Are Gra-Y Football Loop Leaders

By Dick Wilson

Little 4' 8" Tommy Hartranft once again showed his potential All-American power last Saturday when he scored two touchdowns against the "big guys" from West Jr. Hi-Y. His team went down to defeat 26-12, but it was a moral victory for the "little guys" from the Gra-Y club. Fred Lanch once again used his team's six-foot ends to good advantage. Lanch passed to end Tom Coffman for the first two downs, to end Dick Furry for the third TD and to end Dick Furry for the final score. Two extra points scored by West Jr. were made by John Kunts on end sweeps.

West Jr. Hi-Y—ends, Jenkins, Furry and Coffman; tackles, L. Rector and P. Rector; guards, T. Furry and Walker; center, Link; backs, Lanch, Waltman, Kunts and Laderer.

West Broad Gray-Y—ends, S. Saint, R. Saint, and Sines; tackles, Merrick, Davis, and Grove; guards, J. Graham, Lowe and Ricketts; center, Lawrence; backs, Cruse, Levering, Shay, Hartranft, Hunt, and Stump.

West Jr. Hi-Y	12	0	7	6	—26

Officials: Brannon and Rice; scorer, Wilson; timer, Watts.

John Burroughs remains tied for the loop lead by defeating a valiant Highland team 13-0. Coach Keith Jenkins of John Burroughs had a defense worked out to stop Highland's triple threat back Howard Shepherd. On the other side of the fence, Coach Woody Waltman and Tom Coffman were unable to solve the mystery of Bill Ingles' passing arm. They tried several different formations but none of them were effective against Little Bill as he scored one TD from a running play and passed to his end David Francis for the other one. The extra point made by JB was scored on an Ingle to Ash pass.

J. Burroughs Gra-Y	0	6	7	0	—13

Officials: Brannon and Reeves; scorer, Wilson; timer Watts.

West Mound Gray-Y put up a tarrific battle against a favored Westgate team, but lost by the score 8-0. West Mound's defensive play looked very good, but the offensive was quite shaky because of several fumbles.

Davis Eagen was the hero of the day. His speedy running and sharp passing for Westgate being the small margin of difference between the two teams.

West Mound Gray-Y—ends, Aisel and Ferguson; tackles, Early and Distleweiss; guards, Burchfield and Friend; center, Bowen; backs, Dulin, Alwood, Howell, Voorbees.

Westgate Gray-Y—ends, Pemberton and Mann; tackles, Schorer and Myers; guards, Linson, Newkirk, and Tichter; center, Sanford; backs, Eagan, Schmitt, Kern and Schwann.

Officials—Jenkins and Brannon; scorer, Schmidt; timer, Watts.

The Hilltop Gra-Y football League standings are:

John Burroughs	4	0
West Broad	2	0
Highland	1	2
Westgate	1	1
West Mound	0	*3

YOUTH

By Bob Schmidt and Dick Wilson

Betty Knight, volunteer worker from Otterbein College, reports that the grade school girls' class has been progressing nicely in crafts. Last week they made lapel pins and painted their own designs on them. This week they will start work on wooden salt and pepper shakers. Miss Knight asked Bob and me to report that she has room for six more girls in this class. They meet every Friday at the YMCA office from 3:30 to 5 p. m. Any girl of grade school age is eligible to enter the class.

Just a reminder to the boys on the Hilltop that we have boys' craft classes every Monday and Wednesday at the YMCA from 3:30 to 5 p. m. All boys, ages eight to 18, are cordially invited to attend these classes. At present, members of the class are working on models of airplanes, boats and cars. Some of the finished models are now on display in the show window of the Hilltop YMCA at 2502 W. Broad-st.

Now I would like to give a tip to both boys and girls of all ages that the Hilltop YMCA has free movies at the "Y" office every Tuesday at 4 p. m. Fellows, this is your chance to treat your girl friend or sister to a movie—and it won't cost you a penny! Pretty good deal, huh?

At the last meeting of the Indian Guides, the Big and Little Braves worked on an Indian project. All of the tribe members made Indian bracelets which the Little Braves are now wearing to school every day. The highlight of the "Pow-Wow" came when the various Big and Little Braves individually repeated the tribe's purpose and aims. By doing so, each brave won a tribal feather to place in his head band. The next rendezvous will be held Nov. 4 at Big Brave Basemen's tepee at 204 S. Westmoor-av.

C. H. Sedgwick reports that his West Senior Hi-Y Club held its second meeting at West High School last week. Sixty-two boys turned in applications to join the club. A nominating committee was appointed to present a ballot of candidates for the club election of officers to be held at the next meeting on Nov. 10. The club plans to meet on school time twice every month.

The knocking on your door this week will not be by Halloween pranksters. It will be members of the Hilltop Gra-Y and Junior Hi-Y clubs who have begun their sales campaign of candy mints to secure funds to send Christmas boxes to veterans in the VA hospitals, aid in individual club programs, and to help send less fortunate boys to summer camps. The sales so far have been progressing very nicely. The members of the six clubs, Bob and I wish to thank all of you who have bought the candy. You are truly showing a good Christian attitude by helping the boys to help others less fortunate than we.

In closing I wish to congratulate the officers and members of the West Junior Hi-Y Club on a beautifully conducted induction service. This induction of officers and new members was held at the Hilltop YMCA last Thursday evening. Parents of the club members attended the service, and Dave Randall, member of the Hilltop YMCA board of management, did a wonderful job in addressing the group and presenting the membership cards and club charter. Mothers of the club members served refreshments after the ceremony.

This Problem of Juvenile Delinquency

BJR Seeks Causes Of Wayward Youth

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles concerning the Bureau of Juvenile Research located in Columbus. In this series will be told the story of how this important social agency is approaching a problem that is rapidly becoming the concern of every civic-minded citizen.

By Pat Martindale

The 52,700th child entered the Bureau of Juvenile Research at 2280 W. Broad-st this week and in spite of the fact that juvenile delinquency is astoundingly high over the state, the local institution's statistics reveal that once the cause is found for the problem child's behavior and is properly treated at the bureau only a small percentage of them become offenders more than once.

Although children are brought to the Juvenile Bureau of Research from all parts of the state the personnel at the bureau prefer to be considered a part of the community and feel that local residents know too little of the bureau's accomplishments.

The bureau is not a penal institution as it has so often been referred to ,but is exactly what its name indicates, a research center.

One of the first and finest in Ohio, the bureau has been recognized by leading doctors and psychologists over the world as outstanding and successful with its methods.

Having been located at 2280 W. Broad-st since 1920, this agency whose staff is, composed of the necessary professional personnel to carry out an intensive and extensive study of each child during the time of residence there, whether it be one day or several weeks, attempts to find a remedy for their behavior. In certain instances it is neither desirable nor necessary for the child to remain in residence during the examinations. The child is brought by appointment for examinations or interviews and returns home the same day. This service is known as a "clinic study" and to date 26,957 of the 52,700 children have been studied through the day clinics.

From the time of entering the Juvenile Bureau until dismissal, each child is made to feel like an individual by being treated as such and at no time are children made to fear but are put at ease by acquainting them with the institution's habits. This way is better for the child and makes it easier for the personnel to diagnose the case because the offender puts more trust in his associates.

In a recent study at the Research Bureau, causes for juvenile delinquency rated highest in offenders who were mentally unable to adjust themselves independently in society; gross negligence in general training of the child; laxity of supervision; child felt unwanted; parents mentally incompetent; the child reacting to abuse. The study showed many other reasons for unusual behavior but the percentage ranged from 9.8 per cent down to less than .2 per cent.

The legislative bill establishing the bureau provides three separate sources of cases: first, children referred by juvenile courts; second, children voluntarily referred by parents, social agencies, legal guardians, physicians and children's homes, and third, the director of public welfare may assign children for examination who are wards or inmates of agencies or institutions within the department of public welfare.

With the continued study of the unusual behavior of juveniles the future may be able to offer a program to curb delinquency before it happens or at least cut it to a much smaller percentage.

Robert R. Shaw Asks Return To Assembly

Robert R. Shaw, candidate for state senator, has served the people of Franklin County in the House of Representatives for 10 years. He feels that this experience qualifies him for the Senate.

He has been a practicing lawyer for 22 years; also is a former committeeman of the 19th Ward and has served on the municipal bench of Columbus. In the 96th general assembly Shaw was majority floor leader and at present is vice-chairman of the house finance committee.

During his tenure in office Shaw has opposed all bills requiring new and increased taxes and has steadfastly urged that the state vacate some tax fields where local government could best assume the responsibility of the collection and enforcement of the tax.

Shaw resides with his wife and three children at 4895 N. High-st.

Nate McCoy, Jr., Asks Second Term As Commissioner

Nathan A. (Nate) McCoy, Jr., serving his first term as Franklin County Commissioner, is a Democratic candidate for re-election, running on his record.

Formerly assistant state treasurer under Clarence Knisely, and the son of Columbus' former postmaster, McCoy is well versed in the administration of public office.

McCoy is a veteran of World Wars I and II, during which he served as chief petty officer in the United States Navy.

In seeking a second term, McCoy, Jr., is promoting a program of such additional benefits to Franklin County as a home and hospital facilities for the chronically ill, an educational program for retarded children, a desperate need now endorsed by leading medical experts; and establishment of suitable facilities for the care of mental patients prior to hospital commitment, which would eliminate placing them in jails, where they are exposed to criminals and danger of injury from various causes.

Ninth Annual Mum Show To Open Sunday

For the week-end and the following week the Ninth Annual Mum Show, at Franklin Park Conservatory and Greenhouses, will feature a special collection of chrysanthemums representing a bird series collection, so named because certain birds reflect certain colors. These are hardy outdoor mums, large flowered, almost equal in size to those grown in cold frames by shading.

Another feature Sunday will be a band concert by the Columbus Federation of Musicians at 2 p. m. They will play several numbers representing flowers. The exhibits will be in place Saturday and continue through the following week.

The week of Nov. 1

Throughout the week of Nov. 1 will be featured many varieties of foliage home plants, dish gardens and the like.

Nov. 7, 8, 9 will be the grand finale by Columbus florists who have promised a most gorgeous display of the best arrangements ever exhibited in Columbus.

The conservatory will be open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Your quarter a week will provide four prescriptions for medication at the Columbus Cancer Clinic. A United Appeal depends on you.

John C. Duffy Bidding For Okay As Representative

What Over What?

Most paints and enamels can be applied over other paints and enamels — and also over shellac and lacquer. Beware, however, of using lacquer over paint, enamel or varnish. The lacquer will act as paint "remover" and trouble will ensue.

Seeding Lawns

Scotts Lawn Research, which has made a specialty of beautiful turf for 80 years, says that most lawn owners reseed bare spots in the spring, which is not the best season for it. Democrats Appeal For Volunteers

The Reorganization Committee of the Franklin County Democratic Party this week urged all Democrats in this area to really aid in getting out the vote during this election.

A spokesman for the organization this week said, "There is an important job for everyone. We welcome everyone's contributions of time and effort. Specifically we need people to baby sit so that the voters can get to the polls, ring doorbells, distribute literature, get the voter out on election day and do the many things that are necessary for a successful campaign."

The committee urges that all who will be available for such service contact the following leaders in these wards. Ward 1, Martin Finta, GA. 0904; Ward 2, Frank Burgtaller, GA. 31421; Ward 3, Louis Miller, MA. 2030; Ward 9, John Roth, MA. 7801; Ward 10, M. J. Cooke Outlines Five Planks In Bid For Sheriff

Robert Cooke

Robert Cooke, a veteran of 25 years on the Columbus Police Force and former member of the Detective Bureau and now retired, is the Democratic candidate for the office of sheriff of Franklin County.

Cooke, hero of a gun battle on the West Side while a member of the Columbus Police Department has come forth with a five-point program in his bid for the sheriff post.

His planks as outlined are: (a) proper administration of the sheriff's office; (b) a relentless war on the gambling interests within the county; (c) proper enforcement of all laws and an aggressive campaign for equipment and the right men as deputies to properly observe and enforce the law; (d) a pledge of careful attention to the growing juvenile problems and an intensive campaign against unscrupulous tavern keepers and gamblers who contribute to the delinquency of juveniles; (e) a proper recognition of the civil duties and responsibilities of the sheriff.

Cooke in his campaign thus far has repeatedly scored his opponent for laxity in office and the improper use of deputy personnel for political reasons which he claims have been to the detriment of the general public.

The Democratic candidate is a veteran of World War II with service in the navy. He is a member of Camp Chase Post 96 of the American Legion, Naval Reserves, Masons, Oakwood Methodist Church and various Democratic clubs.

He is married and lives at 458 Nashoba-av.

Metcalf Charges Elbin With No Foresight

Harry D. Metcalf, Republican candidate for county engineer, charged in a prepared statement that his opponent, the present county engineer, "has been fiddling around with speculative re-zoning deals in the North End when he should have been building badly needed highways all over Franklin County."

Metcalf said that Lane-av should be made a four-lane highway from the Olentangy River-rd west to Upper Arlington, with the removal of the present dangerous dog-leg. "My opponent talks about doing this, but nothing happens," continued Metcalf.

Metcalf added that this project should be completed before property along the right-of-way is encumbered with costly structures, erected either by Ohio State University or by private owners. That would make the project much more expensive, according to Metcalf.

Metcalf also criticised his opponent for delay in the Spring-Sandusky-st interchange, which becomes a bottleneck during heavy traffic.

"Failure to take care of these two projects illustrates a complete lack of planning in the county engineer's office," said Metcalf. "The voters can remedy this situation by retiring my opponent on Nov. 4."

from YOUR CONGRESSMAN
John M. Vorys

Dear Friends:

Representing you in Congress since 1938 in peace and war has been a great honor, but a heavy responsibility.

I have been in the minority, except in the Republican 80th Congress in 1947-48 when we balanced the budget, cut taxes, launched the Hoover Commission, unified the Armed Forces, authorized Greek-Turkish aid and the European Recovery Plan, set up a long-range farm program, and increased Social Security benefits.

At all times I have fought extravagance, inflation, corruption, worked on District problems and projects and supported measures to keep America strong in the struggle against Communism at home and abroad.

Since 1938 there have been 93,000 bills in Congress, and thousands of votes. You know my record generally, but you should vote for a Congressman you can trust in decisions you will never know about. I am grateful for your past confidence and hope to deserve your trust again.

Sincerely,

John M. Vorys

JAMES A. RHODES SEEKS STATE AUDITORSHIP WITH A HARD-HITTING, DOCUMENTED CAMPAIGN

Veteran political observers are searching their memories in an effort to recall a more hotly contested race for a state office than the one being waged this year by Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus against State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson.

Ferguson, who was swept into office by the 1936 Roosevelt landslide, has won re-election in three successive campaigns since that time. His only defeat, which was the worst ever administered any candidate in Ohio history, came in 1950 when he sought Robert A. Taft's seat in the United States Senate.

Rhodes, who is only 42 years of age, is now serving his third term as Mayor of Ohio's capital city. Prior to that he was twice elected city auditor. He began his career in public office at the age of 28 when he was elected to the Columbus School Board.

The hard-hitting campaign waged by Rhodes has won for him the unqualified support of Republican, Democrat and Independent newspapers alike.

Editorial support of Rhodes has been particularly obvious in the northern part of the State where recent scandals involving Ferguson's office have hit very close to home.

Influencing this attitude was a recent disclosure by the Cleveland Press of irregular practices by Ferguson aides in soliciting campaign funds from highway contractors doing business with the state.

Since Ferguson, through his highway inspectors, is the final authority as to whether such contractors shall be paid for services rendered, it is obvious that coercion, real or implied, could be brought to bear. Although he disavowed any knowledge of such activities by his key employes, Ferguson nevertheless ordered such contributions returned, but not before federal agencies concerned with highway aid indicated their intention to investigate the entire matter.

Then, just two weeks before election day, the Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) Grand Jury, following a special investigation, brought to light two cases of possible embezzlement by county officials that had never been made public nor prosecuted although one of the alleged misdeeds took place 12 years ago and the other five.

Since it is the responsibility of the State Auditor's office to discover such cases and refer them to the proper authority, the Grand Jury censured Ferguson for what it termed "unwholesome practices' in an "open violation of law."

When advised of this, none of events, the Auditor professed that he lacked personnel necessary to get out such reports, thereby implying that for lack of a typist during recent years those accused might have escaped trial.

James A. Rhodes

These two hot issues merely lent fire to the torrid campaign being conducted by Jim Rhodes. He had already brought to light other charges which to this day Ferguson has never satisfactorily answered. These include:

1. The charge that Ferguson drove a State car, using State gasoline books, on a vacation trip to Florida earlier this year.
2. The charge that Ferguson requires his employes to sign undated resignations before appointing them.
3. The charge that Ferguson has employed in positions of trust men who have engaged in commercial gambling and who have criminal records.
4. The charge that Ferguson has waited as long as six years to turn in his personal expense accounts and has collected as much as $3900 at one time without submitting receipts for many items.

Substance to these charges by Rhodes was lent, for example, by the Columbus Dispatch that earlier this year published photographs of Ferguson's State car, a Buick, parked in the garage of his son's Florida home. The questionable backgrounds of a few Ferguson lieutenants have long been known in the state capital.

Taking cognizance of these facts, prominent Ohio newspapers have expressed themselves accordingly. The Cleveland Plain Dealer described Ferguson as a "small-bore, publicity seeking incumbent official" who has been "wrong 95% of the time." The Cleveland Press called him a "second rater" who "plays politics 52 weeks a year, no matter how the public interest suffers."

Ferguson is obviously waging a "silent" campaign, depending on the familiarity of his name, which has been on the State ballot for 20 years, to win votes, and, according to Rhodes, his hundreds of employes who are active in his behalf passing out campaign literature and performing other allied functions.

To say the least, Ferguson has been elusive, never making a forthright stand on the important issues, those essential to the office concerned.

For example, he attacked Rhodes' interest in amateur athletics. The Columbus Mayor has served as president of the A.A.U., as a member of the Olympic Executive Committee, as a member of the P.G.A. Advisory Committee, as president of the Ohio Public Links Golf Association and as president of the National Caddie Association, which he founded seven years ago. This was considered by many as clouding the issue since all of these projects are worthwhile and in the public interest, but more than that they have nothing to do with a campaign for the job of State Auditor.

George Sessions Perry, writing in a recent edition of the Saturday Evening Post, stated that Rhodes first was elected Mayor of Columbus by waging a campaign "on a basis little more complicated than sheer honesty, diligence and intelligence in government." This is obviously the same approach he is using in seeking the post of State Auditor, except he has this year waged a more dynamic campaign, one designed to arouse people throughout the entire state.

This is emphasized in the paramount issue he has stressed again and again . . . the need for legislation making it mandatory for the State Auditor's office to be publicly examined and audited on a regular basis by a competent and impartial body. Ferguson, on the other hand, has resisted all efforts to enact such a measure during his sixteen years in that office and to this day has never been made to account for any of the funds used by his office.

A review of these facts makes it obvious that the Ashland Times-Gazette was right when it said recently:

"Regardless of one's party affiliation, there can't be much question about James A. Rhodes' qualifications over Joe Ferguson, the Democratic incumbent. Here, certainly, it is time for a change."

Surprise!

A young doctor, who hung up his shingle in a small town, waited for his first patient. Some days later one arrived—covered from head to foot with an angry danger, ouv-looking rash. The puzzled young medico hastily consulted his textbook but could find no help there. Finally he said to the patient, "Did you ever have this affliction before?"

"Oh, sure Doc," the patient replied, "I've had it twice before."

Westway Postscripts

Hope all the members and friends attended our annual Halloween party on Tuesday, Oct. 28. There was quite a crowd and a lot of really good costumes. With that successful venture out of the way, we'll have to roll up our sleeves and do even better on the Christmas Party.

Our membership drive is going great guns, Comrades, and that is always something that makes the commander happy. We are well ahead of our record for last year. Remember, Department has a contest and every member who gets his dues in to us in time for us to get them to the department quartermaster before Nov. 16, has a chance on a TV set or a life membership—let's get them in. Membership is the life blood of this organization.

Dick Ketter, our comrade and buddy from Newark has been forced to resign as commander of the 11th District as he is accepting a new job in Nebraska. We are sorry to lose Dick because he was one of the best but we wish him good luck in his new undertaking. Our loss will be the gain of the Nebraska Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The new commander of the 11th District will be another old friend of Westway Post. He is Charles F. Althoff of Tri-Community Post No. 4819. Charlie now resides at 681 S. Ogden-av.

This resignation leaves a vacancy in District Junior Vice Commander and Westway Post in its last meeting unanimously indorsed its commander, Dick Martin, to run for that post in the next district meeting sometime in January.

There is a lot more social activity in store for the members of Westway Post in the very near future. The auxiliary is planning a monthly dance in addition to the monthly social get-togethers and the Post is talking of beginning a weekly card party.

Our sick call includes only Ira T. McQueeney, 3033 Olive-st. We are happy to have only one but this Comrade has been very sick. He was in White Cross Hospital for a few days but is now recuperating at his home. Before being injured a few years ago, Ira was one of our most active members and it would be nice if some of his old cronies could spare a little time to visit him.

Members, the commander is a little worried about not receiving news of illnesses and deaths of members or their relatives. If any other members learns of this please phone your commander at JO. 2657, your chaplain at RA. 2802 or your adjutant at RA. 4068.

West Wallops Old Rival North By Score Of 33-0

Dick Orr, tiny mite West quarterback, is pictured here as he raced across North goal line last Friday night for a touchdown. The play however was called back nullifying the score.

West safety man Jim Vincent is being racked up but hard on this play by North defenders as he attempted to return a punt. Two North players on the ground already have hold of him and Stahl (99) and Howard (72) are coming in to assist while Dean (56) of West tried to ward them off.

Jimmy Johnson (58) holds his head a he sees his buddy, Ken Harper (47) being racked up, but good by a North defender a he crossed the goal for one of West's scores last Friday night.

By Woody Owens

The West High School Cowboys continued down the undefeated trail in City League competition last Friday night as they handed a badly crippled North High Polar Bear eleven a 33-0 lacing.

It was the largest margin of victory any local eleven has ever achieved over their arch rival.

The Polar Bears were without the services of their two star backfielders, Jay Blackford, who saw no service at all, and Bob Karon, the league's leading scorer, who was carried from the field on the sixth play of the contest with a knee injury.

The Cowboys' scoring began early in the first period as Tom Ongaro returned Graf's punt from his own 10 to the 21. Cole then circled left end for 17, Grant circled right end for 15, Ongaro repeated around right end for 27 to the Polar Bears' 19. Orr ran right end for four and Cole blasted through center for eight to the seven yard line. Orr then blasted around right end to score but the Cowboys were offside. On the following play a double reverse from Orr to Grant to Ongaro found the latter circling left end to score standing up.

The Cowboys then kicked off and on the first play following, Jimmy Vincent interrupted Graf's pass and returned to the visitors' 28. Grant then ran over left tackle for six and Cole made it first down on the 18. Grant then ran right end for six and Cole repeated through center for 6. Then the Cowboys were penalized for offside to the 11. Grant then ran right and to score. Cole added the point after on a blast through center. West 14, North 0.

In the second period the Cowboys added another score after a poor punt by Miller went out of bounds on the visitors' own 36. Ongaro ran through right tackle for eight, Orr on a quarterback sneak made a first down on the 24. Two running plays advanced only two yards and then Orr hit Trabue with a perfect aerial for a first down on the 11. Cole rammed through center for nine and Orr quarterback sneaked for the score. Orr ran right end for the point after. West 21, North 0.

In the third period after the ball had exchanged hands several times through pass interceptions and punts, the Cowboys scored again as Jim Kruckeberg, the locals' 135 pounds of defensive dynamite, intercepted Graf's pass on his own 45 and raced down the sidelines to score. Cole failed to score on a plunge for the point after. West 27, North 0.

At this point the locals' coaching staff began clearing the bench, inserting both second and third stringers into the contest, and they more than held their own for the remainder of the period, although it was scoreless.

In the final period after the subs had received a punt on their own 29 they ground out 71 yards to score. Harper ran right end for 17 to the 46. Kline circled left end for eight to the North 46, Nafzger passed to Kline for 32 yards to the 14. Kline ran through right tackle for five and then Harper broke through left tackle for nine yards and the touchdown. Nafzger failed on a plunge for the point after.

The contest soon ended without any further scoring. West 33, North 0.

Tommy Thomas, Jerry Trabue, Jim Kimbal, Jim Kruckeberg and Jim Vincent stood out defensively for the Cowboys while the entire backfield of Orr, Ongaro, Cole and Grant, along with two second team members, Harper and Kline, played brilliantly on offense.

Dick Graf stood out offensively and Jim Yeamans defensively for the Polar Bears.

This Thursday (tonight) the Cowboys will be hosts to the Linden McKinley Panthers, who have only one win in the City League to date, that being over North.

They have suffered three setbacks, but as a note to the Cowboys, don't let the record fool you, as anything can happen in a football game. (For example, the Ohio State debacle at Iowa last Saturday.)

Camp Chase Civic Group Endorses C. P. Lauderbaugh

Citing the record of C. P. Lauderbaugh during his tenure as Franklin County Commissioner and his interests in the development and improvement of the Hilltop and West Side, Carl A. Popp, president of the Camp Chase Civic Association, this week gave the endorsement of that organization to Lauderbaugh, who is seeking re-election in the forthcoming elections.

In a letter mailed this week, Popp called attention to Lauderbaugh's support of the organization in its battle to keep a low cost housing development out of the Sullivant-av and Demorest-rd area.

You have time enough to give enough—pledge now—pay later. Your 25 cents a week will provide 50 girls with athletic, musical and dramatic training at the St. Euphrasia School.

The "Wise" of Winter Driving

Hamilton's SOHIO SERVICE
Hague & Sullivant
RA. 0246

Q. Why do cars often fail to start in winter time?

A. "Often" is right! Actually, about 1 out of 3 cars fail to start at some time during the winter. There are several causes. One is frozen fuel lines. Water that condenses in the gas tank gets into the fuel line, settles there and freezes. Another is battery failure. A battery loses some of its power in cold weather. Battery failure can also be a result of other conditions. For example, summer-contaminated lube can make gears hard to move. And oil that permits too much sludge and varnish to build up on the cylinders can make for hard turn-over. That makes the battery work too hard and may cause it to fail. Gasoline with inadequate quick-start qualities can cause starting failure, too.

Q. Can starting failure be prevented?

A. Sure. Simply by preventing its causes. Sohio Guaranteed Starting Protection does exactly that. It includes a monthly battery check, an anti-freeze in your gas tank, motor oil and lube change, and use of X-tane or Supreme gasoline.

Q. But doesn't that cost a lot of money?

A. Not at all! The battery check is free. The other things are just what you'd buy anyway. So you spend nothing extra. If you don't start, Sohio guarantees to pay your garage starting bill. The guarantee costs not a penny extra. Why not come in and see me about Guaranteed Starting Protection—soon?

Hilltop Lions Club Again Is The Sponsor For Only Blind Girl Scout Troop In County

They are sponsored by the Hilltop Lions Club and meet Thursday of each week at the State School for the Blind at Parsons and Main-st.

The Hilltop Lions Club extended its thanks to the Hilltop and West Side business men who purchased advertising in the sight saving edition of The Hilltop Record last May and also the residents of the Hilltop and West Side who bought these papers from the Lions in their house to house sale.

"It was through their generous cooperation that such projects as this are possible," said Rex Lynch, president.

President Lynch said he would like to reiterate that all of the money made from the sale of the sight saving edition on the Hilltop each year is used for aid to the blind.

Approximately 50 per cent of International Nickel's copper was delivered in Canada during 1950 for consumption by brass and wire mills.

Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Posts accepted definite areas to cover. They placed a total of 560 posters in department stores, bank windows and at other places of business having window display space. They also called upon the smaller shops, doctors' and dentists' offices, utility offices, service and social clubs.

Later at Boy Scout Courts of Honor and other public Scouting functions each member who took part in the campaign is to receive a suitably inscribed "Good Citizenship" pocket reminder, the size of a half dollar, as a reminder of his personal participation in the nationwide citizenship project.

New shingles may be dipped in color or stain several days before they are laid and nailed. After they are fastened down, a second coat should be applied by brush or spray, taking care to fill all cracks and joints.

More Action Highlights From West-North Fray

End Preston Jackson (94) of North High is still looking for the ball that isn't there, in this photo. The pigskin has already eluded the efforts of Cowboy back Roger Thompson (51) to bat it down and it is also going right through Jackson's outstretched arms.

Bob Thornton (86), West High end, didn't get this aerial heave from Dick Orr in the second period of Friday night's game. It sailed beyond his grasp beyond the end zone and out of reach of Graf (37) North who was attempting to bat the ball down.

The doctor will first try to find out what kind of pollen is causing your attacks of hay fever.

Shots of pollen extract, called desensitization treatments, are sometimes used to build up resistance. Mechanical devices to filter pollen from the air of rooms where you spend most of your time may be advised. Your doctor may suggest a trip to a pollen-free area for your vacation. He may prescribe anti-histamine medicines, drops, or sprays to relieve your discomfort.

Because the emotions have a strong effect on allergic disorders, the doctor will advise you to avoid worry, fear, anger, resentment, or excitement. If you let small annoyances "get you down," you invite an attack of hay fever.

Preventing Fear

Parents should be very careful about expressing fears of snakes or insects before their children. Children should be taught, instead, that very few reptiles or bugs are dangerous. They actually help man by destroying crop pests.

Hay Fever

"Atchoo!"

"Coming down with a cold?"

"No, it's only my usual hay fever."

About two and a half million Americans, according to the health education department of the Columbus Tuberculosis Society, spend part of every year trying to get through the day's work with the handicap of hay fever. They dread the coming of fall—on of the most beautiful seasons in the American year—because fall means ragweed. And ragweed, to many hay fever sufferers, means exhausting attacks of sneezing, loss of sleep and appetite, and lowered efficiency.

If you have hay fever, it means that you are sensitive (allergic is the medical word) to the airborne pollen of certain trees, grasses, or weeds. Other commonn allergies are hives eczema, asthma, some headaches, and even some stomach and intestinal upsets. People can be allergic to almost anything which can get into the body by eating o. drinking, by inhaling, by contact, or by injection.

If you have symptoms of hay fever, it is wise to see your doctor at once. Infections of the nose, ears, and throat, and sometimes bronchial asthma may develop late in the season if the symptoms are not treated.

Allergic disorders are almost never fatal, but even mild forms are uncomfortable and inconvenient. Severe forms, such as bron-

Shirley Ann Schwind Becomes Mrs. Jesse T. Kaiser On Oct. 4

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse T. Kaiser

Miss Shirley Ann Schwind, daughter of Mr. Reuben A. Schwind of Whittier, Calif., became the bride of Mr. Jesse T. Kaiser, son of Mrs. August J. Kaiser, 79 Brehl-av, on Oct. 4, in St. Mary Magdalene Church at 11:30 a. m.

Vases of white chrysanthemums and gladioli decorated the altar against a background of huckleberry foliage.

Mr. Charles L. Guyton escorted his sister-in-law down the aisle. Her gown was of heavy satin and imported Chantilly lace in a deep shade of ivory. The fitted lace bodice was designed with a high neck and long sleeves coming to points over the hands. A brief peplum of the same lace frilled over the full satin skirt which extended into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell from an open crowned coronet of tiny seed pearls. She carried a hand cluster of cream pompons centered with a going away corsage of Amazon lilies.

The maid of honor was Miss Alice Reed. Miss Doris Johnson, Mrs. Marjorie Thatcher and Miss Judith Kaiser, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. Mr. Robert L. Kaiser of Savannah, Ga., was best man for his brother.

Ushers were Mr. Richard Dent, Mr. Ralph Hight, Mr. John Bradbury, brother of the bride, and Mr. Robert Kessler of Cincinnati.

The bride's attendants were gowns styled alike of Point D'Esprit net with formal shirred bodices, shoulder stoles and full skirts. The maid of honor's gown was peacock blue and she carried a hand cascade of coral gladiolias. The bridesmaids' gowns were of sherry red and they carried bouquets of rust daisy pompons centered with a single coral gladiolia.

Mrs. Kaiser chose for her son's wedding a dress of grey nylon crepe. Pink roses formed the shoulder corsage.

Mrs. Charles L. Guyton, sister of the bride, wore grey organza with purple accessories. Yellow roses were chosen for her corsage.

A reception was held at Mrs. Roots Party Home immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Ann Dent, Mrs. Martha Whipple, Miss Margaret Ringer and Miss Lavina Souslin were hostesses.

For their wedding trip to Niagara Falls, New York and south to Memphis, Tenn., the bride was attired in a grey suit with a red cloche hat, and wore the Amazon lily corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Henry A. Koontz Is GOP Candidate For Commissioner

Henry Koontz

Henry A. "Heinie" Koontz, Republican commissioner candidate, has been a member of Columbus City Council since 1944. He served as its president in 1950-51.

A graduate of West High School, he took a degree in pharmacy at Ohio State University and for years operated his own drug store on the Hilltop.

He is a member of the Avondale EUB Church, Masonic Lodge, Republican Clubs and Firemen's Pension Board. Koontz lives at 486 Hilltonia-av, has a son serving in the army, and one daughter.

Ex-Hilltop Man Is Double For Stevenson

A former Hilltop man created a furore in Los Angeles Thursday, Oct. 9 at the Ambassador Hotel. He was singled out of a huge throng still in the hotel a few minutes after Republican presidential candidate Dwight Eisenhower had left for his address at Pan Pacific auditorium, as the object of much speculation.

As Ray G. Burgoon, formerly of 192 Haldy-av strolled through the hotel lobby he suddenly became the center of attraction. "It's Governor Stevenson!" somebody gasped in amazement.

Word spread quickly throughout the huge crowd. "What's-he-doing-here?" and several "It can't be him" were whispered as heads turned in a mass double take.

Instead he was Adlai's double or look-alike, Ray G. Burgoon, who recently left the Hilltop to become the new sales manager for the Mergenthaler Linotype Co. in the Los Angeles area.

"I guess I do look quite a bit like the governor, "Burgoon pondered, "because ever since his photographs have been appearing in newspapers, on television and other places I've had people turn around and give me that "Where-have-I-seen-that-man-before?' stare."

Burgoon says that he still is undecided for whom he'll vote in November.

Hilliards Will Vote on Park Question

A hot issue facing the voters of Hilliards in the forthcoming election on Tuesday concerns the leasing of Weaver Park, a tract of land granted to the village of Hilliards by the late Dr. James Weaver and specified to be used as a park.

The question is on an ordinance proposed by initiative petition to authorize the leasing of Weaver Park to whatever individual, organization or corporation is granted a permit or permits for racing at Hilliards Raceway.

Advocates of the issue want to authorize the mayor of the village to grant a lease for whatever period or period including Fair Week, the Ohio Racing Commission grants a permit or permits for racing at Hilliards Raceway during any part of 1953 for use of Weaver Park, and to grant similar leases where similar race permits are now given on a season to season basis and including the 1952 racing season. The ordinance fixes the rates and manner of payment for such rentals.

Those in opposition to the issue state that the rates fixed by the ordinance are designed to be prohibitive not only to the Columbus Trotting Association but also to the Franklin County Fair. They point out that the Franklin County Agricultural Society has always used the area in question during fair week.

Another argument against the ordinance by those who oppose it is that without the use of Weaver Park, all traffic during county fair would be forced to use the Columbia-st entrance and thereby create a traffic hazard.

Marion Defeats Distance Runners

On October 17 at the Beacon Light Golf Course, the West cross country team suffered their first defeat of the season, 22 to 34, at the expense of a visiting Marion squad.

As of this meet the Cowboys had won all six of their starts. The win, however, gave to the visiting team a streak of 32 victories in succession.

Dave Bollinger of Marion was first over the two mile stretch in 10 minutes and 50 seconds, while West's Ralph Wheaton was just one second behind in 11 minutes even. John Bolg won fourth place honors for the Cowboys with a time of 11 minutes and 6 seconds.

The city of Grasse in southern France, lying in the heart of a flower-raising region and saturated with the vapors of its scent-extraction factories, is sometimes called the "Detroit of Perfume."

a Step into the future

Takes a lot of nerve, folks. Look at that distance I have to travel. Why—anything could happen. Almost wish I had wheels like my teddy bear. All he needs is a push.

Golly! Almost went down that time!

OK, Mommie. Get your arms ready. Here I come—and fast. Made it!

Congratulations, Mister. We know how proud you feel. Those may seem like tiny steps just now—but they're big ones into your future.

You aren't old enough to wonder about that future—yet. But we are. You see—we're the people from your neighborhood church where your parents plan to send you to Sunday School in a few more years.

Those were important steps for you just now. And there's an important future coming up for you. Your church is busy right now making sure that when you take those big steps into your future, it will be the future you want, and that your steps will be in the true direction of the happy, useful life God wants for us all.

That is what your church is working for now—for you . . .

3 JOHN 4

You may read of offers of low-cost furnishings and service; you may be solicited by those who have promotion schemes, but it is wisdom to ask: Can delivery be made? Will it or they be comparable to the furnishings and service I can get in my community? How much is taken away by the promoters? Get the facts!

YOUR ATTORNEY WILL TELL YOU NOW IS THE TIME TO PLAN YOUR FAMILY BURIAL ESTATE

Lawyers know the crushing load of details that face a family following a bereavement. They will tell you—
"By all means select your cemetery lot now—while every member of your family can have his say and all will be in agreement."
Why not discuss this important subject with your family and then drive out to Sunset Cemetery and make your selection. Why delay?

I NEVER GREW UP
By Cobina Wright

The title of Cobina Wright's book, "I Never Grew Up", invokes questions which can only be answered by reading the book. Cobina Wright takes you on an interesting trip throughout her life and it is done lavishly by spurts and jumps. This may be a bit confusing at first but you become used to it as you sit back and relax in your comfortable chair.

The conversational tone that is used throughout the book keeps your interest, even though continuity is lacking and keeping to the subject at hand seems to be difficult for Cobina Wright.

The first chapter concerns itself with childhood on the Oregon ranches; but the scene opens in Beverly Hills, and here you meet her grandson nicknamed O. J.

Cobina Wright brings to you many interesting glimpses into the lives of people you may be fortunate in having met. Most certainly you have met them through the newspapers and journals of today and the immediate past.

She gives you an intimate glance into the life of Gen. John Pershing, one of her close friends. In this glance she tells you more about the man than the general. How many of you who will read the book will wish that he had married the woman he met in France and loved for the remainder of his days.

When Cobina Wright acquires a husband and three children, you may remember the title and ask: "Surely she will grow up now?"

Her acceptance of them is evident when she says "Little Bobby was my shadow, and I was the 'muddy' he ran to when he fell—" and "Our Oliva grew lovelier and more stately every day." "But it was Katrina, my little imp, who needed me most."

When this marriage ends, the sense of belonging goes, and only friendship remains. A marriage ends, but a career is resumed. This career is rewarding in riches and satisfaction.

You will enjoy the time you spent with her when she entertains the troops overseas during World War I. You will smile when she spreads the contents from her bag on the table.

Cobina Wright remakes her life over again when she marries William Wright. O.J. says: "Girls can't be Juniors," but Cobina Wright Jr. arrives in Chapter 12 You meet her again in Chapter 23 and find she has become a most interesting junior.

A royal romance is a pleasant surprise and it is told with such vividness that the story lives again.

The friendship that results enables you to have an eye witness account of the dramatic events related to the royal wedding.

You will enjoy sharing the telling of all the interesting things that happened to Cobina Wright. Although she becomes a grandmother for the third time she still remains young and—— Did she really never grow up?

THE VILLAGE
By Marghanita Laski

Nothing could have shocked the community more than the discovery that Miss Margaret, a member of the "accepted" social class, had fallen in love with Roy Wilson, a common printer. England's post-war social standards were just as strict as ever and especially so in this small village, Priory Dean.

Although everyone had worked together throughout the long years of the war they still remembered the difference between a professional and a laboring family. Margaret's Roy earned more than twice as much as her own father and had served in the army, but he wasn't in the right class and could not be received as an equal.

This is the basic story but it is interwoven with the story of the village. Each inhabitant becomes a real and familiar person as he plays his part in the drama of England's change from Conservative to Socialist.

Marghanita Laski is also the author of "Little Boy Lost" but "The Village" is a far more polished and entertaining novel.

One Teen-Ager Knows Score!

A lot more of our teen-agers know the score these days than some people think! Witness a message written by a Charleston, W. Va., high school girl, for a Voice of America broadcast to Russia:

"There is an empty chair in my classroom.

"Could you occupy it for a day . . . you could hear the voice of democracy speaking. It would not force you to listen. It would come as a whisper from within.

"It would say, 'I am freedom from fear.. The laws are written for all to read. No new ones are made without your consent. I am freedom of speech. Think for yourself and express your own opinion, freely. I am freedom of the press and freedom of religion, the opportunity to get ahead. I am the right to choose one's own way of life. I am hope.'"

Briefly Told: That loud report in the community Monday evening was caused when Don Rice's suspenders snapped upon being told he was the father of an eight pound boy . . . Mama and son Gregory are both doing well . . . Members of the Hilltop Ballot Battalion distributed several thousand tags to voters as they left the polls Tuesday: "I Voted —Did You?" . . . Hilltop Kiwanians are busy getting their annual Christmas Edition ready.

Around The Corner

Around the corner I have a friend,
In this great city that has no end:
Yet days go by and weeks rush on,
And before I know it a year is gone,
And I never see my old friend's face,
For Life is a swift and terrible race.
He knows I like him just as well
As in the days when I rang his bell
And he rang mine. We were younger then,
And now we are busy, tired men:
Tired with playing a foolish game;
Tired with trying to make a name.
"Tomorrow," I say, "I will call on Jim,
Just to show that I'm thinking of him."
But tomorrow comes — and tomorrow goes,
And the distance between us grows and grows,
Around the corner!—yet miles away—
"Here's a telegram, sir—"
"Jim died today."
And that's what we get, and deserve in the end:
Around the corner, a vanished friend.

Illness Didn't Keep This Man From Voting

Carl Zimpfer, 222 Midland-av, is a determined man. Despite his illness and the fact that workers could not get to his bedside with an absentee ballot in time, Zimpfer said, "I'm going to vote," and could not get to his bedside with an absentee ballot in time, Zimpfer said, "I'm going to vote," and he did. The ill, but determined Zimpfer is pictured above as he entered his precinct voting booth with the assistance of Arthur J. Bellar and Earl Brownlee who worked from 6:30 a. m. until closing hours Tuesday to transport and aid the sick and disabled to reach the polls so that they could cast their ballot. Bellar, Brownlee and George Sinclair who all worked as a team election day voiced high praise of Zimpfer and others who despite sickness and physical handicaps insisted on the right of exercising their franchise to vote.

Turkey Hunt Scheduled For Hilltop Area Nov. 22

Some Hilltop boy or girl this Thanksgiving is going to be eating either a turkey or a chicken, which they themselves have captured in a big turkey hunt, right here in the Hilltop area. Sounds fantastic doesn't it . . . But it's all true. The Hilltop is going to witness one of the biggest turkey hunts since the day of the early settlers when the gay plumed bird once ran wild.

It all came about this week when "Doc" Reister of the Glenwood Recreation Center sat down at his desk, put on a "thinking cap" and worked out an idea that would be timely and in keeping with the approaching holiday season. He came up with the idea for boys and girls to catch their own Thanksgiving Day dinner. He sounded out some of our Hilltop merchants on the idea of participation and found them enthusiastic and cooperative toward the idea. So on Saturday, Nov. 22, at Glenwood Recreation Center, the big hunt will be on.

At this time it is known that a live turkey and at least two live chickens will be hidden in the area. Also hidden will be some article which, when found, will be good for all the trimmings that go with a Thanksgiving dinner. The turkey and the two chickens for the big hunt are being donated by Southworth's Poultry House, 1510 Sullivant-av, and the grocery prizes to complete a real turkey dinner are being donated by Fox Food Shop, corner of W. Broad-st and Eureka-av.

The turkey hunt will be open only to boys and girls who are 12 years of age or under, and in order to be eligible they must fill out one of the registration coupons which appears elsewhere in today's Hilltop Record and present it at Glenwood Recreation Center before 9:30 the morning of Saturday, Nov. 22.

Officials at Glenwood Recreation Center said this week that they had hopes that other merchants in the area might want to donate some prize for the mammoth turkey hunt and that if they wished they could do so by calling RA. 7416.

Next week's Hilltop Record will carry more details of the Hilltop's first turkey hunt since the days of the pioneers.

One of the main issues to be discussed will be plans for the construction of a new and modern press box in the stadium.
